ribal Council tabled a resolution during their regular monthly session on Thursday, Dec. 11 that would limit fishing guides to only those who are EBCI tribal members. The resolution, submitted by EBCI tribal member Tom Saunooke, was tabled and referred to the Timber and Natural Resources Committee.

"As much as I would like to say that only tribal members can guide in our rivers, I can't say that," said Big Cove Rep. Teresa McCoy. "I think that what you're attempting to do is a form of discrimination."

She likened it to tribal members not being allowed to perform guide services on the Nantahala River. "You have every legal right to guide in those rivers just like they do. It would be wrong for us to discriminate against people here."

Yellowhill Rep. David Wolfe, who made the motion to table, related, "I think this needs some work to be codified." He made the recommendation to send it to the Timber and Natural Resources Committee so that it can become a part of the fishing and hunting guidelines if passed.

Yellowhill Rep. B. Ensley commented, "I think this issue deserves some discussion in the Timber Committee. I'm curious as to how many guide services we have on the reservation and what sort of levy they generate."

Saunooke's legislation reads in part, "Often tribal members complain of trash and debris on the banks and waters of the Tribal Enterprise Fishing Waters, and many tribal members find this to be disrespectful to our Tribal believe that our waters are sacred...some non-Indian fishermen and fishing guides are not aware that many members of the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians consider our waters sacred and leaving trash and debris on our river banks and waters is disrespectful and takes away from the beauty and sanctity of our environment."

WCU, Tribe research project focuses on diabetes, mental health issues

ULLOWHEE – A research project that involves Western Carolina University's College of Health and Human Sciences and the Eastern Band of the Cherokee Indians is examining the relationship between mental health issues, such as depression, and the management and control of diabetes.

The multiyear project funded by a $268,700 federal grant is engaging the college's social work department, the Cherokee Indian Hospital and several public health and medical organizations in Cherokee in collaborative research that could lead to improved diabetes outcomes for older tribal members, who are the focus of the study.

The project won funding support from the United South and Eastern Tribes' Native American Research Centers for Health, a partnership between the Indian Health Service and the National Institutes of Health. NARC supports research programs involving universities and American Indian and Alaska Native tribes related to health concerns in tribal communities.

The research in Cherokee is being led by Turner Goins, a nationally known specialist in American Indian aging issues who joined the WCU faculty in 2013 as the Ambassador Jeanette Hyde Distinguished Professor of Gerontological Social Work. A gerontologist with a background in public health, Goins has worked with tribal communities throughout the U.S. for more than 15 years and has a longstanding relationship with the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians.

Her current research is an outgrowth of the Native Elder Care Study that she conducted from 2005 until 2011. The project involved a cross-sectional study of 505 tribal members of the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians who were aged 55 years or older. The data obtained in that study will be used for this new one, Goins said.

"The work we're doing now builds on the earlier study, with a focus on mental health and diabetes, which is an issue that tribal leaders have shared as a prevailing concern," she said.

The goal of the research is to provide a better understanding of how mental health issues, including depression, anxiety and other conditions, affect diabetes outcomes. An important focus of the study will be to include an examination of the role of social support. Ultimately, the research could have a positive impact in the development of support systems for tribal elders who have the disease, Goins said.

Bomb threat prompts evacuation, change of venue at WCU commencement

ULLOWHEE – A bomb threat was received by the Jackson County 911 office shortly before the beginning of Western Carolina University's fall commencement ceremony, scheduled to be held in the Ramsey Regional Activity Center on Saturday, Dec. 13, prompting university officials to move the event outdoors.

WCU police evacuated the Ramsey Center at approximately 1 p.m., just as the ceremony was about to begin. Approximately 7,000 people, including about 600 graduation ceremony participants, were evacuated.

The WCU Police Department and Jackson County Sheriff's Office are coordinating an investigation into the incident.

