he new Cherokee Children's Home officially opened its doors on Friday, Aug. 14 at a ribbon cutting ceremony at the new location on Goose Creek Road in the Birdtown community of Cherokee.

Former Boys Club General Manager Ray Kinsland, stated, "I'd like to thank everyone who's helped the Children's Home in any way. We've been going (over) 40 years and served close to two-thousand children. We want to thank everybody that has helped, lived, and worked in it."

Vice Chief Larry Blythe said,

CHEROKEE YOUTH SPOKE, We Listened.

AND NOW WE NEED YOUR HELP.

MINORS TRUST FUND

Cherokee Youth asked us to consider moving from lump sum distribution to staggered distribution.

WHAT DOES THAT HAVE TO DO WITH ME?

The decision on how payments will be made must be made by the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians members. That is where you come in. We are conducting door-to-door surveys and holding focus groups to get your opinion. If you live off the Boundary, you may be randomly selected and contacted to participate in an online survey. If you are asked to participate in any of these, please do.

We are presenting at community club meetings to discuss the issue, and encourage you to come and tell us what you think.

WHO WILL MAKE THE DECISION AND WHEN?

Our goal is to deliver research results to Tribal Council in 2015. Tribal Council will then be able to consider the results and determine if a change is warranted. If so, legislation would then need to be drafted to direct changes in Trust documents.

This project is just to gather information to inform Council to enable them to decide whether a change needs to be made. Any changes will take a considerable amount of time.

OUESTIONS?

"We've got Gunnie (Bradley) here today. She put a resolution in after visiting the old home and said, 'we need a new one. She is the push to push the Tribal government, and certainly a lot of other staff, to make this a reality and here we are today."

Gunnie Bradley commented, "I'm just so proud and happy that this day has finally come by. I was so afraid that it wasn't going to happen. Thanks to everybody in Tribal Council and the Children's Home staff, thank you so much for helping. We couldn't have done it without you."

The new Children's Home is equipped with state-of-the-art energy efficient appliances and infrastructure which has immediately impacted the energy bill. The home includes two identical housing cottages with a lounge area in the basement of the main cottage. The new home will offer the ability to house nine kids in each cottage for a total of eighteen kids. Each child will have their own bed and bedroom rather than having roommates like they do at the current home. The campus sits on 28 acres with the opportunity for more outdoor activities and possible growth in the future.

The new home also allows for greater flexibility in serving the children who utilize the facility.

Cris Weatherford, Cherokee Children's Home director, related, "In the current home, we might have two empty beds but based on what's already in the house, sometimes we can't take kids even though we have an empty bed. The way this new building is designed and laid out really minimizes that, so if we have any empty bed, we will more than likely be able to use it."

The Cherokee Children's Home was established in 1969 and has been the permanent or temporary home for close to 2,000 Cherokee youth over the years.

lmost two years from the groundbreaking and a total of 16 years since the project was first discussed. the new Painttown Community Building officially opened with a ribbon cutting ceremony on Friday, Aug. 14. The 12,000 square foot community center has been built on a 2.1 acre lot and includes a full-size gym with hardwood floors, a kitchen, a community room, a workout room and office spaces.

"None of the projects that we do can be done by one individual," said Principal Chief Michell Hicks. "It takes a team of individuals. It takes a good staff."

Chief Hicks thanked various people who have worked on the project over the years including several seatings of Tribal Council as well as staff from the Commerce Division and the EBCI Recreation Department. "I am proud to represent the Eastern Band of the Cherokee, but I am equally proud to be from the Painttown Community. I think we have a great community."

Vice Chief Larry Blythe commented, "It's an absolutely wonderful day to be here with you...I want to read a quick word of scripture that I think helps capture the moment. In Hebrews 3:4, it says, 'every house is built by someone, but the builder of all things is God."

Tribal Council Chairwoman Terri Henry, who represents the Painttown Community, said, "We are grateful to the staff who picked up the initiative for this building and brought it to fruition...we know this community came together many years ago to build the community building that we have all called home. Today, marks a new day in the Painttown Community's history as we open this new facility, and I've been happy to support it."

