Cherokee man dies after tree falls on vehicle

The EBCI Public Safety Communication Center (PSCC) received a report of a tree falling on a car on Old No. 4 Rd., near the Keener Rd. intersection, at around 9:30pm on Sunday, July 27.

The initial emergency responders reported it was a one-vehicle accident with one person in the car. William Woodrow Cornwell, 53, was the operator of the vehicle struck by a tree. He was trapped in the car and had to be extricated. He later died from his injuries.

This accident occurred during a heavy thunderstorm in the eastern side of Swain County, which is part of the Cherokee Indian Reservation.

The North Carolina Cooperative Extension Service turns 100 this year. The EBCI Cooperative Extension Office celebrated the centennial with an event on Thursday, July 31.

"I am a gardener, and I love seeing everyone, especially the kids, getting involved with things outdoors," said Principal Chief Michell Hicks who signed a proclamation at the event honoring the 100 years of the organization and its contributions to the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians over the years.

He spoke about the recent partnership between the Tribe and the state whereby 36 white-tailed deer were relocated to the reservation from an over-populated area. "I would love to get the children involved in this type of a program...I would love to see us continue to grow programs to keep these kids out in the woods learning about nature instead of necessarily inside a classroom."

Chief Hicks said he greatly appreciates the partnerships between the Tribe and Cooperative Extension. "We've always had a great relationship with the State of North Carolina Cooperative Extension, and as we look at the future it looks bright and I think there's a ton of opportunities that we have in front of us. We just need to make sure that we put the right resources in the right places to make them grow."

She said that most Extension offices work within a certain county, but the EBCI Extension Office serves those who live on lands of the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians including communities in Cherokee, Snowbird, Cherokee County and others.

"We're here to serve the community," said Owle. "We get to see what the community needs are, and this gives us an opportunity to see what our community is looking for and how we can better serve the public."

A statewide Centennial celebration was held on May 19 at the Expo Center of the N.C. State Fairgrounds. County Extension offices have been holding and are planning their own celebrations throughout the summer.

Cherokee holds Big Latch On Event

Thousands of women worldwide participated in the Global Big Latch On breastfeeding event on Friday, Aug. 1 and seven women in Cherokee joined them. Cherokee's event was organized by the EBCI WIC Program and was held at the Oconaluftee River Stage.

"Breastfeeding is a natural thing for mothers," said Deborah Lowery, BFPC coordinator with EBCI WIC Program. "It's what we were all made to do. It is best for moms and babies with the bonding and the immunological properties. We make antibodies for our babies. This is one of the most wonderful things a mother can do for their child."

Friday's participants in Cherokee included: Stephanie Long, Grace Bird, Katie Tiger, Ashley Ledford, Carla Wahnetah, Jaidan Wolfe, and Nichole Sellers who was visiting the area from Spartanburg, SC.

Lowery said that each year the Global Latch On event, which began in 2005 in New Zealand, gets larger and larger with new events being added. Globally, last year's events featured 14,536 moms and their children at 845 locations in 28 countries.

"This is not just in Chero-

Grace Bird related her reasons for breastfeeding her daughter, Kylexandra Pheasant, "It's what is best for the baby, and it's free."

Global Big Latch On coordinator Joanne Edwards, an International Board Certified Lactation Consultant (IBCLC), stated her hopes for the events in a statement, "I want us to create a world where every family is supported and nurtured by their community and where breastfeeding is an ordinary part of life. AMBLE SMOKER ONE FEATHER STAFF

Will Harris, an EBCI tribal member from Cherokee, was recently cast in an upcoming episode of the TV series "Sleepy Hollow" to play Frank, a Shaman Biker in the Shawnee Biker Club.

"It was a great experience," said Harris recalling his time on the set. "All I had to do was sit there and act like I was sleep. I also met other (actors) from Cherokee, Cory Pheasant and Stephan Swimmer. I didn't know they were going to be there."

With the assistance from family members, Harris answered the casting call looking for Native American bikers.

