ormer Principal Chief Gerard Parker passed away on Saturday, Dec. 1, and a memorial service was held by the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians on Monday, Dec. 10 to honor a man who served the Tribe for more than 20 years.

Monday's event was held at the Chief Joyce Dugan Cultural Arts Center and began with full military honors for Parker who served in the U.S. Army during the Korean War.

"His service to this country was honorable and required great sacrifice," said Commander Lew Harding, Steve Youngdeer American Legion Post 143. "We will miss him. Our people, our Tribe, and this world are better off because of him."

Following an official presentation of a U.S. flag to Parker's family, the Post 143 Color Guard fired a military salute which was followed by the playing of "Taps".

Parker served as Principal Chief in 1995 and as Vice Chief from 1991-97. He also served in Tribal Council as the Painttown Representative from 1971-87.

Ray Kinsland spoke on Monday and said Parker's 76 years were filled with service. "Those 76 years were very busy most of the time. Altogether, he served the Tribe for over 22 years."

Kinsland said Parker was a man of faith who spent a lot of time reading and studying his Bible.

"He told me, 'I have turned my back on the Lord many times, but he's never turned his back on me. I have let the Lord down many times, but he has never let me down."

Kinsland added, "He took his responsibilities seriously. I never heard brother Gerard complain."

Principal Chief Michell Hicks commented, "We are going to miss Gerard. It's not about roads or buildings that you leave behind. It's the message and the work ethic."

Chief Hicks went on to say that Parker was a dedicated leader of the Tribe and was always eager to help the younger generation.

The event closed with a presentation of the EBCI tribal flag to the Parker family by Beloved Woman Myrtle Driver.

Memorials may be made in honor of Parker to: Cherokee Indian Hospital Foundation, P.O. Box C-268, Cherokee, NC 28719.

Report to the People

Report to the EBCI Executive Office and Tribal Council

By JOHN HOUSER

he Tribal Casino Gaming Enterprise (TCGE) and TCGE Finance Staff requested a review of charges related to IT services provided by Caesars Entertainment (Harrah's Corporate) at the Harrah's Cherokee property. The review revealed that the Harrah's Cherokee property has been historically overcharged for IT services. The overcharges were the result of inadvertent accounting and budgetary timing issues for the years 2002-2011.

These issues impacted only three managed properties of the 38 Harrah's properties nationally. The Harrah's Cherokee property questioned the charges during its budget process and Caesars Entertainment Budget Division reviewed multiple years finding $2.7 million in overcharges.

Harrah's Cherokee will be reimbursed, including interest compounded at a rate of 10%, amounting to $4.1 million. In accordance with Tribal Law, 50 percent of the $4.1 million will be distributed to Tribal Members as per capita and 50 percent to the Tribe for operations.

John is the chairman of the Tribal Casino Gaming Enterprise (TCGE) Board.

Report to the People

By PRINCIPAL CHIEF MICHELL HICKS and CHAIRMAN JIM OWLE

BCI tribal officials received a report from the TCGE Board concerning Harrah's Cherokee accounting issues. The EBCI Tribal Leadership has requested a more thorough review of the overcharges by the Office of Internal Audit to ensure the Harrah's Cherokee property is not being overcharged in other areas such as Marketing, Accounting, Insurance, Legal and Audit. Tribal Leadership has also called for an outside party to review the procedure for calculating the overcharges to ensure the calculated amounts are correct and properly reconciled.

Until that review is complete and assurance is provided that no other monies are due, the funds will be held in a separate interest bearing account and the 50 percent due to Tribal members by law will be distributed as early as the June 2013 payment of per capita. Tribal leadership wants to ensure that our Tribal Members understand we are committed to make every effort to resolve this and any other necessary accounting adjustments.

CHS arena named after Cherokee hero herokee Central Schools dedicated the Cherokee High School Arena the Charles George Memorial Arena on Friday, Dec. 7. in honor of PFC Charles George, an EBCI tribal member who won the Medal of Honor during the Korean War. He gave up his life to save his fellow soldiers.