The commencement ceremony began in its new venue in E.J. Whitmire Stadium at about 2:30 p.m., about 90 minutes after its scheduled start time.

he Lady Braves (2-0) were impressive in their first home game which ended in a 76-27 rout of the Andrews Lady Wildcats on Tuesday, Dec. 9. Kendall Toineeta, senior point guard, led Cherokee and nearly outscored the entire Andrews team with 26 points.

Although the game ended very one-sided, it started quite slowly. Neither team scored in the first few minutes until Toineeta broke the ice with a basket at the 5:40 mark in the first.

"I guess that's what we're going to do this year – start slowly," joked Chris Mintz, Lady Braves head coach, after the game. "I told them at halftime how displeased I was with their play in the first half, and in the second half they played really, really well so we just have to keep working to get better."

Coach Mintz is pleased with their play, but said they will continue to improve. "We need to handle the ball better. Sometimes we pass it around like it's a hot potato. We just need to take better care of the ball and we'll be ok."

Following their slow start, Cherokee came on a little and had a 13-5 lead in the waning second of the first quarter when Macie Welch, freshman point guard, hit a three-point shot at the buzzer to make it 16-5 at the end of the quarter. Welch finished with 8 points on the night. The Lady Braves outscored Andrews 22-12 in the second quarter and lightning struck twice as Welch hit a three-point shot with two seconds left in the half to give Cherokee a 38-17 lead going into the locker room.

Coach Mintz's locker room pep talk obviously worked as Cherokee came out on fire in the third quarter and blitzed the Lady Wildcats 27-10 to take a 66-27 lead into the final quarter. Due to the large lead, Cherokee was able to get some nice bench play in this game and the starters sat for most of the fourth quarter.

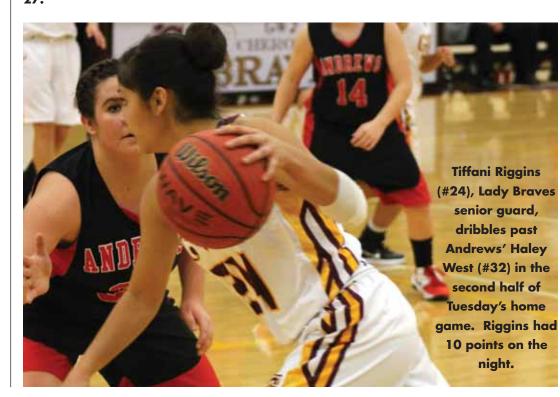

Cherokee blanked Andrews 11-0 in the fourth to take the 76-27 victory.

Other Lady Braves scorers included: Macie Welch 8, LeLe Lossiah 9, Kaycee Lossiah 2, Bree Stamper 9, Shelby Wolfe 1, Ragan Barnard 7, Sarai McMillan 2, Tiffani Riggins 10 and Timiyah Brown 2.

Andrews scorers included: Jacqueline West 6, Carleigh Davis 6, Morgan Mashburn 4, Haley West 6 and Tiffany Holloway 5.

herokee (2-0) came close to doubling the scoring output of their opponent during their first home game of the season on Tuesday, Dec. 9. The Braves outperformed Andrews 74-39 in front of an enthusiastic home crowd.

"The first half we played really well," said Willis Tullos, Braves head coach, "and the second half we got pretty sloppy, but that's the way these games go sometimes. I was pleased with the effort. My kids play hard. We've got to get a lot better, and we will."

Coach Tullos said there are certain things they are going to focus on improving as the season progresses. "We've got to make free throws, and we've got to shoot the ball a little bit better. As far as the effort, they gave a good effort."

Cherokee started out well in this game taking an early 9-2 lead. Midway through the first, they extended their lead to 17-0 and lead 27-11 after the end of one.

The Braves kept the pressure up on both sides of the ball playing a full court press in many cases and took a 53-17 lead into Cherokee was able to get some bench play in this game due its large lead throughout. The Braves lead 72-30 at the end of the third quarter, and the clock was run continuously through the fourth quarter due to the large lead. With the clock running, play slowed somewhat in the fourth quarter, and the Braves ended up with a large 74-39 victory. Individual stats were not provided on this game by press time.

