Visit NC 365 Conference held in Cherokee

ROBERT JUMPER ONE FEATHER EDITOR

nce deemed the annual Governor's Conference on Tourism, the 2016 Visit NC 365 Conference was held in Harrah's Cherokee Casino Resort from March 13-15. The meeting is touted as "the most comprehensive summit of our state's travel and tourism industry" by Governor Pat McCrory.

On Monday, March 14, the agenda included speeches from John E. Skvarla, III, North Carolina's Secretary of Commerce; Christopher Chung, the new chief executive officer for the newly-formed Economic Development Partnership of North Carolina; and Wit Tuttell, executive director of Visit North Carolina, the state's tourism and marketing arm.

The agenda began with a prayer presented by Bo Taylor, director of the Museum of the Cherokee Indian. Taylor, dressed in 18th Century Cherokee period dress, spoke and sung the prayer in his ancestral language, Cherokee.

Ray Rose, Tribal Casino Gaming Enterprise (TCGE) board, and Lee Ann Bridges, regional vice president of marketing for Harrah's, welcomed the participants and vendors to the property. Rose commented that he felt that casino operations and tourism industry had very much in common. Bridges thanked the organizers for selecting the property for the event.

crowd of about 200 North Carolina tourism professionals, speaking of the great tradition of welcoming and entertaining visitors to Cherokee lands. He cited the Cherokee Indian Fair as one of the examples of the many events that the Cherokee Destination Marketing program has developed and executed, keeping the traditions and heritage of Cherokee alive.

Principal Chief Patrick Lambert welcomed the tourism and marketing experts to Cherokee and spoke of his passion for putting Cherokee people first. He introduced Mickey Duvall, the Eastern Band of Cherokee Nation's Secretary of Commerce and staff. Chief Lambert related the importance of tourism to the overall economy and success of the tribe. He told the audience that he is working on initiatives to further enhance the great visitor offerings already in place. He spoke on a redesign of the downtown that would make the area more inviting to those visiting Cherokee. He also stressed the importance of interconnectivity of the different areas of Cherokee, saying that connecting greenways and walking paths are a priority. He also shared

Per NC GENERAL STATUTE:

§ 20-130.1. Use of red or blue lights on vehicles prohibited; exceptions.

(a)It is unlawful for any person to install or activate or operate a red light in or on any vehicle in this State. As used in this subsection, unless the context requires otherwise, "red light" means an operable red light not sealed in the manufacturer's original package which: (i) is designed for use by an emergency vehicle or is similar in appearance to a red light designed for use by an emergency vehicle; and (ii) can be operated by use of the vehicle's battery, vehicle's electrical system, or a dry cell battery. As used in this subsection, the term "red light" shall also mean any forward facing red light installed on a vehicle after initial manufacture of the vehicle.

§ 20-130.3. Use of white or clear lights on rear of vehicles prohibited; exceptions.

It shall be unlawful for any person to willfully drive a motor vehicle in forward motion upon the highways of this State displaying white or clear lights on the rear of said vehicle. The provisions of this section shall not apply to the white light required by G.S. 20-129(d) or so-called backup lights lighted only when said vehicle is in reverse gear or backing. Violation of this section does not constitute negligence per se in any civil action. (1973, c. 1071.)

Tomes indicted in fatal crash

atrick Bradley Allison, 42, an EBCI tribal member and tribal employee, was killed as the result of a head-on collision that occurred on Birdtown Road (US-19) on the morning of April 14, 2015. Now, almost a year later, Michael Dean Tomes, the driver of the vehicle that hit Allison's vehicle, has been indicted on federal Involuntary Manslaughter charges.

The charge, a misdemeanor, carries a maximum sentence of eight years in prison, a $250,000 fine or both according to Department of Justice officials. The indictment alleges that Tomes was "driving a vehicle upon a highway or public vehicular area carelessly and heedlessly in willful and wanton disregard of the rights or safety of others ... "

Following the April 2015 wreck, Allison passed away while en route to Memorial Mission Hospital as he was being transported by Cherokee Tribal EMS. Joshua Lee Ammons, 23, a passenger in Allison's vehicle was taken by Cherokee Tribal EMS to Memorial Mission where he was treated and released and Tomes was taken by Swain County Ambulance to Memorial Mission where he also was treated and released.

