Social Worker reinstated despite pending charges

By SCOTT MCKIE B.P.
ONE FEATHER STAFF

A Swain County DSS social worker facing several grand jury indictments has been reinstated after a four-month investigative status leave.

Candice Lassister, who was indicted in February on charges relating to an alleged cover-up of the incidents leading up to the tragic death in 2011 of EBCI tribal member Aubrey Littlejohn, is back on the job according to a press release from the Swain County DSS dated Tuesday, June 26.

"We have determined that there is no credible evidence available to us at this time which indicated Ms. Lassister falsified or directed the falsification of any reports, or that she attempted to mislead the Swain County Sheriff's Department of State Bureau of Investigation (SBI) in any way," Robert White, Swain County Social Service Board chairman, said in a statement. "To date, the SBI and Swain County District Attorney have not provided to us any evidence to justify continuing Ms. Lassister on administrative leave."

He went on to say that their office is required to reinstate Lassister according to Section 7 of the North Carolina State Personnel Handbook.

Lassister was indicted in February by a grand jury and charged with three counts of Obstruction of Justice and three counts of Forgery. She was also named in a civil suit filed on Wednesday, June 6 by a personal representative of the estate of Aubrey Littlejohn.

According to the civil complaint, it was filed "for the wrongful death of Aubrey Kina-Marie Littlejohn, based on the acts and omissions, negligence, gross negligence, and systematic conduct of the Swain County Department of Social Services, by and through its employees and agents, the independent negligence of SCDSS, and the individual acts and omissions of some of the individual defendants."

White related in his statement, "She has never been charged with abuse of a child or with the death of a child. She is the mother of an eight-month-old son. We are aware there is a civil action filed against Ms. Lassister. Please note that a civil action is not a criminal indictment."

Littlejohn was pronounced dead on Jan. 10, 2011 at the Cherokee Indian Hospital. The autopsy findings, released in May 2011, states the cause of death as "Undetermined Sudden Death".

It is important to remember that a person charged with a crime is presumed innocent until proven guilty in a court of law.

BabyFace still has open enrollment for the 2010 Comparison Group. They need at least 30 more families to sign up.

2010 Requirements and benefits:

- * Must have an enrolled baby born in 2010
- * Only meet with a Parent Educator once a year
- * Child is enrolled in the Dolly Parton Imagination Library
- * Receive a $25.00 Wal-Mart gift card each year.

Cherokee Life to host youth track meet at old high school

If you like to run, jump or throw, you're definitely going to find an event or a few events to get excited about. The Cherokee Life Center, in collaboration with Healthy Cherokee, is hosting Cherokee's 1st Annual Youth Track Meet on Friday, July 20 at 9am at the Acquoni Expo Center (old high school track). Registration is free and registration forms must be turned in by Wednesday, July 18 by 5pm. Registration forms may be picked up and turned in at the Cherokee Life Center.

As you are deciding your event it is important to remember to choose an event you really enjoy to do. It does not matter if you're faster then a bolt of lightning right now. If you're serious about training for you event(s) you'll eventually get some spark in your step.

Track meets only work if you work hard yourself. So, if you're thinking about competing one option is to come to the Life Center and train with a the CLC staff member to help improve your running technique, train for the event you would like to compete, and get in shape while having fun. Trainings will be offered everyday at various times, just call or drop by to see what time will work best for you.. Parents please call, email or speak with fitness assistant about your child so we can coordinate before hand what specific running event your child will be running. Another option is train at home with your brothers and sisters, your parents, friends or cousins. Perhaps you and three of your friends can run a relay together. Pick up a sheet of training tips from CLC if you would rather practice at home.

Are you ready to get off the starting line? It's easy to register and choose your event or events. What events can you compete in? Well, depends on your age. Grab your parent and pick no more then three events you would like to complete in, turn it back in and start training!

Tribe to host 8th Annual Festival of Native Peoples

Visitors to Cherokee can witness the arresting and powerful, authentic culture of Comanche, Totonac, Polynesians, Cree, Seminole and Cherokee through ancient wisdoms, song, dance, legend, arts and regalia as indigenous tribes gather for the 8th Annual Festival of Native Peoples July 13-14 at the Cherokee Indian Fair Grounds. Considered the finest showcase of native dance, song and art in the southeast, the event honors the collective history, customs and wisdom of some of the oldest documented tribes from across the Americas, including the 11,000-year-old Cherokee civilization which hosts the weekend's revelry.
"An array of entertainment as diverse as the tribes that provide it ensures visitors to Cherokee will be impressed," said Robert Jumper, tourism manager for the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians. "The tribes are so different, and when we come together to celebrate our collective native heritage, we gain a better understanding of our own history and customs. It's vital that we continue to learn from our Elders and pass down to the younger generations our living history and culture. Festival of Native Peoples helps us and visiting tribes do just that."