Lady Braves outmatch AC Reynolds, win big 52-31

SHEVILLE - The Cherokee Lady Braves traveled to Asheville on Thursday, Dec. 11 for a non-conference showdown against the 3-A AC Reynolds Lady Rockets. The Lady Braves outmatched a physical and disciplined Reynolds team with another stout defensive performance, snaring a 52-31 victory.

"I thought we hustled like crazy," said Chris Mintz, Lady Braves head coach. "That kept us in the game early when we weren't shooting the ball well. We were getting some turnovers and making it a game that we wanted. They had the definite size advantage. They are a really physical team, and it was a very physical game."

To begin the game, the Lady Rockets had a hard time finding a handle on the ball as the stingy Cherokee defense ran a fullcourt press, effectively keeping the ball on Cherokee's side of the court for the majority of the first quarter and keeping Reynolds off the scoreboard until the 1:43 mark. Cherokee would take a 14-6 lead to the bench at the end of the first quarter.

Reynolds would come out strong in the second quarter, closing the gap to 23-17 in favor of the Lady Braves going into halftime. However, it was a defensive battle in the third quarter when both squads starting turning up the heat defensively as a full-court press was utilized by both teams making the third quarter of play a low scoring affair.

The physicality of the Lady Rockets defense began to peak in the fourth quarter, but the relatively young Lady Braves remained unfazed and outscored Reynolds 19-6 to pull away for another victory.

After the game, Coach Mintz commented, "It was really physical. It wasn't our best shooting performance but we battled through it. We made some big plays when we needed to and ran it out at the end. It was a good team (we played). "

"We are definitely going to work on our ball handling. I knew it was going to be different because they play at a different speed than what we had seen in the first two games, but I think we adjusted well."

Kendall Toineeta led the scoring category for the Braves with 26 points, followed by fellow senior Tiffani Riggins with 9. Other Cherokee scorers in-Cherokee (3-0) handled their first major test of the season with relative ease on Thursday, Dec. 11 when the Dustin Johnson-led Braves grounded the AC Reynolds Rockets 78-56 at an away game in Asheville. Johnson scored a gamehigh 28 points, followed by Brandt Sutton with 18.

"They all did a great job," said Willis Tullos, Braves head coach.
"Dustin Johnson on offense, J.J. (Benjamin) on the boards on defense, Jason McMillan played great on defense. Kennan Panther got some big rebounds and big baskets. Brandt Sutton made some big baskets in the second half, every one of them that started had an all-around good performance" defense tightened up and befuddled the Rockets ball handlers. The Braves took a 30-14 lead to the bench after the first quarter. The game slowed down in the third quarter when the Braves froze the ball. However, action picked up late in the fourth quarter when Reynolds made a comeback attempt that fell short to the stifling Braves defense.

The Rockets were heading into Thursday's night matchup with only a single mark in the loss column which came at the hands of the Patton Panthers from Morganton on Wednesday night. Prior to the Wednesday night 80-74 loss, the Rockets had beaten all other teams by 22 points or more, averaging 72.4 points per game.

"It's the most points we've given up all year," said Coach Tullos. "We expected them to be physical and rebound well, but I felt our kids hung in there real well with them. They gave a great effort, played really hard on defense and the first half was probably the best I've ever had a team play."

The stacked Rockets bench was led by Jaquann Lockhart, a WNC scoring leader, with 18 points. Other scorers included: Weston Hurd 9, Josh Jones he Lady Braves (4-0) remained unbeaten as they took it to the Highlands Lady Highlanders at home on Friday, Dec. 12. Kendall Toineeta, Cherokee senior point guard, led the way with 23 points and seven steals as the Lady Braves won 74-30. LeLe Lossiah and Brionna Jumper both added 13 points as the Lady Braves rolled.

Friday's victory capped a busy, three-game week for Cherokee.