Members of the Steve Youngdeer American Legion Post 143 and CHS JROTC presented colors representing "Past and Future" military service. The Color Guard was made up of Reuben Taylor, Ernie Panther, Ray West, Steve Daggs, Cadets Darion Owl, Kyle Watty, and Eligio Acatitlan

Several Tribal Council members were in attendance including: Yellowhill Rep. B. Ensley, Yellowhill Rep. David Wolfe, Big Cove Rep. Perry Shell and Painttown Rep. Terri Henry. Cherokee Central School Board members Lori Blankenship, Dick Crowe, Gloria Rattler, Charlotte Saunooke, Jessica Daniels and T.W. Saunooke were also at the ceremony.

Miss Cherokee 2012 Karyl Frankiewicz, Miss Teen Cherokee 2012 Bradley Welch, Post 143 service officer Warren Dupree and Ray Kinsland spoke at the event. The family was represented by Patty George Buchanan and Kevin George as well as many grandnieces and grandnephews.

The dedication ceremony opened with a drum song and was followed by the presentation of colors, the National Anthem, and the Pledge of Allegiance. Kinsland said a prayer and provided a history. Dupree read the history and citation of PFC Charles George.

Principal Chief Michell Hicks, Chairman Jim Owle, CCS Superintendent Walt Swan, and CCS School Board Chairman Lori Blankenship dedicated the arena and presented a plaque to a representative from the George family. A few comments and prayer closed the ceremony with a drum song prelude.

Many students and volunteers worked tirelessly to prepare the arena for the rededication. PFC Charles George's name in Cherokee syllabary in the schools colors, maroon and gold, was added by the art students above the entrance to the arena. Pictures of Charles George in military service, the Medal of Honor, the citation, and certificate are displayed on the wall to the left upon entering the arena's second floor. Nestled among these pictures is a bronze plaque that reads as shown in the blue box at the right.

Flu season hits Cherokee

By SCOTT MCKIE B.PONE FEATHER STAFF

t's flu time, and health officials in Cherokee are asking that community members take steps to help stop the spread of the illness.

"We have had 68 laboratory-confirmed cases of influenza over the past two weeks diagnosed through Cherokee Indian Hospital clinics, ER, ICC, and other satellite clinics," said Dr. Michael Toedt, Cherokee Indian Hospital executive director of clinical services.

"Not every case has to be labconfirmed," he explained. "There have been 583 cases of influenzalike illness seen in our health system over the past 30 days. This is more than our usual caseload, and it represents the onset of the flu season."

There have been a total of three flu-related deaths in North Carolina since October according to the North Carolina Dept. of Health and Human Services.

"The best things people can do to prevent the flu are to 1. get the flu vaccine, 2. take everyday precautions to stop the spread of germs (cover your nose/mouth when you sneeze, wash your hands, if you have flu-like illness, stay home until at least 24 hours after your fever is gone, etc.), and 3. take flu antiviral medication if your doctor prescribes them," says Dr. Toedt.

If you do come down with flulike symptoms, the CDC states, "Most people with the flu have mild illness and do not need medical care or antiviral drugs. If you get sick with flu symptoms, in most cases, you should stay home and avoid contact with other people except to get medical care. If, however, you have symptoms of flu and are very sick or worried about your illness, contact your health care provider."

When asked about the severity of the flu situation in Cherokee, Dr. Toedt commented, "It is early in the flu season to say anything about whether the viruses that are circulating this year are more or less severe than in previous years, but we do know that this year's flu season is starting earlier than it has started in recent years."

Know what to do about the flu

By DORIS BONILLA, RN, BSN, MS, MPH

In Cherokee, we are experiencing a higher number than usual of cases of influenza. The flu is a contagious respiratory illness caused by flu viruses that infect the nose, throat, and lungs. It is an acute illness that can cause mild to severe illness. Do I need to go to the Emergency Room if I am only a little sick? NO. The Emergency Room is for people who are very sick. If you go to the ER, you may catch the flu from people who do have it.

The flu poses a great threat to certain people: Pregnant women, children and elders. These groups are at high risk for complications from the flu. Those that can be especially hard hit are ones with diabetes, asthma or heart and lung diseases. Pneumonia and bronchitis are examples of serious flu-related complications.

Signs and symptoms of flu are:
Fever/chills
Cough
Sore throat
Runny or stuffy nose
Muscle or body aches
Headaches
Fatigue (feeling very tired)

common in children)
You need to get a flu shot each year because the influenza viruses are always changing and protection dwindles away over time. For this Vomiting and diarrhea (this is more reason, you should get a flu shot every year. Children younger than six months or those with severe allergies to eggs should not get the flu shot. If you have had a severe reaction to a flu shot in the past, do not get the flu shot.