"...we sent them a headshot and a picture of my (motorcycle) bike," he related. "I was able to spend a few days in Wilmington (filming), and they really took care of me, putting me in a nice hotel."

The "Sleepy Hollow" TV series is a modern-day twist on Washington Irving's short story, "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow", featuring Ichabod Crane and The Headless Horseman. The second season is set to premiere Sept. 22 on FOX where Harris will make an appearance, alongside Native American actor Eddie Spears (Black Cloud, Bury My Heart at Wounded Knee), in an episode showcasing Native American motorcycle riders.

DRYER...

Choose a drying cycle that uses the moisture sensor rather than the timer to save energy and extend clothing life. Moisture sensors monitor laundry dryness and stop the drying when moisture is gone. This saves time and energy costs, and also prevents over drying that may cause clothes to shrink. If you do not have a dryer with this capability dry your clothes on 25min intervals so you can manually check for dryness.

WCU captures title of 'top adventure college' in regional magazine poll

CULLOWHEE – Results from an online poll have been tallied, and Western Carolina University has been announced as the No. 1 college for outdoor adventure in the Southeast and Mid-Atlantic by a leading outdoors magazine.

Western Carolina captured the title of “top adventure college” over the second-place school, Garrett College in Maryland, following several rounds of voting in which WCU also came out on top against Emory University, the University of Tennessee-Knoxville, Virginia Tech and Appalachian State. Representatives of Blue Ridge Outdoors magazine said that more than 115,000 visitors to its website cast votes during the competition held earlier this summer, and results are listed in the publication’s new August issue.

In her story about the poll results, magazine staff member Jess Daddio wrote that “WCU’s stunning campus is home to some serious adventure. Both the Parks and Recreation Management (PRM) department and the Base Camp Cullowhee outing program offer students a chance to get the quintessential experiential education experi-

Base Camp Cullowhee has long offered dozens of outdoor recreation trips for students and equipment rental, but in recent years the staff has increased its experiential education services to integrate outdoor activities with students’ classroom curriculum, said Josh Whitmore, WCU’s associate director of outdoor programs. “For example, a professor might approach us about including a climbing wall session, a group development team-building activity or a guided hike to a geologic feature in a class,” Whitmore said.

When it comes to total student participation in Base Camp’s programming, numbers have skyrocketed in the last decade, Whitmore said. “When I first started here nearly 10 years ago, we would run about 300 to 400 touches (student participations) for a year, and we have about 7,000 to 8,000 now,” he said. The growth has followed along with improvements in the university’s recreational facilities, such as the indoor climbing wall at the Campus Recreation Center, which sometimes averages up to 800 student visits per month, he said. Also, WCU’s on-campus trail system – with seven miles of pathway for mountain biking, hiking and running – opened last year.

A decade ago, the Base Camp staff included Whitmore and about half a dozen student workers, but now it takes three full-time staffers and 20 to 25 students to keep the outdoor program going, he said.

Accordingly, the university’s reputation among the general public and prospective students as an epicenter of outdoor adventure has grown over the years, Whitmore said. “Certainly, the mountain lifestyle is a big draw for folks. This (“top adventure college” title) is a big part of building that reputation and will help with that for sure.”

In its rundown of the top eight vote-getting schools, the magazine also included profiles of two accomplished alumni from each institution. WCU’s featured students, both graduates of the Parks and Recreation Management Program, are Glenville native Bobby Bryson and Laurinburg native William Butler. Bryson is now a captain for the Charlotte Fire Department, and as a member of the North Carolina Helicopter and

Aquatic Rescue Team, takes part in search and rescue operations that utilize Blackhawk helicopters for swift-water, flood, urban and wilderness rescue. Butler is an educational technician for Great Smoky Mountains National Park, and in that position he introduces visitors to outdoor adventure and educates them about using the wilderness responsibly. In addition to parks and recreation management, other academic programs offered by WCU for students interested in careers in the outdoors are forest resources, hospitality and tourism and natural resource conservation and management.