Among the dancing, singing, prayers and art exhibited, past festival highlights have included the ever popular Totonac pole flyers of Mexico who thrilled audiences as they fly from a ninety-foot pole in a spectacle of swirling color in honor of the sun and the Totonac calendar. Four-time dance champion Tony Duncan of the Apache Arikara has performed the Hoop Dance, and additional performers have included Tezcatlipoca Aztec Dancers from Mexico City, The Pollen Trail Navajo Dancers, the Yurapik Dance Group of Alaska, the Laguna Youth Group from the Laguna Pueblo, the White Mountain Apache Crown Dancers of Arizona, as well as the Crow and Cherokee's Warriors of AniKituhwa and the Raven Rock Dancers.
Gates open Friday and Saturday at 11 a.m. with performances throughout the day and into the evening. Daily admission is $10 per person; children six and under free. Info: 800-438-1601 or visit www.visitcherokeenc.com.

Cherokee Indian Hospital spotlight: Radiology Department

The mission of the Radiology Department at Cherokee Indian Hospital is to promote the health and well being of the individual, family, and community by providing the highest quality of imaging services. They perform diagnostic radiography, fluoroscopy, ultrasound, Computerized Tomography (CT), DEXA Scan (bone density), and Mammography services. In the past 6 years the Radiology Department has switched to digital radiography, installed CT, digital fluoroscopy, upgraded PACS, installed digital mammography and installed DEXA.

Since the installation of digital mammography, rates have increased 12%. The mammogram can be performed in less time making it much faster for patients to be completed. With the new digital mammography unit a Computer-aided diagnosis (CAD) looks at the images and detects anything that it feels is abnormal. The radiologist then reads the images and looks at the any areas that the CAD has marked. This increase in mammograms rates and improved diagnosis enables the staff to have a greater impact on the community's health.

Several Radiology staff members have worked for the hospital for more than 10 years and have witnessed the growth of the department and rapid advances in imaging technology. These technologists work with some of the most innovative equipment in the medical field to help identify pathologies, plan and administer treatment and restore patient health. Sorrells, Registered Technologist, Radiology; Kim Middleton, Registered, Technologist, Radiology, Computerize Tomography; and Kim Argo, Registered Technologist, Radiology.

This staff provides 24 hour service 7 days a week.

"Our community is fortunate to have such experienced and dedicated technologists," said Casey Cooper, CEO of Cherokee Indian Hospital.

New challenges for the staff in 2012 include the purchase and installation of a Magnetic Resonance Imaging (MRI) and install new radiology unit.

Heat is tough on the vegetable garden

Extremely high temperatures cause problems for vegetables in the garden. High temperatures kill pollen and cause flowers to form improperly. Sunscald and dryness reduce the eating quality of vegetables. Cucumber flowers, though more heat tolerant than tomatoes, produce bitter tasting fruit after hot dry weather.

Day temperatures over 90 degrees F. and night temperatures over 70 degrees F. reduce fruit set in tomatoes. Beans and tomatoes may completely drop their flowers in extreme heat. As temperatures increase, squash produce more male flowers than female flowers reducing fruit set.

Other tomato problems related to heat include sunscald and yellow shoulders. Sunscald occurs when fruits are exposed to direct sunlight. Severe sunscald progresses from a pale area of leathery dead tissue to sunken, tan or white tissue. Sunscald and yellow shoulders are most common in mid-summer when the sunlight is most intense and when temperatures exceed 85 degrees F. Fruit that is sun scalded is edible, but not if the scalded area has turned black from a secondary fungus it should be discarded. Yellow Shoulders is a type of sunscald that results when lycopene, the red color in tomatoes, fails to develop leaving only the carotene, or yellow color.

Another result from high temperatures is internal white tissue in tomatoes. The white tissue is only noticeable when the fruit is cut. High temperatures during the ripening period trigger its formation. Some varieties are more resistant to the problem than others, especially the very dark red varieties.

Blossom end rot of tomatoes, cucumbers and squash is common in summer when we have long periods of dryness. It occurs with the soil is too dry for the plants to uptake calcium. Water when the rain is insufficient to moisten the soil at the root depth.

During hot weather, make sure the garden soil is watered to 6-8 inches deep. To check, poke a long-handled screwdriver into the soil a few inches away from a plant so you can watch to see when the water has reached that depth. With experience, you will know how long it takes to water your soil down to 6-8 inches.

Hot weather is tough on vegetables, so be on the look-out for these hot weather troubles. Rest assured, however, that once the temperatures cool down these problems will disappear.