An initial appearance for Tomes is scheduled for March 28 at 9:30am in Courtroom 2 at 100 Otis Street in Asheville before Magistrate Judge Dennis Howell. Tomes is currently in federal custody in the Middle District Court of Georgia.

No other details have been released on this case.

The One Feather requested police reports on this incident from the Cherokee Indian Police Department who informed they cannot release anything at this time due to the federal nature of the case. Department of Justice officials did not answer a request for these reports by press time.

ON THE SIDELINES

Good job Coach Tullos, Coach Mintz

SCOTT MCKIE B.P.

ONE FEATHER STAFF

ast week, I wrote about the accomplished seasons of the Braves and Lady Braves varsity basketball teams. This week, I'm going to write about a big reason for those accomplishments – Braves Head Coach Willis Tullos and Lady Braves Head Coach Chris Mintz.

Both coaches were recently honored by the Smoky Mountain Conference (SMC). Tullos was named Co-Coach of the Year and Mintz was named Coach of the Year.

Earlier in the season, both coaches also hit milestones with Tullos getting his 600th career win and Mintz getting his 300th. They led their teams to regular season SMC titles as well as SMC tournament titles. But, beyond their wins and trophies, it is important to look at the men themselves. They lead by example with their demeanors.

Basketball is a fast-paced sport that many times can become very contentious. Fans aren't always the nicest. Officials aren't always the fairest. Opponents aren't always the most sportsmanlike.

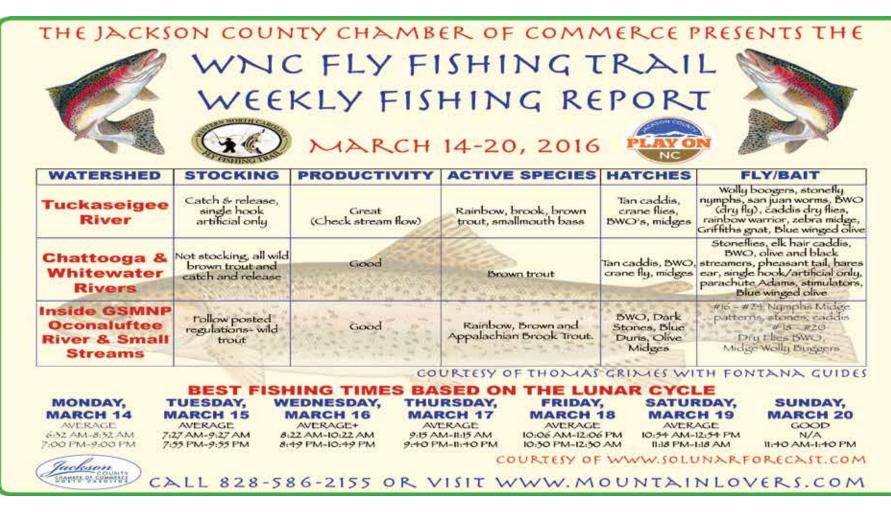

So, keeping player's heads in the game and keeping them focused on the task at hand is hard at any level of basketball – doubly hard at the high school level. Tullos and Mintz both do an excellent job of keeping their team focused while protecting their team.

Many times on the sidelines I've watched both coaches handle situations with officials or opposing coaches with calm, steadfast demeanors while thinking to myself how quickly I probably would have gotten tossed out if I had been coaching. It is nice to watch because it's rare in sports these days.

They are tough coaches who push their athletes to become the best that they can while showing respect for their opponents. They are also gracious whether it's in speaking to an opposing coach or to a sports reporter who shoves a mini-recorder in their face after each game.

The late John Wooden, UCLA's legendary coach who amassed an incredible 664-162 record including 10 NCAA championships and four perfect seasons, once said, "Be more concerned with your character than your reputation, because your character is what you really are, while your reputation is merely what others think you are."

Tullos and Mintz are the embodiment of this quote.

The goals are to equip, to educate and to excite tribal members about spring, gardening, and the new season. The event promises educational, service, and business vendors. You will be able to purchase a variety of items from seeds to yard art. Learn about composting, raised beds, beekeeping, living with elk, water safety, vermicomposting (worms) and much more.