Simon Montelongo (shown above) completed the Cherokee Youth Council leadership program recently. He is the former Southeast Region Representative on the United National Indian Tribal Youth national board where he served and represented the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians for two years. "Simon shows outstanding selfless leadership and has no problem standing up for what he believes in," says Sky Sampson, Cherokee Youth Council program manager. "The Cherokee Youth Council congratulates you Simon on completing this program. We wish you many blessings throughout your future! You will be missed!"

Volunteers needed for Relay For Life of Cherokee

SCOTT MCKIE B.P./One Feather

The survivor's lap begins a previous Relay for Life of Cherokee.

The American Cancer Society Relay For Life is seeking volunteers in Cherokee – walkers, cancer survivors, caregivers, community leaders, anyone wanting to make a difference – to organize and recruit fundraising teams, garner community support, coordinate logistics, seek refreshments and prizes, plan entertainment and lend a hand to ensure the success of the 2014 event.

"Relay For Life is a truly unique experience which unites communities to finish the fight against cancer," said American Cancer Society officials. "Volunteer support is crucial to the event and will help the American Cancer Society create a world with less cancer and more birthdays."

The first volunteer committee meeting will be held on Monday, Aug. 18 at 5:15pm at Ginger Lynn Welch

Community Room. The meeting will begin the planning process for the community's Relay For Life event which supports the mission of the American Cancer Society to save lives by helping people stay well, by helping people get well, by finding cures and by fighting back against the disease.

Relay For Life events are held overnight as individuals and teams camp out at an athletic track, park, or fairground, with the goal of keeping at least one team member on the track or pathway at all times. Teams do most of their fundraising prior to the event, but some teams also hold creative fundraisers at their camp sites at the event. Relay For Life brings together friends, families, businesses, hospitals, schools, faith-based groups . . . people from all walks of life – all aimed at celebrating the lives of those who have had cancer, remembering those lost, and fighting back against the disease.

"Relay For Life is all about our community uniting with the American Cancer Society and supporting its efforts to finish the fight," said Randi Smith, Relay For Life Specialist. "Volunteers and participants who are willing to give their time and energy to this exciting event are making a commitment to let Cherokee community members know that cancer can be defeated."

If you would like to join the Relay For Life of Cherokee as a volunteer or team participant, call the American Cancer Society (828) 253-2893 or visit RelayForLife.org or www.relayforlife.org/ebcinc.

WCU's Mountain Heritage Day recipe contest to feature sweet potatoes

CULLOWHEE - This year's 40th annual celebration of Mountain Heritage Day again will feature the traditional foods competition "A Gathering In," where baked goods, canned and dried foods and - this year - sweet potato recipes will vie for ribbons on Saturday, Sept. 27, on the Western Carolina University campus.

The "Best in the West Sweet Potato Recipe" will highlight the importance of sweet potatoes in the western North Carolina region.

"The recipe does not have to be original, but the entry must be made from scratch and must include sweet potatoes," said Peter Koch, education associate at WCU's Mountain Heritage Center.

The foods contest is coordinated jointly by the North Carolina Cooperative Extension Service's Jackson County Center, WCU's Mountain Heritage Center and the Department of Health Sciences. Ribbons will be awarded to the top three entries in youth and adult divisions. A grand champion will be selected from each of the divisions of canned goods, baked goods, heritage foods conservation and vegetables.

"The Mountain Heritage Day foods contest reflects the diversity of Appalachian food origins and traditions," the event's food contest coordinator, Emily Baker, said. "It is always exciting to see what kinds of recipes the contestants create."

The weeks ahead provide plenty of time to prepare preserved entries and plan winning recipes. Food entries will be accepted at the Mountain Heritage Center at specific times during the week leading up to the festival, always the last Saturday in September.

Canned goods and heritage foods may be dropped off at the Cordelia Camp Building on campus between 7:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 24; baked goods and the Best in the West Sweet Potato dishes (along with their respective recipes) on Friday, Sept. 26, from 7:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

THOUGHTS AND PRAYERS

Our thoughts and prayers are with the friends and family of Harold Boyd Ayers who passed away on Sunday, July 27. Please remember this family during this difficult time.