Chairwoman Henry related that the management of the facility will be under the tutelage of the EBCI Recreation Department with a preference given to the Painttown Community for their activities. "We look forward to the collaboration between the Painttown Community and the Rec. Department."

Painttown Rep. Tommye Saunooke gave a brief history of the previous Painttown Community Building. She related the land on which the block building was built belonged to the late Noah Arch who donated use of it to the Painttown Community as long as they needed it for their building site. Rep. Saunooke said the land use will now revert back to the Noah Arch heirs.

"It's taken 16 years of patience and persistence to get here," said Rep. Saunooke who submitted legislation to construct the building during her first term in Tribal Council in 2002. She related that the legislation passed, but a lack of usable land caused the building to be postponed.

Rep. Saunooke said legislation was introduced and passed several more times, and finally, in 2010 a parcel of land adjacent to the laundry mat used by Harrah's Cherokee Casino Resort was identified and sold to the Tribe.

"I applaud you as we celebrate the opening of our new community building," said Rep. Saunooke. "Margaret Mead once quoted, 'never doubt that a small group of thoughtful, committed citizens can change the world."

Phyllis Ashefelter, a Painttown Community member, offered the Dedication Prayer and Lois Dunston, Painttown Community Club secretary/treasurer, read a list of names of living and deceased tribal leaders from the Painttown Community.

Also, during the program, Jacob Sneed sang "America the Beautiful" in the Cherokee language. Friday's event was presided over by Lula Jackson, Painttown Community Club chairwoman.

Haywood County man sentenced for casino embezzlement

Haywood County man will serve 27 months in federal prison and will have to pay back $475,000 in restitution to Harrah's Cherokee Casino Resort for embezzling from the property from Oct. 2013 to April 2014. Keith Alan Franklin, 27, of Waynesville, was sentenced on Tuesday, Aug. 11 in U.S. District Court in Asheville by District Judge Martin Reidinger.

In addition to the above, Franklin must also serve three years of supervised release.

According to the Bill of Indictment issued on June 3, 2014, he was charged with 18 US Code 1168(b) Theft by officers or employees of gaming establishments on Indian lands. It states that Franklin, "did embezzle, purloin, willfully misapply, and take and carry away with intent to steal, money belonging to such establishment..."

Information released by the Department of Justice states, "Franklin routinely stole money while working at Harrah's by exploiting a flaw in the casino's security system. Court records indicate that Franklin stole more than $400,000 from the casino in this manner and used the money to buy numerous cars and to support his personal lifestyle. Franklin was fired in April 2014 after Harrah's discovered the theft and pleaded guilty in October 2014 to one count of theft by an employee of gaming establishments on Indian lands."

According to the Writ of Execution in the case, Franklin had "substantial nonexempt interest" including: 29 various vehicles including numerous cars, trucks and SUVs, several motorcycles and ATVs, a boat and trailer and a Sea Doo and trailer; a New Holland Front Loader; a kit car; cash in the amount of $62,585.27; and a diamond engagement ring worth approximately $38,575.

The Writ, signed by U.S. Magistrate Judge Dennis L. Howell, directed the U.S. Marshall Service to file a Notice of Levy with the net proceeds from the sale of Franklin's items and the U.S. District Clerk of Court was directed to transfer the funds into the Restitution Fund once the judgment was officially offered.

According to the DOJ release, "Franklin is currently in federal custody and will be transferred to the Federal Bureau of Prisons upon designation of a federal facility. All federal sentences are served without the possibility of parole. The U.S. Secret Service handled the investigation assisted by the Cherokee Police Department. Assistant U.S. Attorney Don Gast prosecuted the case."

Harrah's Cherokee officials declined to comment on the case.