Healthy Summer Cook-out Cooking Demo held

The Cherokee Community Wellness Team (CCWT) led a Healthy Summer Cook-out Cooking Demo at Cherokee Food Lion on Monday, June 11. Shoppers enjoyed veggie burgers, a grilled peach salad, and a refreshing drink mix of berry sparkling water (no carbs, no calories, or artificial sweeteners) mixed with 100 percent tropical juice blend.

Participants received a free recipe packet, health information, and had a chance to win a one of two free fruit baskets donated by Cherokee Food Lion. Cherokee Fire and Rescue provided information on fire safety when grilling and gave kids a tour of the fire truck and their very own fire hat.

Each month, the CCWT leads a cooking demo sponsored by Cherokee Food Lion to promote healthy living by introducing community members to healthy foods, recipes, and health information. The CCWT is comprised of community members and health representatives working to make Cherokee a healthier place to live, work, and play. Their vision is Duyukdv, the true way, being true to self, family, community & tribe through spiritual, cultural, mental, and physical wellbeing for all generations.

At the Healthy Cookout Cooking Demo members, Robin Callahan, RD, LDN, MHS, and Joan Parks, PA, talked to community members about tips to cook out healthy. One way to help prevent cancer is to avoid overcooking meats on the grill, this results in the formation of cancer-causing compounds called heterocyclic amines (HCAs) and polycyclic aromatic hydrocarbons (PAHs). Tips include:

- Add color (but not red meat). By cutting back on red meat and grilling a wider variety of colorful fruits and vegetables, people will increase their intake of phytochemicals. These naturally occurring compounds found in plants offer protection against cancer,
- Mix it up. Opt for chicken or fish instead of hamburgers or hotdogs.
- Marinate. Marinating meat reduces the formation of HCAs, Marinating meats in seasoned vinegar or lemon juice for even just 30 minutes can be beneficial, she noted.

- Pre-cook (partially). Pre-cooking meat will reduce the amount of time it spends exposed to high heat on the grill and reduce the formation of HCAs. Bender cautioned that partially pre-cooked meats should be transferred from the kitchen to the grill right away.
- Cook slowly. By grilling meats slowly at a lower heat, they are less likely to burn or char. Bender said this will reduce the amount of HCAs and PAHs that end up on people's plates.

Food Lion is working to provide more healthy options to the people of Cherokee to help people manage their weight, diabetes, blood pressure, and cholesterol. Look for new healthy options at Cherokee Food Lion and for the next Cherokee Community Wellness Team Cooking Demo featuring a Healthy Smoothies Cooking Demo coming to Food Lion Monday, July 9 from 4-6pm.

Summer Grilled Peach Salad

Servings: 4

1/2 cup pecans
4 large fresh, ripe peaches, halved
2 Tbsp. extra virgin olive oil, divided
Freshly ground pepper
2 oz of gorgonzola or low-fat blue cheese
2 cups of arugula

1/4 cup balsamic vinegar
2 Tbsp finely chopped chives

1. Pre-heat oven to 350. Bake pecans in a single layer in a shallow pan 10-12 minutes or until toasted and fragrant, stirring halfway through.
2. Preheat grill to medium high heat. Gently toss peach halves in 1 Tbsp olive oil; sprinkle with pepper to taste. Grill peaches, cut sides down, covered with grill lid, 2 to 3 minutes or until golden. Turn peaches, and place cheese piece in center of each peach; grill, covered with grill lid, 2 to 3 minutes or until cheese begins to melt.
3. Toss arugula with remaining 1 TB olive oil and pepper to taste. Arrange arugula on a serving platter; sprinkle with toasted pecans, and top with grilled peach halves. Drizzle peaches with balsamic vinegar, and chives.

Obituaries

William E. Killian, III

William E. Killian, III, 53, of Cherokee passed away at home on June 21, 2012 following an extended illness. He was a member of the Birdtown Community and formerly of Canton, Fairview, and Louisville, KY. He was first and foremost a family man who loved his wife and family very much and was so proud of each of his children and grandchildren. He also loved animals and was a supporter of PETA. As a representative of PETA, he had spoken at meetings in Washington concerning the treatment of the captive bears being held on the reservation and was an avid supporter of change for the bears.

He was preceded in death by his mother, Sylvia Thomas, his father, William E. Killian Jr; brother Michael Killian and one grandchild.

He is survived by his loving wife of thirty-four years, Kimberly Killian; children, Angela Arsana of Cherokee, William Eddie Killian IV of Graham Co., and Sean Johnson of Louisville, KY; brother, James Killian; sisters, Deborah Christoffer and Sharon Anderson and two granddaughters.