Events include:

• A photo contest, sponsored by The Little People Boutique. Send your photos of children in fruit, flower, or vegetable costumes to legendweaverstudios@gmail.com. Prizes will be awarded for the little ones pictures.

• Not leaving out our furry friends, send your pictures of your pet in costume.

• A Coffee Thyme cafe, sponsored by the Costa Rica students. Here you can enjoy a cup of coffee or buy a bag to take home. All proceeds will supplement travel for the Costa Rica trip.

• You can enter a Recycle/Repurpose Yard Art Contest. Entry fee is $5 and all proceeds go to supplement travel for the Costa Rica trip. Prizes will be awarded.

• Have your children's picture made with Smoky the Bear presented by BIA Forestry.

• Talk with a Master Gardener.

Event organizers are seeking vendors in the following areas: Seeds and Plants - annuals, perennials, vegetables, herbs, fruits, grasses, house plants; Tools - sharpening, cleaning; Garden Art - statuary, signs, metals, stakes; Garden Structures - furniture, green houses, raised beds, decks, trellis, storage; Green Elephant Sale - used books, pots, tools; Birding - food, houses, sanctuaries; Fairy Gardens; Garden Market - local grown food, canned food, dried food.

Sponsorships for events are available.

Qualla Boundary Historical Society report

id you know that the original location of the Cherokee Tribal Council House was at the intersection of 441 N and US 19, across from the present-day Cherokee Baptist Church? The Council House was moved to its current location when developers built the small shopping mall that housed Kentucky Fried Chicken, Qualla 5 and 10, Long John Silver's, and other stores.

In the front of the Council House was a monument with the following inscription: "In Honor of Those Brave Cherokee Indians Loyal to the Confederacy 1861-1865 Commanded by Wm. H. Thomas Erected by the First District United Daughters of the Confederacy 1935."

Does anyone know where this monument is located today?

The Qualla Boundary Historical Society will gather for its monthly meeting on Tuesday, March 22 at 6:30pm at the Qualla Boundary Public Library. Dr. Ben Steere will give a presentation on the archaeological study of mound and town sites on and near the Qualla Boundary. His talk will demonstrate how archaeology, archival research, and oral history can be used to better understand these important Cherokee cultural sites.

Dr. Steere earned his bachelor's of arts degree from Wake Forest University in 2003 and his Ph.D. from the University of Georgia in 2011. He has conducted archaeological fieldwork and research in western North Carolina since 2004. He has recently worked on a collaborative archaeological research project with the Tribal Historic Preservation Office of the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians to locate and map mound and village sites in western North Carolina. This fall, he was delighted to join the faculty at Western Carolina University, where continues his research on Cherokee archaeology

SCC to present screenings of Cherokee language documentary

YLVA - The Native American MENtoring Program (NAMP) at Southwestern Community College will present screenings of the award winning documentary First Language: The Race to Save Cherokee later this month.

The first of these is set for noon-1:30pm on Monday, March 28 at SCC's Macon Campus. It will then be shown from 12:30-2pm on Tuesday, March 29, at the college's Jackson Campus.

The screenings will be hosted by Dr. Walt Wolfram, executive producer of the documentary and The William Friday Distinguished Professor of English Linguistics at N.C. State University.

"The producers of First Language developed the documentary to help preserve the Cherokee language and to serve as a cultural legacy. The documentary describes the importance of sustaining the worldview, culture and way of life that the Cherokee language represents," said Dr. Mark Ellison, director of Student Support Services at SCC. "We are fortunate Dr. Wolfram is hosting the screenings and will provide additional insight on the impact and importance of these efforts."

The screenings are open to students, faculty, staff, and the public. Lunch will be provided. Register online at http://bit.ly/1ouvGOZ or email m_ellison@southwesterncc.edu.

"The Native American MENtoring Program is a new resource at Southwestern that provides mentoring for Native American men enrolled at Southwestern with the goal of increasing persistence, graduation and transfer rates of participants," said Earle Dixon, assistant coordinator and coach of NAMP. "NAMP also offers mentor shadowing, informal social activities, natural history trips, Cherokee history and educational programs, community service, and hiking and canoeing adventures." Jones-Bowman Leadership Program seeking nominations

The Jones-Bowman Leadership Award Program is currently recruiting EBCI tribal members who are undergraduate college students to participate in its 2016-17 program. A community member may only nominate students, and the deadline for nominations is Monday, April 4 by 5pm.