ALABAMA

MOBILE COUNTY – The MOWA Band of Choctaws were back in court on Friday, Aug. 14 in a case involving 50 gambling machines seized in November 2013 from the Tribe's Choctaw Entertainment Center. State officials seized the machines stating it was an illegal gaming operation due to the fact that the MOWA Choctaws are not a federally recognized American Indian tribe. Sam Hill, attorney for the state-recognized MOWAs, told AL.com, "State law is clear; they're an Indian tribe. In fact, I think our argument under state law is better than the one under federal law because they had been recognized by the state for so long." The state is seeking permission to demolish the gaming machines.

"Sliver of a Full Moon" to be presented in Cherokee he Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians will present a reading on Tuesday, Aug. 25 of "Sliver of a Full Moon", the powerful play by Cherokee Nation citizen and playwright Mary Kathryn Nagle. "Sliver of a Full Moon" has been presented at theaters in New York, New Mexico, Oklahoma, and Connecticut as well as at the United Nations and the United States Capitol.

"Sliver of a Full Moon" is being staged at the Chief Joyce Dugan Cultural Arts Center for the first time ever to pay tribute to the incredible progress inherent in the partial restoration of Native nations' jurisdiction to prosecute those who commit crimes against Native women on tribal lands in the 2013 re-authorization of the Violence Against Women Act ("VAWA"). The performance will demonstrate how effective organizing at the grassroots and national levels addressing how the legal framework, where Native nations have been stripped of their inherent jurisdiction, leaves Native women unprotected and disenfranchised. As a result of these legal inequalities, Native women suffer rates of domestic violence and sexual assault higher than any other class of American citizens. In a unique event that combines law and art, this event will bring together tribal leadership and our community so that we can appreciate how the law was reformed to remedy to this injustice for Indian Country and ourselves.

"We are honored to host this incredible play at the Joyce Dugan Cultural Arts Center and welcome our Cherokee leaders and relatives," said Tribal Council Chairwoman Terri Henry.

"Sliver of a Full Moon" is the story of a movement to restore safety and access to justice to American Indian and Alaska Native women in the United States. On March 7, 2013, President Obama signed VAWA into law.

The majority of the perpetrators of violence against Native women are non-Native. Yet, for almost four decades, federal law has stripped Indian nations of their inherent authority to protect their own women, children, and communities from such violence.

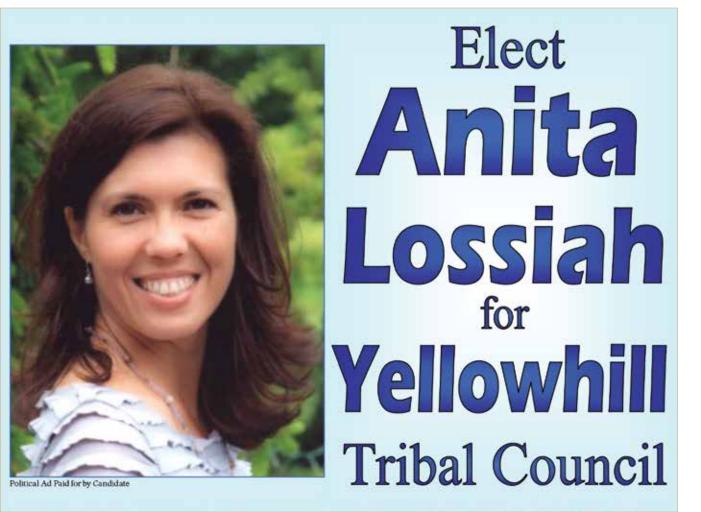

The cast of "Sliver of a Full Moon" features three courageous Native women who stepped forward to publicly share their stories of abuse by non-Indians.

This performance of Sliver of a Full Moon is an event of the 2015 Tri-Council hosted by the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians. This is event is also sponsored by the E.B.C.I. Domestic Violence Program and Ernestine Walkingstick Shelter.

Man dies in motorcycle accident on Soco Mtn.

A Marshville man died following a motorcycle accident on Soco Mountain near the Rough Branch Road intersection on Wednesday, Aug. 12. The initial report came into the EBCI Public Safety Communication Center at 7:07pm.