Flu experts work year round to identify the flu viruses that are most likely to cause illness the next flu season. The flu vaccine we get each year protects against those identified viruses. The vaccine does not protect against different flu viruses not in the vaccine or the common cold.

Once you take the flu shot, it takes two weeks for your body to develop protection for you from the flu virus. During that time period, you should not visit people you know have the flu. Also, don't visit the hospital or nursing home patients if you can avoid it during the flu season.

If you visit the hospital, there are masks at all reception desks for your protection. If you have signs or symptoms of the flu yourself and come to the hospital for care, ask for a mask to keep from spreading the flu. If you are seated in a waiting room near a person who is coughing and sneezing, feel free to move or get a mask to protect yourself.

In addition to the flu vaccine, you can protect yourself by washing your hands with warm water and soap often. Hand gel can also help protect you. A distance of about six feet is also protective.

2012 could be warmest in U.S. history; state experiencing drought

By SCOTT MCKIE B.P.

ONE FEATHER STAFF

t has been unseasonably warm in Cherokee the past week. Actually, it has been unseasonably warm in a lot of places in the United States recently. This year is shaping up to break the record for the warmest year in United States history.

"The January-November period was the warmest first 11 months of any year on record for the contiguous United States, and for the entire year, 2012 will most likely surpass the current record as the warmest year for the Nation," states information released by the National Climatic Data Center (NDCD).

The current record for warmest year was 1998 with a mean temperature of 54.3 degrees Fahrenheit.

The NDCD states, "It appears virtually certain that 2012 will surpass the current record as the warmest year for the nation. December 2012 temperatures would need to be more than 1.0 degrees Fahrenheit colder than the coldest December (1983) for 2012 to not break the record."

November 2012 was the 20th warmest November and the 8th driest in recorded history.

North Carolina is currently experiencing moderate drought conditions for 65 counties and abnormally dry conditions for another 16. Swain is currently classified as abnormally dry and Jackson is in a moderate drought according to the North Carolina Drought Management Advisory Council (NCD-MAC).

Tom Reeder, director of the N.C. Division of Water Resources, said in a statement on Thursday, Dec. 6, "Although we still haven't had any reports of public water supplies being affected, we are seeing impacts to streams, groundwater levels and inflows to reservoirs."

Ryan Boyles, a climatologist with the N.C. State Climate Office and NCDMAC member, commented, "November was the seventh driest on record in terms of statewide average rainfall since 1895. Meterologists do not have a clear picture of the winter forecast this year. If the state does not receive adequate rainfall this winter, it could create bigger problems next year if spring and summer months are also dry."

Park to host Holiday Homecoming at Oconaluftee Visitor Center

reat Smoky Mountains National Park will host a Holiday Homecoming at the Oconaluftee Visitor Center on Saturday, Dec. 15. Park staff and volunteers will provide hands-on traditional craft demonstrations from 10a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Children and adults will have the opportunity to make a corn shuck doll, buzz button, and cinnamon ornament to take home. Visitors will be encouraged to make a cinnamon ornament to hang on the visitor center tree for years to come.

From 1-3pm, there will be an acoustic old time jam session focused on holiday music.

"Musical expression was and still is often a part of daily life in the southern mountains, and mountain music is strongly tied to the Smokies history and culture," said Lynda Doucette, Supervisory Park Ranger, Oconaluftee Visitor Center. "We would like to invite musicians to play traditional Appalachian tunes such as gospel songs and traditional ballads as they were played on the porches in the old days."

Grant to help SCC start table gaming training program

SYLVA - Southwestern Community College has been awarded a $397,519 North Carolina Back-to-Work grant from the North Carolina Department of Commerce.

This grant is a result of a partnership between the Community college system and the NC Department of Commerce and provides resources to start a table gaming training program in conjunction with Harrah's Cherokee Casino and Resort. The grant specifically targets the nearly 1000 individuals in the SCC service area who have exhausted their unemployment within the last year and will provide financial assistance to those who enroll in the classes.

The grant funding is being used to help pay for tuition for a 7-week program that will teach participants live gaming techniques and casino regulations. With the addition of live gaming this past August, Harrah's has an anticipated 500 new jobs will be created. These positions will pay an average of $25 per hour.