The program gives students opportunities to develop strong leadership abilities and serve successfully in leadership roles. With the help of mentors, participants develop individual leadership plans, volunteer in their communities, and complete a group service project during a yearlong fellowship.

To obtain a nomination form, visit www.cpfdn.org/jonesbowman. html or stop by the Cherokee Preservation Foundation office at 71 John Crowe Hill Rd.

The Jones-Bowman Leadership Award was established in 2007 to honor the memories and leadership of Principal Chief Leon Jones and James Bowman, founding members of the Board of Directors of the Cherokee Preservation Foundation. The Cherokee Preservation Foundation and other contributors fund individual learning plans of the Fellows.

Jones-Bowman Fellows enjoy the following benefits by participating in the program:

–They participate in unique opportunities that will help them develop their leadership skills.

-They become involved in their community and culture.

-They meet other students interested in becoming leaders within the Cherokee community.

–They receive funding to take advantage of leadership opportunities. –They receive guidance from outstanding mentors. Info: Alicia Jacobs, Cherokee Preservation Foundation, 497-5550 - Cherokee Preservation Foundation

Park seeks Oconaluftee Roving Volunteers

Great Smoky Mountains National Park is recruiting volunteers to assist park visitors by roving the Oconaluftee River Trail, Mountain Farm Museum, and fields along Newfound Gap Road near the Oconaluftee Visitor Center. Volunteers are needed from mid-April through mid-November and typically work one four-hour shift per week.

Luftee Rover volunteers provide information to visitors about park regulations that best protect wildlife including proper waste disposal and safe wildlife viewing distances. When elk are present in the fields, volunteers assist Park Rangers with traffic management to provide for visitor and wildlife safety. In addition, volunteers provide information about cultural resources found at the Mountain Farm Museum and natural resources along the Oconaluftee River Trail.

All interested volunteers are required to attend a training session on Tuesday, April 5 from 10am – 3pm at the Oconaluftee Multi-Purpose Room near the Oconaluftee Visitor Center. To register for training or for more information, contact Kathleen Stuart 497-1914 or kathleen_stuart@nps.gov.

OBITUARIES

David "Joe" Sanders

GREENVILLE – David "Joe" Sanders, 69, passed away March 6, 2016. He was born in Bryson City to the late David Coat Sanders and Mrs. Katy Love Shook Hamby.

He attended Swain County High School, and later Western Carolina University studying English. Sanders was a retired disabled military Vietnam veteran and a member of the Paralyzed Veterans of America (PVA). He served with the U.S. Navy for four years, and did three tours in Vietnam. He earned multiple honors including: National Defense Service Medal, Presidential Unit Citation and Commendation Ribbon. Vietnam Service Medal with one silver and four bronze stars, Navy Unit Commendation Ribbon Bar with one bronze star, and the Republic of Vietnam Meritorious Unit Citation (Civil Actions Medal Color with Palm.)

Since 2005, Sanders has resided in Greenville. In his free time, he enjoyed writing, poetry, and martial arts.

Sanders is survived by his wife of 40 years, Brenda L. Sanders; son, David Joe Sanders and wife Meg; daughter, Heather Carswell; grandson, David Delane; granddaughter, Flemming; sister, Patty Hope Bromenschenkel and husband Walt; and sister-in-law, Dorcas Masson.

Sanders' internment will be held at the State Veterans Cemetery in Black Mountain with full military honors. Locally, the family will receive family and friends on Saturday, April 2 from 5:30-7:30pm at the Plum Tree Bistro to celebrate Joe's life.

Lillian Faye Rose Shetley

UNION, SC - Mrs. Lillian Faye Rose Shetley, age 79, husband of Don Shetley of Union, SC passed away Thursday, Feb. 25, 2016 at Union Medical Center.

Mrs. Shetley was born in Cherokee, NC on April 29, 1936. She was the daughter of Elsie Rodger Rose Kimsey of Cherokee and the late Wayne Rose. She was a graduate of the University of South Carolina, Union, receiving an associate's degree in art studies. Mrs. Shetley worked alongside her husband at Allstate Insurance Agency for many years. She was a member of Tabernacle Baptist Church and was also a member of the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians.