"I thought playing back-to-back games, we might come out flat, but we came out with some nice intensity and we did what we needed to do to win the game," said Chris Mintz, Lady Braves head coach. "We've got some things to work on, but it's just nice to get back into the gym and be playing again."

The Lady Braves definitely came out with intensity, especially in the first half. They jumped out to a quick 9-2 lead extending it to a 16-2 lead with 2:38 left in the first quarter. They would lead 16-6 after the first and would keep the pressure on further extending it in the second quarter to 30-11 with three minutes left before the half.

It was a fast first half with hardly any fouls. Actually, the Lady Braves didn't shoot one free throw in the first half. They led 39-11 at halftime.

Cherokee kept it up in the third quarter and lead 52-25 going in to the final quarter. Out of the gates in the fourth, they scored 15 unanswered points to lead 67-25. They would score a few more in the waning minutes of the game to take the 75-30 win.

Other Lady Braves scorers included: Macie Welch 4, Bree Stamper 4, Shelby Wolfe 4, Reagan Barnard 3, Tiffani Riggen 4 and Timiyah Brown 6.

Highlands scorers included: April Moss 7, Kirstyn Lamb 9, Annmarie Crowe 2, Madison Lloyd 10 and Courtney Henry 2.

he Braves (4-0) finished a busy week of basketball undefeated and in style with a big 78-49 win over the Highlands Highlanders at home on Friday, Dec. 12.

"We were tired, that game last night was tough. We had to play our top eight players most of the ball game," Willis Tullos, Braves head coach commented after the game referring to their game at A.C. Reynolds the night before. "I knew their legs were going to be weary, but overall I thought they sucked it up and did a good

Due to the tough game the night before, Cherokee relied heavily on their bench in the Highlands game and Coach Tullos praised their play. "They did good. They played really well. Our subs went out and played the way you play in practice."

Despite their tired legs, Cherokee came out on fire in this game and scored seven points in the first minute taking a7-0 lead before the Highlands coach called a time out to slow things down.

It didn't work as the Braves kept the intensity and pulled to a 17-2 lead at the 4:31 mark in the first guarter and lead 25-11 at the end of the quarter.

The second quarter was much the same as the Braves extended their lead to 49-18 at the half. Coming out of the locker room for the third quarter, both teams slowed some and both teams collectively only scored 10 points in the first four minutes of the quarter. But, it picked up and Cherokee was able to get lots of bench play and lead 65-31 at the end of the third.

Highlands actually outscored Cherokee in the fourth, but it was much too late as the Braves took the big win.

Individual stats were not provided for this game by press time.

CHRISTMAS LIGHTS...

A bright idea: LED holiday lighting

Most folks have hung their lights or are in the process of finishing up their holiday decorations. Duke energy has a cool website that will show you how much energy you are using for those lights. This website is based on the popular types of lights used. Below are a few stats on LED Christmas lights.

- LEDs use more than 75 percent less energy than incandescent bulbs, saving you both energy and money.
- Safer for your home and family. These bulbs are cool to the touch and reduce the risk of burns and fire when used appropriately.
- Savings that last for years. LEDs shine brightly for 10 years longer than regular bulbs - that's a decade worth of holiday savings!

Cherokee Cancer Support Group says thanks

he Cherokee Cancer Support Group would like to give their heartfelt thanks to everyone who helped to support the group through the purchase of tickets for our raffle held last week. Because of this fundraiser and the many gifts that have been given to the group by individuals and other organizations throughout 2014, we have been able to assist over 120 people this last year. A special thanks to our anonymous friend who recently gave the group a private donation. Through the support CCSG receives, it is able to assist community members with travel costs to appointments and treatments, as well as nutritional supplements, medical equipment and personal support. With God's help, we will continue to work to support our loved ones and their families in their fights against this disease. May God bless you all now and in the coming year. Sgi!

WCU honors fall, summer graduates in relocated commencement

ULLOWHEE – Western Carolina University honored its fall and summer graduates during a Saturday (Dec. 13) commencement ceremony that went on as planned after a bomb threat necessitated the relocation of the event from Ramsey Regional Activity Center to E.J. Whitmire Stadium.