We also send our sympathy to the friends and family of William Woodrow Cornwell who also passed away on Sunday, July 27. Please keep this family in your thoughts and prayers during this difficult time.

Constitution Committee seeking comments

The EBCI Constitution Committee is seeking comments on the progress they are making as they prepare the document. A website has been established <http://aroneach.wix.com/cherokeeconstitution> where documents are uploaded regularly as the Committee works on various issues. The Committee is asking EBCI tribal members to review the documents and the progress and provide their comments. The Committee meets each Thursday at 6pm at the Birdtown Community Building and all are welcome.

Gunter Fork Trail reopened in Park

Great Smoky Mountains National Park officials announced on Thursday, July 31 that Gunter Fork Trail is now open. The trail had been closed since May due to a landslide along the trail.

The park trail crew completed the necessary repairs by re-establishing the trail through the slide area. The trail passes through rocky, steep terrain complicating the repair work. The trail was also closed in 2011 due to a slide in the same area.

The 4.1 mile trail lies in the east end of the park connecting Camel Gap and Balsam Mountain Trails. The Gunter Fork Trail is a route that takes users from the Walnut Bottoms area up to Balsam Mountain and Mt. Sterling.

For more information about trail closures, please visit the Park's website at www.nps.gov/grsm or call the Backcountry Information Office (865) 436-1297.

WCU to sponsor political debates for congressional and statehouse races

CULLOWHEE – Candidates vying for elected office in three races to be decided by Western North Carolina voters in November have agreed to take part in a series of debates sponsored by Western Carolina University's Public Policy Institute and Department of Political Science and Public Affairs.

The WCU Political Debate Series will begin Thursday, Sept. 4, with opponents for the U.S. House of Representatives District 11 – incumbent Mark Meadows (R-Jackson) and challenger Tom Hill (D-Henderson). The debate will be held in the Grandroom of A.K. Hinds University Center on the WCU campus.

Next up Tuesday, Sept. 23, will be the candidates in the N.C. House of Representatives District 19 race pitting incumbent Joe Sam Queen (D-Haywood) against Mike Clampitt (R-Swain). The debate will be held in Room 204 of the Health and Human Sciences Building on WCU's West Campus.

Wrapping up the series Thursday, Oct. 2, will be the contenders for the N.C. Senate District 50 seat, with incumbent Jim Davis (R-Macon) and opponent Jane Hipps (D-Haywood). That debate also will be held in Room 204 of the Health and Human Sciences Building.

All debates will begin at 7 p.m. and will be broadcast live online by WLOS-TV on www.wlos.com. All three debates are open to the public free of charge.

Topics discussed during each of the debates will be selected from questions submitted in advance to the PPI. Questions should be submitted by Friday, Aug. 15, to receive priority consideration. Questions must be submitted by registered voters in the district, should be emailed to ppi@wcu.edu, and must include the name of the sender and the county of residence.

Todd Collins, associate professor of political science and public affairs, and director of the Public Policy Institute, said that hosting the debates is in keeping with WCU's mission as a regional comprehensive institution.

"As a regionally engaged university, we are excited to offer citizens in our area the opportunity to learn more about the candidates through our debate series," Collins said. "We encourage all voters to learn about the issues and the candidates, to participate in the debates by submitting questions, to watch the debates in person or online, and to make an informed choice when they go to the polls in November."

Deadline for new EBCI enrollees

To be considered for the December 2014 per capita distribution, a complete enrollment application for a new applicant must be submitted to the EBCI Enrollment Office by Monday, Sept. 15 at 4:30pm. Enrollment applications received after this date will not be considered for the December distribution.