According to the investigating officer, this was a one-vehicle accident involving a 2012 Harley Davidson FLHX motorcycle. The driver, identified as Roderick Buron McKenzie, 45, was alone and had died at the scene.

The motorcycle was traveling US19 in the southbound lane when he lost control and struck the side of the roadway. It was determined that speed was a factor in causing this accident, going too fast for the curvy, mountainous roadway.

Cherokee Indian Police Department will be investigating the toxicology evidence for further investigation of cause for the accident.

Can it be? Is it really back?

SCOTT MCKIE B.P.

ONE FEATHER STAFF

an it be? Is it really true? I think it's truly happening. Football season is upon us! Wow, what a long off-season.

The last football game I watched this past season was the NFC Championship where my beloved Packers found about 200 new and interesting ways to hand the Super Bowl bid to the Seahawks. Even as much of a football fan as I am, I just couldn't watch the Super Bowl...I just couldn't.

So, the night of Friday, Aug. 14 was awesome...the Braves hosted Andrews and Robbinsville in a three-team scrimmage game. The air was crisp. The lights were on. The stands were kind of full – very, very full for a scrimmage game - which leads me to believe that I'm not the only one that is really glad that football is back.

I think, as true fans, we love the beginning of seasons because there is that sense of hope, that sense of 'this is our year'. All teams are undefeated in the beginning and all have a shot at the championship. Granted, once teams like the Browns or the Bills take the field for pre-game warm-ups on opening day, it is all but over, but they still have that initial hope.

So, going back to the scrimmage game for a second...what did we learn about this year's Braves team? Well, we didn't learn a lot that we didn't already know. Tye Mintz has a rocket for an arm, and he's only a sophomore. Isaiah Evans is usually the fastest man on the field and just needs a small amount of space to make something happen. Jason McMillan has good hands and makes himself a presence down field as a receiver.

Logan Teesateskie plays hard no matter what side of the ball he's on, and pre-season All-State pick Kennan Panther is a beast at linebacker.

What are some things we hope to learn in the next few weeks about the Braves? How many times a game will Evans get loose on runs of more than 20 yards? How many times will McMillan find that seam in the defense for that long pass reception? How many tackles per game will Teesateskie and Panther combine for?

As fans, we are filled with hopes and dreams as the season starts. I am pretty sure Aaron Rodgers will lead my Packers back to the Super Bowl this year, and I'll actually watch the big game this time. I am pretty sure the Braves will be playing later into November this year, and I fully plan to be on the sidelines as they vie for a state championship.

I could be wrong about all of this, but like all true fans, I am hopeful.

Cherokee Nation crowns Little Cherokee Ambassadors

AHLEQUAH, Okla. - Vinita Elementary School student Casey Henderson was crowned Saturday, Aug. 8 as the 2015-16 Little Cherokee Ambassador in the 10-12 age category. Nearly 20 Cherokee children competed in three age divisions at Sequoyah Schools' gym. The competition marked the beginning of this year's Cherokee National Holiday events on Sept. 4-6.

Henderson, 11, of Welch, Okla. told a traditional story, correctly named a former principal chief, answered that the black star on the Cherokee Nation flag represents the Cherokee ancestors who died on the Trail of Tears and that the pillars at the Cherokee Heritage Center represent the first Cherokee Female Seminary that burned on Easter Sunday in 1887.

"At first I was really nervous about the competition, because I thought

I wasn't going to win, but when they announced my name I was like wow, that felt really special," Henderson said.

Joining Henderson in the male division of Little Cherokee Ambassador is Tahlequah Middle School student Nathan Lowrey, 11, of Tahlequah, Okla. Hulbert Elementary student Max Purget, 8, and Brushy Elementary student Maysi Fields, 8, of Sallisaw, Okla. won in the 7-9 age division.

Winning in the 4-6 age division was Kashyah Teehee, 5, and Logan Dreadfulwater, 5, both who attend the Cherokee Immersion Charter School.