Surviving in addition to her husband are a daughter, Donna Faye Shetley and husband John D. Karvelas of Spartanburg; a son, Don Raye Shetley and wife Jennifer of Union; two sisters, Freda Wright and Wanda Weldon of Cherokee; two granddaughters, Sarah Evans Shetley and Lilly Frances Shetley, both of Union.

The following were asked to serve as the honorary escort, Ryan Bradly, Stacey Jones, John Gregory, Sam White, Tommy Anthony and Frankie Alexander.

In lieu of flowers, memorials may be made to Tabernacle Baptist Church, Debt Reduction Fund, 915 S. Pinckney St., Union, SC 29379.

Joy Ann Craig

Joy Ann Craig, 87, of Whittier, passed away on Friday, March 11, 2016. Joy was born on September 6, 1929 in Knox County, TN to the late Joseph Orlando Pitner and Iva Grace Frazier Pitner.

In addition to her parents, she is preceded in death by her husband, G. Lee Craig; twin brother, Loy; twin siblings, Ray Pitner and Faye Maynard; and sister, Odessa Pitner. Joy is survived by her daughters, Vicki Craig (David) and Lea Ann Craig (John) of Whittier; her son, Barry Craig, of Whittier; sistersin-law, Kay Hollingsworth of Columbia, SC and Shirley Pitner of Seymour, Tenn; grandchildren, Ashlea, Aaron, Adam, Candice, Shanna, Flint, Addison and Maddie; and several nieces and nephews.

Joy and Lee were owners and operators of Cherokee Campground and Craig's Cabins in Cherokee for more than 50 years. Joy made many friends in her time there, often being referred to by her friends as a "real sweetie". Joy loved flower gardening and tending to her many customers and friends at the campground.

Joy will be greatly missed by all of her family and friends. Following a visitation at Crisp Funeral Home in Bryson City on Tuesday, March 15, Joy was buried alongside her husband at the Maltby Baptist Church cemetery in Marble.

Pearle Sherrill Reagan

Pearle Sherrill Reagan entered the pearly gates of Heaven on March 11, 2016 after a brief hospital stay at the age of 92. She was the daughter of the late Burke and Dora Queen Sherrill. Pearle was born and lived in the Qualla Community most of her life. She was a member of the Olivet Methodist Church where she served faithfully. Pearle loved to sing and was a member of the Acquoni Chapel Choir for several years.

After graduation from high school, Pearle worked for the Government preparing telephone codes for all branches of the military to use during WWII. Upon returning to the Qualla Community, she married John Reagan and they began a family. Pearle and John provided a home for several foster children. She worked many years in food service and retired to take care of her flowers and her family.

Pearle was preceded in death by her parents, her husband, a brother and a sister. She is survived by her daughters, Jerri (Ray) Kinsland, Rita (Dewey) Owle, four grandchildren, six great-grandchildren, two great great-grandchildren, several nieces and nephews, special grandson, Ben Powell, and many foster children and foster grandchildren.

THANK YOU LETTERS Thank you Yogi Crowe Scholarship

Board Members and Contributors, my name is Randall Crowe and I am a recipient of the "Yogi" Crowe Scholarship Fund. I am in my last semester of law school in Charlotte. The Yogi scholarship has made it possible for me to make it to this point in my education. The Yogi scholarship has helped me focus on my studies, not my finances. This scholarship has been instrumental to my success and I would like to encourage all enrolled members to take advantage of these opportunities. We have a lot more scholarships available than just the Yogi Scholarship to help with the financial burdens of college. I encourage you to go to the Tribal Education Office to find out how to get started.

Lastly, I would like to think the Tribal members who have decided to better themselves and our Tribe by going back to school. I would like to thank the contributors to the scholarship because without them, law school would have been a lot more difficult. Thankfully, there are many contributors who keep the memory of Yogi Crowe and the scholarship alive. Although I still have a long road to travel, thanks to the Yogi Scholarship, I am well on my way to getting my law degree and becoming an attorney. A special thanks to my mother, Sis Cabe, and my wife, Whitney Crowe, because without them I couldn't have made it this far.