An application will only be considered complete with a county-certified birth certificate and certified DNA results sent directly from the lab to the Enrollment Office. To schedule a DNA test in Cherokee, contact Michelle, at the Enrollment office, 554-6463. To schedule a DNA test out of town, contact Amber Harrison (918) 685-0478. DNA Testing must be scheduled on or before Friday, Aug. 22 to obtain the results before the Sept. 15 deadline.

Because of the extended amount of time in receiving a social security number for a newborn, an application will be considered for enrollment without the social security number. However, an EBCI Enrollment Card will not be issued until the Enrollment Office receives the social security number for the new enrollee.

Applications may be obtained from the Enrollment Office located in the Ginger Lynn Welch Complex or you may call the Enrollment Office 554-6467, 554-6465 or 554-6466.

Obituaries

William Woodrow Cornwell

William Woodrow Cornwell, 53, of the Birdtown Community, passed away unexpectedly on July 27, 2014 while traveling home to his family.

Will was the son of the late Bryan Cornwell and surviving mother Inez Welch. He was the loving husband to Charlene (Hensley) Cornwell and made their home at 65 Kenneth Cooper Rd., Whittier. Will was a Pastor who was non-denominational but believed in the teachings of Jesus Christ. He loved the outdoors and was drawn to the water. He will be terribly missed.

Will is also survived by his children, Will Joseph Cornwell of Starr, S.C., Jamie Dean Cornwell of Etowah, Tenn., Billy Starr Cornwell, Brandon Lee Cornwell both of Cherokee, Anthony Thompson of Bryson City, and Arian Thompson of Cherokee; sisters, Elisabeth Edwards and husband Lee Edwards, Elsie Biddix and husband John and Jessica Hornbuckle; three grandchildren; numerous aunts and uncles and nieces and nephews.

Along with his father, Will is preceded in death by a brother, Herman Gene Cornwell.

A visitation was held on Tuesday, July 29 at the Rock Hill Baptist church in the Birdtown Community where the body will remain until the hour of service of 1pm on Wednesday, July 30 with Pastor Red Woodard officiating. An immediate burial followed the service in the Birdtown Cemetery with Joseph Cornwell, Jamie Cornwell, Billy Cornwell, Adrian "Skippy" Thompson, Brett Grady, David Edwards and Andrew Edwards acting as pall bearers.

Long House Funeral Home assisted the family in the final arrangements.

Marilyn Maples Dent

Marilyn Maples Dent, 58, of Cherokee, went home to be with the Lord July 23, 2014 in a Buncombe County Hospital. She was the daughter of the late Cecil and Edna Lambert Maples. She was a charitable person and spent her life doing God's Work.

She was preceded in death by three brothers Ronald Maples, Charles Maples, and Curtis Lambert, and a sister Pat McCoy.

She is survived by two sisters, Linda Lambert and Sandra Bradley both of Cherokee; daughter, Cherise Maples of Davie, Fla.; three granddaughters, Jeyli, Lauryn, and Melani; and her son-in-law, Robert Linton of Davie, Fla.

No Services are planned. In lieu of flowers memorials may be made by donating to her two favorite charities, Smile Train at P.O. Box 96231, Washington, D.C. 20090-6231 or to a Disabled Veterans Charity.

She will be sadly missed by her family and friends.

Sally Ann Crowe Ensley

Sally Ann Crowe Ensley, of Cherokee, passed away unexpectedly on Wednesday, July 30, 2014 while visiting family in Walhala, SC.

Sally is survived by her children, Beverly Ensley Webb of Cherokee/Whittier, Cynthia "Joann" Ensley Bryson of Cherokee, Sharon Ensley Queen of Cherokee, Pamela Ensley Morrison of Clemson, SC, Leslie "Clement" Ensley of Bryson City, Joseph Ensley of Canton, NC, William "Billy" Ensley of Cherokee; 22 grandchildren and 31 great grandchildren; five brothers and four sisters. She was preceded in death by her husband, Leslie Ensley; her mother and father, Cinda Reed Crowe and Edwin Endros Crowe; a brother, William "Billy" Crowe; and a grandson, Dustin Jerrold Queen.