Bill will be remembered for his website, EasternBand.com, his wit and sense of humor, his love of computers, and his remarkable courage when it came to being the champion of many causes that no one else would dare to challenge. He will also be remembered for his ability to seek out the facts and inform the public. He was a friend to all who knew him and will be sadly missed by his family and many, many friends.

In keeping with Bill's wishes, the family held a private graveside service at the Crowe Cemetery on June 25, 2012 at 2pm attended by family and close personal friends.

In lieu of flowers, the family requests that donations in his memory be made to PETA (People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals).

Long House Funeral Home assisted the family with the arrangements. An on-line memorial is available at www.longhousefuneral-home.com.

Summer family fun ideas from EBCI WIC

Summer is here! Please take time to read these fun tips to stay active with your family!

Play outside and explore the outdoors with your child!

Go for a family walk...to a family or friend's house after dinner, on a nature trail, or go to a park or playground.

Play games while walking...hop over cracks, find treasures such as rocks, sticks, leaves, bugs and butterflies.

Draw pictures on your sidewalk or paved driveway! Kids enjoy drawing animals, flowers, bugs, and people!

Play hopscotch with your child

Plant a garden with your child.

Have them help dig holes with a small plastic shovel. Place the seeds in the holes. Cover with dirt and water, and watch the plants grow!

Build a sand box (in your yard or find a sand box at your local park) Put together a basket of toys for playing in the sand.

Don't let your child sit still more than 60 minutes at a time- get up and play!!

Play inside...have fun on cold or rainy days!

Create a play room...clear out an area in your home where your child can ride small bikes, push toys, pull wagons and dance. (This could be a room, part of a room, garage or basement.)

Build a "play house"...drape blankets on chairs, large boxes and other furniture. Put pillows and stuffed animals inside the play house. Make a tunnel by lining up the kitchen chairs and throwing a blanket over them. Children love to crawl and tumble around.

Roll around the house...in a straight line, in a curvy line, around the chairs or couch, like a log!

Create a play...read one of your child's favorite stories. Act out the story with your child. It's fun to pretend.

Free play...make time for your child to play. Your child will be able to relax and use his imagination playing with his toys.

Help your develop good sleeping habits with a scheduled nap and bedtime.

Submitted by the EBCI WIC Program: The special nutritional supplement and breastfeeding support program for women, infants, and children is open to all eligible persons regardless of race, color, sex, national origin, age, or disability

Letter of Appreciation

The value of our Cherokee Fire Department was confirmed to me on Thursday, June 21.

I received a telephone call that the Dairy Queen was on fire and immediately drove to the scene. I saw Tsali Boulevard closed and black smoke coming from the Dairy Queen. I appreciate the police department allowing me through so I could determine the situation.

The response time of the fire department was phenomenal and once the fire department arrived they began work in a highly professional manner.

The location of the fire was immediately determined and an action plan was implemented without delay. The firemen worked as a team and the situation was under control in a matter of minutes.

The team worked together to minimize the damage and to containing the fire to a specific area on the roof. Thanks to this effort there was no damage to the building.

Due to the outstanding effort of these highly motivated and highly trained firemen, the Dairy Queen was only closed four hours for water cleanup and smoke dissipation.

The fire department is truly professional in training and attitude. They are a tremendous resource to Cherokee.

We need to support, encourage and thank them at every opportunity. I will be forever appreciative of the help that was provided to the Dairy Queen.

Thank you,
Leo James

Students travel to Costa Rica

Area students share the Cherokee Friendship Dance with high school students in Costa Rica on a recent trip to the country. Fourteen students were chosen from the seven-county area to take a 12-day trip to Costa Rica. "Our youth were exposed to the indigenous tribes throughout Costa Rica in hopes that their eyes would open to many cultures and traditions different from their own, while also demonstrating our own traditional dances and cultural concepts," said Sky Kanott, Cherokee Youth Council program manager who went on the trip with the youth. "We would like to thank the Cherokee Preservation Foundation for making this trip possible."

Father's Day cookout hosted by CTCCS

Brian and Haley Kirkland enjoy a Father's Day cookout hosted by the Cherokee Tribal Child Care Services (CTCCS) on Friday, June 15 at the Oconaluftee Island Park. The Qualla Boundary Head Start program provides monthly family/parent activities to promote healthy parent involvement with children. "We would like to thank all the parents and the following Tribal programs for helping us make these events a success: Tribal Fish & Game, Cherokee Welcome Center, Cherokee Indian Fairgrounds staff, Cherokee Fire Department and EBCI Facilities Management," said CTCCS officials. "We would also like to thank the businesses for your generous donations: Sequoyah National Golf Club, Rancho Viejo and the Cherokee Fun Park. Also, we would like to thank the Oconaluftee Job Corps for volunteering to assist us anytime that we ask!"