"The timing of this grant was perfect for what was happening at Harrah's. It allowed SCC to develop a trained workforce for Harrah's and help the people in Western North Carolina get back to work" said Sonja Haynes, Dean of Workforce and Economic Development at SCC.

"We are excited to have been awarded the N.C. Back-to-Work grant," said Don Tomas, Ed.D., president of SCC. "The allocated funds have awarded us the opportunity to partner with Harrah's Cherokee Casino & Resort. This initiative will serve to strengthen and expand job skills training to better service one of the largest employers in Western North Carolina, while also helping us form an exceptional workforce development program."

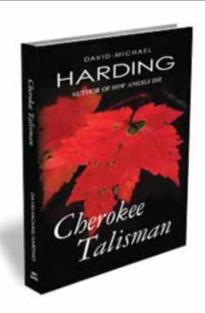

In addition to the technical skills needed to be a dealer, this program

The HRD classes are designed to help students become successful employees by teaching skills in communication, time management, problem solving and how to have a positive self-image. Instructors also work with the students on how to write a resume and interview for a job. The CRC is a portable credential that promotes skills and career development for individuals and confirms to employers that they possess basic workplace skills in: applied Math, Reading for Information and Locating Information.

"Harrah's is proud to partner with Southwestern Community College," said Brooks Robinson, Senior Vice President and General Manager at Harrah's. "Bringing together Harrah's strong technical competencies that compliment SCC's Human Resource Development skills courses such as work/life balance, financial health, and coaching for success is really blazing new frontiers for sharing resources in a tight economy."

Harrah's Cherokee Casino Resort wins more HOSPYs

International design firm Cuningham Group Architecture, Inc. (Cuningham Group®) recently accepted industry-leading recognition awards for "Best Buffet" and "Best Theatrical Experience" for Harrah's Cherokee Casino Resort in Cherokee, North Carolina. This marks the third and fourth HOSPY Awards for the $650 million expansion and renovation project which captured "Best Lobby" and "Best Suites" honors in 2011.

The prestigious awards, created and administered by Global Gaming Business magazine, are given out during the Global Gaming Expo in Las Vegas. The HOSPY Awards recognize extraordinary achievement in architecture, design, and development in the hospitality industry. The awards event also raises funds for student scholarships in architecture, interior design, construction, hotel management, gaming management and culinary arts.

"We are thrilled that the Cuningham Group received two HOSPY Awards for "Best Buffet" and "Best Theatrical Experience" for the resort. These award-winning designs are delighting our guests and are instrumental in helping to position Harrah's Cherokee Casino Resort as the premier resort destination in the Southeast and a first-rate entertainment and tourism destination," said Harrah's Cherokee Casino Resort's Senior Vice President and General Manager Brooks Robinson.

WIPE

Before teeth come in, wipe baby's mouth with a moist cloth or special baby "gum" brush.

SMEAR

When teeth start to come in, around 4-8 months, start using a small "smear" of toothpaste. This is easy if you wipe toothpaste across the brush. Use this amount until your child's second birthday.

BRUSH

After your child reaches age 3, use a "pea size dab" of toothpaste. Use fluoride toothpaste every morning and night. Check after your child brushes to make sure teeth are clean!

Cherokee Council House Cherokee, North Carolina

ORDINANCE NO.

(2012)

WHEREAS, Cherokee Code Chapter 102 regulates Land Surveys within the territory of the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians: and

WHEREAS, the intentional removal of survey flags has created unnecessary resurvey expenses that increase residential and commercial project construction expense; and

WHEREAS, for enforcement purposes, Chapter 102 needs to be amended to make the act of intentional removal of survey flags and unlawful act.

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED by the Tribal Council of the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians assembled, at which a quorum is present, that Cherokee Code Chapter 117 is amended, to read as follows:

Chapter 102 - LAND SURVEYS

Sec. 102-1. - Intent.