Sally was a true Godly woman and known for her strong faith in her Lord, Jesus Christ, her devotion and dedication to learning his word, a loving mother, and grandmother and her love for family. Though her soul is now welcomed on the streets of gold she will be deeply missed by those of us who are left behind until we see each other again.

Funeral services were held on Sunday, Aug. 3 at 2pm at the Cherokee Pentecostal Holiness Church. Revs. Clyde Webb, Tommy Gibson, and Bruce Chambers will officiate with burial in the Crowe Family Cemetery.

Jose Geronimo Amero-Reyes

Jose Geronimo Amero-Reyes, 53, of Cherokee went home to be with the Lord Friday, Aug. 1, 2014 in a Jackson County Hospital.

He is survived by his wife of 12 years, Robin Amero-Reyes; brothers, Fildo Rodriguez Reyes, Lucio Amero-Reyes; and all his family in Mexico.

Funeral services were held at 7pm on Wednesday, Aug. 6 in the chapel of Crisp Funeral Home.

THANK YOU The family of Jerry Sherrill says thanks for support

A belated thank you letter: Sorry about getting this out so late, but things happen or get in the way. We would like to thank everyone that cooked food and bought it. Thank you to the Acquoni Church, Council members, Vice Chief, Preacher Kilgore, Joe Wolfe, Fessie Smith, Mary Jane and her sisters, and to the public who also order dinners. We could not have done this without you all, and the benefit was a success. We thank you very much from our hearts, and may God Bless each and every one. May he watch over your family.

Sincerely,
Lossiah, Wildcat,
Armachain Family

Advance tickets now available for N.C. Mountain State Fair

FLETCHER – The N.C. Mountain State Fair will return to the Western N.C. Agricultural Center for another run of family fun Sept. 5-14, and advance tickets are now available.

“There’s no time like fair time, and with savings of $2 on admission tickets and 50 percent on ride tickets, there is no time like right now to buy advance tickets,” said fair manager Matt Buchanan.

Advance tickets are available through Sept. 4 at the WNC Agricultural Center, WNC Farmers Market and area Ingles stores. Advance tickets are not available online this year; however, additional Ingles ticket locations have been added in the mountains and upstate South Carolina.

Advance tickets are $6 for adults 13-64, and $2 for children 6-12 and seniors ages 65 and older. Groups with 30 or more people can purchase advance tickets for $5 per person. Ride tickets are available in advance for $7.50 for a sheet of 12 tickets. Family Fun Packs are also available for $35. The cost includes five admission tickets, tickets for four rides and food coupons for a selection of fair vendors.

“With more than 100 acts performing throughout the fair, we’re one of the best entertainment values in the area,” Buchanan said. “Buying in advance or as a group makes it even more affordable.” This year’s entertainment lineup will feature a mix of new attractions and traditional favorites. Stilt Puppets, a roaming band of acrobatic stilt walkers, will make its fair debut. Other new acts include illusionists Josh Knotts and Lea, dog stunt show K9s in Flight, and naturalist Carlton Burke. Sea Lion Splash, which debuted in 2013, will return for another year of playful antics.

Sisters top Summer Reading Program

This summer's top readers in the Boom Fizz Read program at the Qualla Boundary Public Library are sisters Annie Mora, Niyahi Mora, and Jamice Mora. They combined for over 14,023 combined reading minutes this summer with Jamice coming out on top of the entire program with 5,111 minutes read. Overall, the participants in the program read for 19,245 minutes.

"A great big thank you goes to Cherokee Phoenix Theater in support of reading this summer with their donation of movie tickets and movie snacks," said Robin Swayney, Qualla Library manager. "We would also like to thank Sarah Welch, from the EBCI Extension Office, for volunteering to help with the summer reading program against this year. Thanks to all the parents who brought their kids, and thank you to the children for doing what they love to do – read!"