The Junior Miss Cherokee competition is slated for 6:30 p.m. on Saturday, Aug. 22 at the Tahlequah Armory Municipal Center and the Miss Cherokee Leadership Competition will be held at 6 p.m. on Saturday, Aug. 29 at Cornerstone Church in

TRUST BACK TO OUR TRIBAL GOVERNMENT CARE OF OUR ELDERS AND YOUTH AND NOT THE RIGHT VOICE FOR THE ENROLLED MEMBERS

Cherokee Tribal Child Care report

Things are back in full swing at Cherokee Tribal Child Care. The program began its new school year on Monday, Aug. 10. The staff were eager to see how much the returning students had grown over the two week training period, as well as meet the new children who have just enrolled into our program. CTCCS is glad to welcome all of the students and are looking forward to a new year together.

On Tuesday, Aug. 11, CTCCS held the first Parent Meeting. At this time officers were elected from parents within the program to make up the Policy Council and Parent Group boards. Thank you to all our parents who took positions or came out simply to offer their support. CTCCS looks forward to working with all of you this year as we strive to provide the best care possible for your children.

Update on Cemetery in Wolfetown Community

MARY WACHACHA

CEMETERY COMMITTEE

he Blythe-Burgess Cemetery, Homestead of Chief Jarrett Blythe and Mary Burgess Blythe in the Wolfetown Community, is immediately available for burial of your loved ones. The graveyard is available for burials to everyone including non-Tribal members and regardless of your religion or your community. The graveyard is open to all.

In order to maintain the graveyard, a $25 fee is charged for tribal members and a $50 fee for non-tribal members. The Cemetery Committee is working to develop plans and ideas on how to improve the site for future burials. Future plans are to enhance the cemetery landscape, add a road in the graveyard and erect a sign.

New graves are to be facing east and adjacent (i.e., side by side) to existing graves so that the area can be fully utilized so that there are no scattered graves. A space for the spouse can be reserved next to the deceased. All Free Labor groups and grave diggers are asked to put down a tarp next to the grave site on which to put the grass sod and dirt. Once the coffin is covered, the remaining dirt on the tarp must be removed from the cemetery and the sod replaced on the grave. The family is responsible for the upkeep of the area immediately around the grave site by removing old decorations, dead flowers, etc. Please do not plant any shrubbery, flowers, rose bushes, etc. on the grave site. It is encouraged that a headstone be placed on the grave.

Local funeral homes are aware of the Blythe-Burgess Cemetery and will contact one of the Committee members to inform the Committee of the burial.

"Our role is not to approve burials," said Mary Wachacha, Cemetery Committee. "Our role is to maintain a record of who is buried at the cemetery and to ensure the upkeep of the cemetery."

Info: Cemetery Committee members: Cathy Smith Burns 497-5672, Mary Wachacha 788-1196, Wolfetown Rep. Bo Crowe 788-2665, Wolfetown Rep. Bill Taylor 788-3880, Jimbo Sneed 497-9508, and Polly Castorena 554-6530.

Let us help you increase your business this year.

Call Amble 359-6264 to advertise in the One Feather.

Re-Elect Terri Henry Paint Town Tribal Council Representative

Since being first elected to Tribal Council in 2009, I have been honored to serve the Paint Town Community as your Tribal Council representative and, in this term, proud to serve Paint Town and the Triba as the first Chairwoman of the Tribal Council. This term of office has been particularly challenging.

The difference between being a Council member and the Tribal Council Chair is significant. The first order of business was to establish an office for accessibility of the Office, and additionally, to support the day-to-day business of the Tribal Council, of which the feedback by tribal employees has been positive. I have strived to be professional and maintain an appropriate decorum as facilitator of the Council sessions in Chambers. All of these moments were learning experiences that have left an indelible impression on me: I have seen compassionate strength in the faces of our People and I have witnessed their fierce heart. I have also heard their wishes and dreams for a brighter future.

Being a member of the Tribal Council and being Chairwoman, has given me a unique perspective about how the Tribal government functions and the issues being worked on. This terms accomplishments include investment in a new Justice Center, a new Waste Water Treatment Program, a new Hospital, and established Tribal Social Services. These new or re-tooled programs speak to our resolve to address the needs of our People, in addition to pushing for a rehabilitation center.