- (a) To protect the health, safety and welfare of the members of the Tribe, this chapter is written with the intent of improving the accuracy and consistency of land surveying and mapping activities, and land records, addressing
- (b) Within this chapter, "territory of the Tribe" means all lands held by the United States in trust for the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians or its enrolled members, and all other lands owned or acquired by the Tribe, notwithstanding the issuance of any right-of-way.
- Sec. 102-2. North Carolina Coordinate System adopted.
- (a) The Tribe hereby adopts the system of plane coordinates known as the "North Carolina Coordinate System" established in N.C.G.S. ch. 102, as the official survey base for the territory of the Tribe.
- (b) Persons performing land surveying and mapping activities addressing the territory of the Tribe shall use the North Carolina Coordinate System referenced in subsection (a) when performing those activities.
- Sec. 102-3. Hierarchy of existing corner monumentation.
- (a) Persons performing land surveying activities within the territory of the Tribe shall follow the priority assigned in the following list of corner monuments when determining the priority of existing monumentation. The following corner monuments are listed in descending order of priority:
- (1) Natural monuments called for on ancient maps or in ancient documents.
- (2) Existing U.S. Bureau of Indian Affairs Cherokee Agency concrete monuments with brass caps found undis-
- (3) Existing U.S. Bureau of Indian Affairs Cherokee Agency concrete monuments found undisturbed.
- (4) Bureau of U.S. Indian Affairs Cherokee Agency markers found undisturbed (iron pipes with brass caps).
- (5) Iron pipes set by the U.S. Bureau of Indian Affairs Cherokee Agency found undisturbed.
- (6) Iron rods set by the U.S. Bureau of Indian Affairs Cherokee Agency found undisturbed.
- (7) Parker-Kalon or magnetic nails set by the U.S. Bureau of Indian Affairs Cherokee Agency found undisturbed. (b) Persons performing land surveying activities within the territory of the Tribe shall honor positions of found undisturbed monumentation whenever performing resurveys of lines.
- Sec. 102-4. Establishment and use of network of control monuments.
- (a) As soon as reasonably possible following the original effective date of this chapter, the U.S. Bureau of Indian Affairs Cherokee Agency shall establish or adopt a precise network of control monuments for survey use within the territory of the Tribe, using coordinates provided by the North Carolina Geodetic Survey.
- (b) As soon as the primary control monuments are established and their coordinates determined, the control network shall be extended beyond the primary monuments to facilitate coordinate use.
- (c) All maps of land surveys shall be prepared to reflect actual surveyed information. The base for bearings shall be the same as that used in the network of control monuments. Use of additional symbols and/or linetypes is permitted and shall be determined by the survey department of the U.S. Bureau of Indian Affairs Cherokee Agency, as shall the procedure used to perform corner ties.
- (d) The responsible surveyor shall show on the face of each map a bearing and distance tie from the nearest control network monument or balanced control network traverse station.

Sec. 102-5. - Physical control.

Any triangulation or traverse station or monument established within the territory of the Tribe according to the North Carolina Coordinate System may be used in establishing a connection between any survey and the abovementioned system of rectangular coordinates.

Sec. 102-6. - Use of name.

The use of the term "North Carolina Coordinate System" on any map, report, or survey, or other document, shall be limited to coordinates based on the North Carolina Coordinate System as defined in N.C.G.S. ch. 102. Sec. 102-7. - Legality of use in descriptions.

When describing the location of any survey station or boundary corner within the territory of the Tribe, it shall be considered a complete, legal, and satisfactory description to define the location of such point or points by means of coordinates of the North Carolina Coordinate System.

Sec. 102-8. - Use not compulsory.

This article does not mandate that a person acquiring a right or interest in real property rely wholly on a description based upon the North Carolina Coordinate System.

Sec. 102-9. - Damaging, defacing, or destroying monuments.

Any person who willfully damages, defaces, destroys, or injures a station, monument or permanent mark of a survey, or imposes any obstacles to the proper, reasonable, and legal use of a station, monument or permanent mark of a survey, is guilty of a misdemeanor punishable by a fine not to exceed $5,000.00, imprisonment for up to one year, or both, and may be ordered to pay restitution to the injured party.

Sec. 102-10. - Removal of Survey Flags.

It shall be unlawful for any person to willfully remove a Tribal or U. S. Bureau of Indian Affairs survey flag within 60 days of placement. Any person who willfully removes a survey flags is guilty of a misdemeanor punishable by a fine not to exceed $100.00 for each day, and each day any single violation continues shall be a separate viola-

BE IT FINALLY ORDAINED that all ordinances inconsistent with this ordinance are rescinded, and that this ordinance shall become effective when ratified by the Principal Chief.

Thank you

I want to take the time to thank everyone for their tremendous outpouring of love and support during the loss of my husband and during the benefit for me. For all the prayers that were spoken for me and my family, thank you. It is a most humbling experience to know how much your people care for you. It's that love and concern that will carry us through. A special thanks to my "clan" sister for her words of encouragement.