THANK YOU NAIWA ladies say thanks to bus driver on NM trip

NAIWA's Annual Conference was held in Albuquerque, NM June 15-18. While there, we visited Acoma Pueblo Sky City, Old Town, Laguna Pueblo for a feast at Georgia Pedro's which featured service berry soup, mutton stew, squash posole, green and red chili and tortillas.

A memorial service was held for those members that have passed on. EBCI members were Katie Jesson and Pearl Davis. Next year's conference will be held in Redmond, Washington at the Microsoft campus.

Thanks to our bus driver Bob Price and Herbie Lossiah for getting us there and back safely, even though Herbie ran out of gas. Thank goodness it wasn't with us!

ENROLLMENT PROTEST HEARING SET FOR SEPTEMBER 16TH

The Tribal Enrollment Office provided official notification to a few people that the Enrollment Committee will hear testimony related to the enrollment protest against the descendants of Dick Downing on September 16, 2014. The people who initiated the enrollment protest claim that Dick Downing was less than full blood quantum. After weeks of analysis to determine the number of people who are directly affected by the protest, a reasonable estimate is that as many as a 1,000 tribal members are at risk of having their blood quantum reduced. Because of the large number of people, all of whom have a right to be heard, we are pressing the tribe to conduct the hearing in the auditorium of the school; the council chambers that are commonly used for such hearings, are totally inadequate. EVERYONE WHO WOULD EXPERIENCE A DECREASE IN BLOOD QUANTUM, IF THE PROTEST IS UPHOLD, IS ENTITLED TO BE HEARD. We, the people, demand the hearing be open and televised.

The protest specifically targets John Harrison Sneed claiming his blood quantum on the Baker Roll should be reduced. If that were to happen, the following families would be impacted: Sneed, Cooper, Bowman, Craig, Harding, Hyde, Rose, Beck, Young, Arkansas and, Burgess. One of the people initiating the protest bases her protest on the false premise that Dick Downing was less than full blood quantum. Thus, the descendants of Dick Downing are certainly affected and possibly include branches of the Wolfe, Owl, Lossiah, Driver, Long, Sequoyah, Smith and Hicks families. Everyone should check their genealogy to determine if a change in the blood quantum of Dick and/or Jack Downing (Dick's son) would impact them. Dick Downing was married to Nelly, the daughter of Junaluska.

The Enrollment Office has ignored and violated statutes that require them to notify ALL persons who would be adversely impacted by a decision to uphold the enrollment protest. If you know you are a descendent of Dick or Jack Downing and you have NOT been notified that your blood quantum is being challenged, you should immediately contact the Enrollment Office and inform them you plan to exercise your right to be heard by the Enrollment Committee. If they tell you that you are not impacted, you should ask how the blood quantum of your ancestor can be reduced and it not have an adverse impact on your blood quantum. THEY CANNOT "PICK AND CHOOSE" FAMILIES TO PROTEST AGAINST; A CHANGE IN BLOOD QUANTUM OF ANY PERSON AFFECTS ALL OF THAT PERSONS DESCENDENTS...THAT IS A FACT THAT CANNOT BE IGNORED. The person who initiated the protest and the enrollment office knew this but deliberately chose to ignore that fact and decided to target only the family of Ted Rose.

Make your plans now to attend the Enrollment Committee hearing of the protest on the 16th of September. YOU HAVE A RIGHT TO BE HEARD. NO ONE CAN DENY YOU THAT RIGHT. The protest was originated by a member of council and has been allowed to go forward by the Council and the enrollment office; it is a classic example of a government over stepping its bounds. A lot of tribal members are very upset over this fiasco; the hearing on the 16th of September will provide an excellent opportunity for you to make your voice heard...to make it clear you will no longer allow the legislative body of our government to exceed its legitimate authority. CALL YOUR COUNCIL REPRESENTATIVES AND LET THEM KNOW YOU ARE UPSET OVER THIS PROTEST AND THAT IT WILL HAVE A SIGNIFICANT EFFECT ON YOUR VOTING DECISION IN THE NEXT ELECTION.