Taking the 30,000 ft. view of the Tribe's forward movement, I look forward to:

- The implementation of the Violence Against Women Act of 2013 that restored the authority of Tribes to protect Indian women from non-Indian perpetrators of domestic violence;
- The implementation of Tribal Social Services, replacing the current provision of Social Services by the State of North Carolina;
- · A reconfiguration of the Tribes Information Technology investment in the near future;
- The Tribe's development of a comprehensive economic strategy that encompasses the full compliment of business and economic development including the development of a tribal tax policy with exemptions for tribal members and a farm and agriculture policy;
- The development of a Constitution for our government.

The business of our Tribal Council is to develop the laws for the Tribe. The intent of Tribal law is to heal, not pit one against the other, as western laws would impose. Tribal Council's task is to update the Tribal law in relation to the needs of the People. In our mind, our heart and our spirit one fire must burn continuing our mission of nation building as we perfect our tribal sovereignty.

As the Tribe moves forward, we must always remind ourselves of the actions that forced our Cherokee People apart. With the coming together of the three federally recognized Cherokee governments at Red Clay, the last Cherokee National capitol where the Council met before the Cherokee Removal, we prove that we are a testament to our collective strength of resolve to live and thrive as a People. This year, we host the 2015 Tri-Council of the Cherokee Nations both in Cherokee and at the Red Clay Grounds in Tennessee.

I am deeply appreciative of the patience the Paint Town Community has shown me in this term. I am committed to working in the interest of the greater good of our People.

I am eternally grateful to my family, the Paint Town community and the other communities for their belief and faith in me. I humbly ask for your support. On September 3rd, 2015, VOTE Terri Henry for Paint Town Tribal Council. Political Ad Paid for By Candidate.

Jones-Bowman Building Community One Leader at a Time

The most effective leaders are influential because of the relationships they form. During their annual retreat held in early August at the YMCA Blue Ridge Assembly, the Jones-Bowman Leadership Award Program provided 12 new Fellows the opportunity to not only develop leadership skills, but most importantly provided time to connect as a group. Together they were able to share in leadership activities and build new relationships with stronger connections.

During the retreat, the Fellows had the opportunity to complete their individual leadership development plans and identify their group community service project plans that outline their responsibilities, goals and commitment to the program.

This is the first year returning Fellows were assigned incoming fellows to mentor. Mentoring provides students with skills needed to support each other and build trust within the group. It also has a positive effect in building strong relationships.

Seven out of the twelve students are entering their freshmen year of college and as they continue to grow as leaders within the program, data will be collected on the success of the peer-to-peer mentoring. This year's retreat had two senior mentors, Joey Owle, who works with Cherokee Choices and Kelsey Owle, who works at Cherokee Central Schools as the Middle School Counselor, and four groups of peer mentors within the team of Fellows. Steering committee member Kevin Jackson also attended to conduct the cultural presentation.

"I am pleased with the progress made over the past several years," said Alicia Jacobs, director of the Jones-Bowman Leadership Award Program. "The caliber of students entering the program and their level of commitment to community outreach is exciting to see. This program provides the students with a connection to their homeland while away at school and the support needed to cultivate strong leadership skills."

For more information about the Jones-Bowman Leadership Award Program, contact Alicia Jacobs at (828)497-5550 or visit CHEROKEEPRESERVATION.ORG

Program Fellows include:

To be considered for the December 2015 per capita distribution, a complete enrollment application for a new applicant must be submitted to the EBCI Enrollment Office by Tuesday, Sept. 15 at 4:30pm. Enrollment applications received after this date will not be considered for the December distribution.

An application will only be considered complete with a county-certified birth certificate and certified DNA results sent directly from the lab to the Enrollment Office. Reader unhappy with "creepy crawlers"

Dear Editor:

nce again, the general public has been made aware that a personnel file containing compelled, personal information pertaining to a candidate for Principal Chief, was stolen from Tribal records and distributed to the public in an internet social medium form.