With much gratitude, Nikki Nations

Thank you Cherokee Redemptive Ministries

The Cherokee Youth Council received a recent donation from Cherokee Redemptive Ministries that will allow more youth to attend the UNITY conference in July. "This donation is well accepted and appreciated as our program works to improve the lives of youth on the Qualla Boundary," says Sky Kanott, Cherokee Youth Council program manager. We are so thankful for Cherokee Redemptive Ministries!

The last issue of the One Feather for 2012 will be Dec. 20. The first issue of 2013 will be Jan. 10.

Thank you

The family of Wilma Carolyne Moles wants to thank those who provided support during our recent period of grief. We thank: Carolyne Beth Rossiter of Oklahoma/North Carolina, the Yellow Hill Choir (Missy Crowe, Simon, Lou and Ella Montelongo), Officer Dyke Sneed, the Orsillo's, Driver and Hope Pheasant, Bruce "Cricket" Martin, Jr., and the Cherokee One Feather. Carolyne's only son, David H. Reynolds, Jr. also wants to thank Baptist and Victoria Hospitals of Miami, Florida where his mother dedicated her life to both hospitals by serving as the head nurse. Mother is now in Heaven with her loving companion, former neurosurgeon, Dr. David H. Reynolds, Sr. The Reynolds suggest donations be made to the Leukemia/Lymphoma Society.

Farewell to Susan Jenkins

Community members and other well wishers honored Susan Jenkins, Cherokee Preservation Foundation's first executive director, for ten years of service to the EBCI and the surrounding region at a reception at the Foundation on Friday, Dec. 7. Jenkins was instrumental in developing the Foundation's infrastructure, creating a grantmaking program, developing the Foundation's strategic focus, establishing nine major initiatives and programs around the Foundation's areas of focus (cultural preservation, economic development and environmental preservation), building partnerships within the community, and building the capabilities of the Foundation's staff. Annette Saunooke Clapsaddle will become the Foundation's new executive director on Jan. 2, 2013.

The MedCat (Medical Careers in Technology) program, a joint effort of Western Carolina University, Wake Forest University Medical School, and the Center for Native Health, Inc., hosted almost thirty students from Cherokee, Swain, Robbinsville, Andrews, Murphy, and Smoky Mountain high schools. These students, along with their health occupations teachers, visited WCU's new College of Health and Human Sciences building in Cullowhee recently.

They were welcomed by the Director of Nursing, Dr. Judy Neubrander, WCU Cherokee Center Director, Roseanna Belt, and the Center for Native Health Executive Director, Dr. Lisa Lefler. Assistant Professor of Nursing Dr. Alex Sargsysan, helped organize this event and spoke to the students about careers in nursing. He provided enthusiasm and an opportunity for student discussion.

Students then were escorted to the new nursing simulation labs where instructor Cathy Caton and Dr. Patricia Gilliam showed the students how nursing is using the latest in technology to teach.

Afterward, students were taken to the Health Sciences laboratory where Dr. Brian Byrd showed students samples of a variety of specimens that are public health concerns worldwide and regionally. Dr Byrd, an expert in LaCrosse Encephilitis spoke to students about the etiology of disease and how they can help people by understanding more about disease causality and insects that carry diseases. The last presentation came from Dr. Jeanne Dulworth, from WCU's Department of Social Work. Dr. Dulworth spoke to students about the careers and opportunities available for social work majors and how they play an important part in providing health care

MESSAGE FROM TOMMY LAMBERT, GENERAL MANAGER

Well...it's that time of year again when everyone is running around with their Christmas list in one hand and their credit card in the other hand. The Christmas season has become so commercialized that it now starts on Thanksgiving Day and goes all the way up to Christmas Eve. We all get caught up in the commercialization trying to find the perfect tree, decorations, wrapping paper, gifts, etc. It is exciting to see that beautifully wrapped package under that perfectly decorated tree and trying to figure out what it might be. But, do the best gifts in life come in that beautiful package under the Christmas tree?

I think the greatest gifts come to us in very simple ways and not in elegantly wrapped presents under a tree. This Christmas season let us appreciate and be excited for the beautiful gifts that we receive every day that are not wrapped in a package and placed under the Christmas tree. We should all be excited about our gifts of family, friends, jobs, our schools and churches and the list could go on and on. We should spend some time this Christmas enjoying the beautiful gifts that we all have and not worry about what we are going to give and receive for Christmas.