WCU's fall class includes about 800 students who recently have been completing academic requirements to receive their degrees, and approximately 530 of those students took part in WCU's commencement. Another group of about 100 graduates who completed degree requirements during summer school and who already have been conferred degrees also joined in the cer-

Commencement activities included an address delivered by graduating student Jill Haley West White, a resident of Andrews and secondary English education major at WCU. White related that her speech was inspired by Maya Angelou's book "I Know Why the Caged Bird Sings," and she spoke to the graduating students and new alumni about the late writer's life and what Angelou wrote about courage.

White said she has not always demonstrated courage in her life.

"Some of you may be able to relate," she said. "It is easy to stand in the back corners of life and dream second-rate dreams – the kind that are safety nets, easier to achieve than the true dreams in our hearts. Honestly, none of that changed for me until I moved to Cullowhee and became a student at WCU. I'm guessing Western has made quite an impact on your lives, too."

In her writing, Angelou indicated that an individual must have courage first to be able to consistently practice the virtues of kindness, mercy, generosity and honesty, White

To My Baby Girl,

Growing old can be dangerous. The trail is treacherous. And pitfalls are many. One is wise to be prepared. You know it is coming. If growing old catches you by surprise, don't blame God. He gave you plenty of warning. He also gave you plenty of advice, you last chapters can be your best...It could be that all of your life has prepared you for a grand exit. God's oldest have always been among his choicest.

said. "It took all of those values to bring us to this point today, and anything worth doing in life will require them of us from this day forward," she said. "Because challenge is one of the inevitable things in life, I ask this of you. The next time you are faced with an obstacle, have courage. It will help you achieve goals you might have been scared to dream before you came to Western Carolina University. "Whatever you accomplish after we turn our tassels today, I hope it is something to write home about – and by 'home,' I mean Cullowhee."

White graduated from Andrews High School in 2010 and began her studies at WCU that fall.

At the conclusion of her speech, White was recognized for achieving the distinction of "University Scholar," a student who has completed undergraduate studies at WCU with perfect 4.0 grade-point average.

Activities during the ceremony included special recognition for graduating student Taylor Madison Boyd of Waynesville, who is the great-great granddaughter of WCU's founder and first president, Robert Lee Madison. Coincidentally, WCU has been celebrating the 125th anniversary of its founding this year.

Recognition also was given to all those wearing caps and gowns who are active duty members of the military, veterans, or members of the National Guard and Reserves. Those students were distinguished by red, white and blue honor cords.

Also honored during the ceremony was Robert Edwards, WCU's retiring vice chancellor for administration and finance. Edwards graduated from WCU in 1977 with a bachelor's degree in business administration and is completing a 37-year career at the university. WCU Chancellor David O. Belcher noted Edwards' long record of service and dedication to the university, calling him a "paramount Catamount."

Belcher presided over commencement and delivered the charge to the fall semester degree candidates and summer graduates. In his charge, Belcher told the graduating students and new alumni that regardless of whether they have their futures mapped out, or they are uncertain what is coming next, they have the minds and skills to chart their own courses in life.

"As you look toward your future, I charge you to hold tight to your grounding at Western Carolina University and the values for which this institution stands, to remain firm in your commitment to excellence and high standards, and to continue learning, whether in formal settings or on your own," Belcher said.

"As you pursue your careers and making money — as you do well — remember to do good," he said.
"You are a part of Western Carolina University, and Western Carolina University is a part of you," Belcher said. "Remember your grounding here in this remarkable slice of heaven we call Cullowhee."

A complete list of WCU's new graduates will be announced following the posting of grades from final examinations.

Please recycle your boxes this Christmas season

SCOTT MCKIE B.P.

ONE FEATHER STAFF

Bill Nye "The Science Guy" once said, "If you want grown-ups to recycle, just tell their kids the importance of recycling and they'll be all over it."

I agree, and this time of year kids can be especially important in the recycling process.