There is no doubt, in my opinion, that the person or persons responsible for this act feel smug and satisfied with the results of their act. They have no empathy for the people they seek to harm.

This is the third time that Tribal files have been breached in the last few years. There is nothing sacred, so far as this group is concerned. They seem to thrive on the belief that "the ends justify the means". No matter who suffers because of their actions. I liken their actions to those of Pit Vipers. You know, those slimy, creepy crawlers that slither on their belly in order to sneak upon their victims and spew their poisonous venom.

When Gene "Tunney" Crowe stood before his fellow Tribal members and acknowledged his mistakes, he grew in stature to a size that considerably dwarfs the size of any opponent he may have. I believe that the time has come for his fellow Council Members to take a stand and ask for a full investigation into the misuses of Tribal records. No Tribal member is safe, as long as these creepy crawlers are allowed to continue spewing their poison.

Poll Facebook Responses

Note: The following comments were made on the One Feather Facebook page to our weekly poll question: Do you feel vote-buying occurs in EBCI tribal elections?

Sheree D. Peters: I can say no one has ever attempted to buy my vote.

Yona Sequoyah: It's a dog-eat-dog Tribe. Of course, you'll do what you have to get in those high positions. So, yes.

Ashley Elizabeth Wolfe: It happens

Question of the week now up on theonefeather.com:

What issue would you like to see the new EB

What issue would you like to see the new EBCI administration tackle in its first 90 days?

Nicholas Reed: I wouldn't know. No one has ever asked for my vote to begin with.

Christopher McCoy:

Does making phone calls to get a service to a constituent count? I think there are very few leaders who haven't used the system to gain support through that alone. Without an ethics code and constitution outlining that, then it will continue. People need to go through proper channels to get service, not tell a leader to do it to keep support. Get in like everyone else.

Lisa Taylor: Yes! Definitely happens

Matthew Martens: I

consider the party event with free food and entertainment "buying" votes only because we have people casting votes based on who had these free events or who had the most.

Rose Long: I prefer to be bought...with integrity! (I like candy bars too...jus' sayin'...) Buying a vote is a whole lot more appealing than all the mud-slinging. It's very off-putting. There's definitely a lack of sophistication and intelligence with mud-slinging.

Wayne Wolfe: Yes!

Fawn Young: Of course. It's apparent in all politics, tribal or not.

Alana B. Davis: Yup

Donnie Smith: Yes, it happens. I've seen it firsthand. It's nothing new.

PAINTTOWN Write-In Candidate LULA JACKSON

My name is Larry Blythe and I am seeking re-election as Vice Chief of the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians.

Over the past 12 years, it has been my greatest honor serving as your Vice Chief. I remain humbled and grateful for the confidence you have shown me throughout the years.

As your Vice Chief, our community has experienced unprecedented growth with the creation of over 1000 housing units on tribal trust land, the creation of our own social services program, the expansion of class III gaming - resulting in millions of dollars for our people and community infrastructure, a new state of the art justice center, and a soon to be finished new Cherokee Indian Hospital.

I am seeking re-election as your Vice Chief based on:

Experience: I have 26 years of combined elected service for our people having served 14 years on Tribal Council and 12 years as Vice Chief.

Commitment: I am committed to helping our Tribal Government find ways to strengthen our sovereignty, diversify our economy, provide expanded services for our youth and seniors, increase job and wage opportunities for our families, continue to revitalize downtown, and expand housing.

Leadership: I have 26 years of leadership experience. My leadership style is that of a servant leader; I believe in sharing knowledge, putting the needs of others first and helping people perform at their highest capability. My greatest strength is helping find common ground on issues and bringing elected officials and community members together to reach consensus on public policy and tribal concerns.

My Top Priorities:

- → Build Tsali Care a new facility expanding the Memory Unit, create an Adult Day Care, and Co-locate a new Dialysis Center.
 - ✓ Fully Implement the Mental Health and Substance Abuse

 Continuum of Care

✓ Expand Child Care Facilities