> Thank you, Randall Crowe Charlotte

Thank you for kindness

I would just like to say a word of thanks from the family of Mildred A. Bryson. Whether it was a warm embrace, a prayer, a condolence, a flower or donation you gave to charity, I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart for your remembrance of this great lady, my mother. For those of you who have felt the pain of this incomparable loss, I find comfort in your wisdom and the knowledge that with each Christian that passes, another saint is born above. It is so comforting to know that there are special people like you who help ease the suffering when our heroes fall. I appreciate Brother Eddie Stillwell, Sister Virginia Clark, the staff at Appalachian Funeral Home, Catawba Valley Medical Center, Dr. Clifford Mault and all those who attend my mom's memorial service. Your kindness will not be forgotten.

Friends, family endow Kenneth Haigler scholarship through SCC Foundation

SYLVA – For many years, Kenneth Haigler, an EBCI tribal member, helped students in Southwestern Community College's radiography technology program learn and grow by supervising their clinical rotations at Swain Community Hospital.

Though Haigler passed away last year, his friends and family have ensured that Haigler's legacy of assisting SCC students will continue for years to come.

The Kenneth Haigler Endowed Scholarship Fund has been set up with an initial donation of $15,000 to the SCC Foundation and will be awarded annually to a deserving student in the college's radiography technology program. Haigler was the son of Tom and Rosemarie Haigler.

"We were sitting around talking with Kenny's family one day, and we all felt we should do something to help his name live on," said Lambert Wilson, a lifelong friend of the Haiglers. "We decided to set up a scholarship that will continue his legacy and celebrate his impact."

Haigler spent most of his life in Swain County, though he graduated from high school in Tuscaloosa, Ala. He served in the U.S. Army as a medic before starting his career in radiology.

"This is a wonderful way to honor the memory of Mr. Haigler," said Brett Woods, director of the SCC Foundation. "By endowing this scholarship, his family and friends are making sure future SCC students will feel the positive impact of his life."

If enough donations are received to increase the endowment, the first Kenneth Haigler Scholarship could be awarded as soon as this fall.

Springing into outdoor tourism

y the time this edition hits the newsstands, we will be days away from the March 21 kick off to springtime. After a lackluster winter with very few snow events and moderate temperatures, we are ready for the "spring flowers and April showers". There is no better place to be during the spring than the beautiful land of our ancestral home. We are, by nature, lovers of the outdoors.

There is no lack of things to do and see on the Qualla Boundary: naturally-occurring waterfalls, the historic Oconaluftee River, Great Smoky Mountain National Park, Blue Ridge Parkway, Graham and Cherokee County with virtually untouched forests and streams.

Cherokee has six locations that are designated as birding trails as part of the North Carolina Birding Trail system. Birding is a pastime that all ages enjoy, and bird watchers range from the casual enthusiast that watches as different types fly to their backyard feeder to the professional who hikes miles and captures images for magazines and scientific research. In North Carolina, 2.6 million bird watchers spend $916 million in retail sales for observing and feeding the objects of their desire. On a national level, 71 million Americans enjoy and participate in nature watching and contribute $46 billion dollars to the economy in pursuit of their passion, according to a 2006 study reported by www.ncbirdingtrail.org. Of course, we have to assume that a percentage of those people and dollars are watching other animals in our forest lands; for example, elk.

Hiking and biking are prominent pastimes for many people, young and old. Like birding, you can spend a little or a lot, depending on your level of interest in this leisure activity. The website, www.americanhiking.org, outlines the impact of outdoor tourism on the economy. "According to the Land and Water Conservation Fund. outdoor recreation is responsible for 6.5 million jobs and contributes $730 billion to the national economy. That means that 1 in 20 employed Americans works in some form with the outdoor recreation industry. Additionally, it is estimated that 50 to 70 million Americans use trails every year. While some of these trails might be local, millions of Americans are driving long distances to get to a trailhead. Nearly 14 million visits to National Parks were multi-day trips, while almost half of the visits to National Forests were more than just day hikes. All of these trips require expenditures on gas, food, lodging, and sometimes souvenirs that also boost the local economy."