According to dosomething.org, "Over 75 percent of waste is recyclable, but we only recycle about 30 percent of it."

The one thing we don't want to see on Dec. 26 is a slew of cardboard boxes next to trash cans. We want to see them in recycling containers here in Cherokee.

One person or one family really won't make that much of a difference, but if everyone on the reservation recycles their cardboard boxes this Christmas season, the impact can be impressive.

"Recycling one ton of cardboard saves 390 kWh of energy, 1.1 barrels (46 gallons) of oil and 6.6 million Btus' of energy," according to the Waste Management website. "Recycling one ton of cardboard saves over nine cubic yards of landfill space."

Recycling of paper and paperboard products is improving in the United States though. According to the EPA, there was 68,620,000 million tons of paper and paperboard waste generated in 2012. A total of 44,360,000 million tons (64.6 percent) of that was recovered as opposed to the 54.5 percent which was recovered in 2007.

Here is a list of recycling locations, provided by the EBCI Recycling Program, in Cherokee where you can recycle your cardboard boxes this season:

1st Annual Bike Giveaway. Drawing to be held Dec. 19.

Wise Guys Pizza and the Cherokee Youth Center/Teen Club is hosting the drawing. Dine at Wise Guys for a chance to win a boys and girls bicycle for Christmas. One entry per child, per visit.

Park Holiday Homecoming.

Dec. 20 from 10am – 12pm at the Oconaluftee Visitor Center. The visitor center will be decorated for the holiday season including an exhibit on Christmas in the mountains.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Your most important New Year's resolution should be to work out problems with a family member in order to avoid continuing misunderstandings. Do it soon, for both of your sakes.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) The New Year has much to offer the intensely determined Scorpian, who isn't afraid to take on challenges and stay with them until they surrender their rewards.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) You'll have many fine opportunities in this New Year. But be warned: Reject offers of "help." You work best when you're free to be your own creative self.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) The New Year offers changes that you might feel you're not quite ready for. Best advice: Deal with them one step at a time, until you've built up your self-confidence.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Travel is a dominant aspect of the New Year. This could mean relocating to another city (or even another country) in connection with your education or your career.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) This New Year brings news about a change you've been anticipating. You might have a problem persuading a loved one about your new plans, but he or she will soon go along with them.

BORN THIS WEEK: You have a gift for making people feel safe and protected. You would make an excellent youth counselor.

A gift idea for someone who cooks and gardens is a kitchen composter. The key to keeping a tabletop compost bin from smelling is keeping "green" nitrogen-rich ingredients (like green leaves, fruits, veggies without seeds, eggshells, grass Kitchen composters clippings and houseplants) alternated with "brown" carbon-loaded ingredients (such as straw, brown leaves, coffee grounds, cotton rags, dryer lint, tea bags and nut shells).

ESCH HICH SCHOOL SENIORS

EBCI High School Seniors who are planning to attend college in the 2015-2016 school year are required to attend 3 mandatory "Step Ahead" training sessions presented by the EBCI Higher Education Department staff in order to qualify for funding from the Tribe.

ALL STUDENTS MUST BE ACCOMPANIED BY A PARENT OR GUARDIAN

For those students who missed our first round of meetings, make-up meetings are scheduled as follows:

Friday, Jan. 2 from 5-7 pm

(Community room next to Life Center @ Ginger Lynn Welch Complex)

Saturday, Jan. 3 from 10-12pm or 1-3pm

(Community room next to Life Center @ Ginger Lynn Welch Complex)

There is a meet and greet training session that will answer simple questions and go over the basics of the 3 "Step Ahead" meetings. We will discuss Tribal Education Processes and Guidelines, FAFSA Assistance, Cost of College Attendance Review, and the College Orientation Process.

Please call the receptionist at 554-6650 to schedule an appointment

(You need to attend 1 of the above meetings.)

Future training sessions will be announced in The Cherokee One Feather

The Cherokee Cancer Support Group is available to assist any individual coping with cancer whether as a patient or as a caregiver.