COMMENTARY

Letter to parents, students and faculty from Supt. Penland

D. SCOTT PENLAND
CCS SUPERINTENDENT

Welcome back to the 2014-2015 school year. The air is filled with excitement as the start of school draws near. The Cherokee Central Schools Staff has had a very busy summer preparing the schools for your arrival. Many long hours have gone into making sure your schools are bright, shining and ready for another great school year. I have completed my first year at Cherokee, and I am delighted to say that I have been very impressed with the schools. We have some of the finest facilities and programs in the State of North Carolina. The faculty, staff, parents and students that I have met have been wonderful. Cherokee Elementary School met AYP and everyone is excited about that. A big shout-out to the faculty, staff and administration at Cherokee Elementary for a job well done! Cherokee Middle School had excellent EOG math scores. Reading scores improved in every grade! With the addition of a new math coach in the middle/high school and reading coach in elementary, we expect the scores to continue to soar! Cherokee High School has a new principal, Ms. Debora Foerst. Ms. Foerst graduated from Cherokee High School and has deep roots in this community. We are all very excited about the enthusiasm Ms. Foerst will bring to the high school.

With the hard work and dedication of the students, parents, faculty, and staff, we have an opportunity to have World-Class Schools. In fact, we do not have a choice. In today's world, we must have World Class Schools! It is absolutely essential for students to leave high school adequately prepared to enter their next phase of life, whether that be the world of work, military service, community college or university. A quality education is no longer something nice to have. It is an absolute essential!

The start of a new school year gives all students a chance to build on their previous successes and begin building a great future. I ask that everyone rally behind the Cherokee Braves as the new school year begins. We have a new football coach and are already seeing a renewed enthusiasm at the practices. There are high expectations for all students. Why? Because we know students will rise to meet our expectations! Students, I encourage you to do your very best at whatever you're doing, whether it be on the athletic field, math class, art/music class, drama class, or just hanging out with your friends. Always strive to be the best person you can be!

This community has a lot to be proud of and the Cherokee Central School System is certainly one of them.

The Cherokee Central School System is a place where our students are safe, respected, encouraged, motivated, and loved! I ask that everyone support our students, teachers and staff as we soar to new heights!

We are all on the Sacred Path. It is not something we have to earn; it is a choice we make. Together we can stay on the path. The choice is yours!

Run for your life

ROBERT JUMPER
ONE FEATHER EDITOR

My doctor tells me the "secret" to general good health is no secret at all. A healthy diet and exercise are the foundations of good health. He suggests an hour a day of walking or running will do great things for our weight loss goals which, in turn, will benefit our hearts, help control sugar, etc. His bottom line during our discussion was walking and running will make a positive difference in our lives.

In addition to the health benefits, getting out on foot in Cherokee is a great way to take in the culture and experience the interesting places scattered throughout the Qualla Boundary. There are great places to go where you may enjoy great shopping along the way, make stops at key historic sites or view breathtaking flora and fauna. The Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians has purposefully designed great foot trails for those who wish to view the natural beauty of the Boundary. A combination of sidewalks and trails make up Cherokee's greenways. These paths allow anyone to enjoy the town's attractions and a peaceful stroll or spirited jog along the Oconaluftee River.

If you prefer a more vigorous pedestrian experience, Cherokee is the gateway to the Blue Ridge Parkway and Great Smoky Mountains National Park. Hiking trails are numerous and some present challenging experiences for even seasoned hikers (see a complete GSMNP trail map at http://www.nps.gov/grsm/planyourvisit/upload/GSMNP-Map_JUNE14-complete4-2.pdf). There is literally a trail to suit every walker or runner's taste.

Whether you are working on losing a few pounds or simply want to experience nature close up, Cherokee offers great spaces and opportunities to do both. No special equipment is required, but I would suggest some good walking/running attire, water... and possibly a map. There is great information on Cherokee's walking and running trails at the Cherokee Welcome Center across from the Fairgrounds. You may phone the Center 554-6490 or email at travel@nc-cherokee.com.