A great gift to me would be to spend some evenings with my family and friends listening to some Christmas music and having food, fellowship, laughter, love and happiness. A few evenings spent with family or friends would be a beautiful gift that is not in an elegant package under the Christmas tree, but a gift that will last a lifetime and only cost you a few hours of your time. We should all try to give this simple gift of time to the people that we love and care about.

During this Christmas Season let us not forget about the most beautiful and elegant gift of all. It was not an expensive gift wrapped and placed under our Christmas tree. It was a baby wrapped in swaddling clothes and laid in a manger. This baby is the greatest gift all, so let us all remember this Christmas Season that it is the birthday of our Lord and Savior Jesus.

VOC selling Angelic Notes

Angelic Notes are real $1 bills with an angel sticker placed over the presidential face. The bills are then placed in a tri fold card with artwork specifically designed for these new cards in 2012. Each Angelic Notes sell for $2.50 each (but remember you are getting $1 back).

All proceeds benefit the client activities program at VOC. The client activities program provides social and communities inclusion opportunities for individuals with developmental disabilities. The program also helps individuals develop and maintain independent living skills while sometimes providing basic daily needs such as food and clothing. If you want to spend the $1 bill, all you have to do is peel the angel sticker off. Get these adorable collector's items while they last. Info: Lana 497-9827, email lanalambert@ymail.com or contact on her facebook.

Here's a few examples of how Angelic Notes have been used:

- inside holiday cards
- gifts for teachers
- tokens of appreciation to medical staff
- for church staff and members
- as part of tips for your wait staff in restaurants
- gifts for coworkers
- secret santa presents
- stocking stuffers
- great as part of tips for your hair stylist, manicurists, etc
- surprises for the your mail person or paper delivery person
- tokens of appreciation to others who provide services to you/your family
- used in place of nametags on holiday gifts
- holiday party host/hostess gifts
- keepsakes for children, grandchildren, nieces, nephew, etc.

Cherokee Community Health launches campaign to increase HIV/AIDS Awareness on Reservation

Nearly 3 out of 4 Americans living with HIV do not have their infection under control (source: CDC- Vital sign report)

Cherokee Community Health staff lead a walk and release balloons on WORLD AIDS DAY, in order to help bring awareness to the nearly 1.2 million people living with the disease.

Human Immuno Virus (HIV) is a manageable condition. By bringing people with HIV into treatment, you can help stop the viruses transmission.

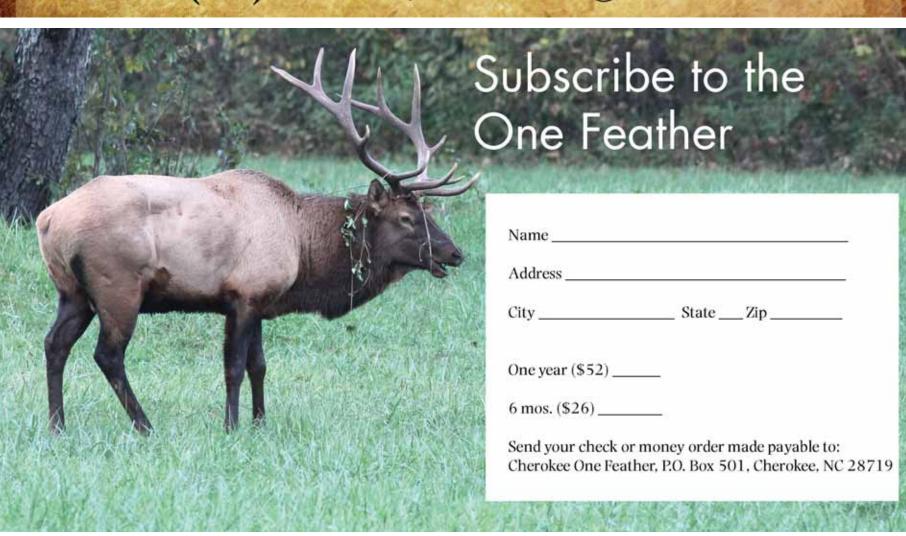

Please help CHEROKEE COMMUNITY HEALTH bring more people to treatment by increasing awareness and testing on the reservation.

A reward of incredibly low prices is being offered.