Cherokee has a reputation as one of the best trout fishing destinations in the world. The Eastern Band of Cherokee Nation's Fisheries and Wildlife program maintains the Tribe's hatchery and stocks and polices the 30 miles of river and streams that make up our trout habitat. Fishermen (and fisherwomen) flock to Cherokee every year and year-round to experience the unique thrill of walking a pole and line up and down our waters, sometimes in our waters, and locking horns with a Rainbow. The Tribe states on its www.fishcherokee.com website. "In Cherokee, NC, the fish are so plentiful, you won't need luck". The Tribe holds tournaments throughout the season and has its own "trophy waters" for fly fishing. Tribal permits must be purchased by those who are not a member of the Tribe, but it is a very nominal fee. The N.C. Wildlife Commission estimates that mountain trout fishing is responsible for 1,977 jobs and provides approximately $56 million in income in North Carolina. Nearly 93,000 trout anglers went trout fishing in North Carolina in 2008, putting an estimated $143 million into the economy.

These are but three of the tribal treasures that are to be enjoyed on the Boundary. I encourage you to experience all of them. Put down your smartphone or tablet, or, better yet, leave those at home so you won't be interrupted. Some quality time in our beautiful mountains will put a spring in your step.

Poll Responses

Note: The following comments were made on the Cherokee One Feather Facebook page and website to our weekly poll question: To further the agenda of the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians, should the Tribe make political donations?

Alana B. Davis: No

Joshua Rory Welch: I don't like it, but unfortunately, its the world we live in. It has to be done to get what we need done in Washington. It's just the relationship that has to take place.

Keshia Sequoyah: Absolutely not

Jason Baggett: Absolutely not

Terri Allison Burton: Personally, I say no.

Douglas McCoy: I guess it depends on our 'agenda'. I'm assuming this is simply our chosen end. If our chosen end is self-determination, then no. If we wish to continue in a quasi-sovereign state under the federal system, then yes, but only until money can be removed from American politics. My pragmatic opinion is we continue until we see the changes coming in the Supreme Court of the U.S. The changes could lead to a reversal of the decision that allowed wealth to be equivalent to one's free speech. Some hav a lot more 'speech' than the most of us.

Kevin Baggett: That's like a hen letting a fox be in charge of the hen house.

Tim Rattler: No

Jamile Shaheen: No, it doesn't matter.

Candler Cooper: Would we have a casino without it? I think not.

Elias Huskey: Maybe, but there should be a vote or public poll on whom to support.

Lillie Seagle: No, we should not support people who act like three-year-old children.

Matthew Tooni: If we ever do, then we might as well start packing now.

Michael Zepeda: This is a double-edged blade and one edge is dull. First, the sharp edge - the one you're going to get cut on. It's all great if it's the one that you put your backing behind. But, what if he or she is not the winner. Now, for the other side. Just because you back them does not mean they're going to back you. But, look what's going on now. I am no fan of Trump, but he has put a lot of money into the politicians he's fighting with. If you're going to put money behind a politician, we need to do it as Native Americans. Yes, I mean all of the tribes working together. I really don't understand why we haven't put something together so we can have a united voice.

Lois Wadewitz: Yes, just as well if it isn't Hillary or Bernie. We need good people in Washington.

Shirley Catt Iron Shell: I don't know much about Cherokee politics, but here on the Rosebud, giving political people donations doesn't mean life is going to get any better. They just use us to get votes. Those who are running this coming term scare me for the future.

William Harris: Do, we as a people, want another Andrew Jackson taking the White House? We should help someone who shares our values win the election. Yes, we should be part of elections, being American citizens.

Carlos Saunooke: No

William Ledford: If we lived in the ideal world, I'd answer no because we shouldn't have to, but there are people out there who would love to see us dependent upon them again for survival instead of the other way around. They kick in money, political contributions, bribes, whatever, which influences politicans, and we have to be on top of that. Remember, there are very few elected officials who do anything based upon ethics or morals. Money talks; always has, always will.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR Man challenges "A Demand of Blood"

"A Demand of Blood: The Cherokee War of 1776" is nothing more than a revision of former books, with added information from the Colonial records. This author, like all previous authors, has re-created an old folklore and false story about the Cherokee nation and it's situation beginning in 1775, at the commencement of the revolutionary war.

The falsehoods are due, in part, by the usage of one letter in the Colonial records dated Aug. 25, 1776. Additionally, this book has many misrepresentations of facts and non-use of imperative records.

For example, non-use of the Jan. 8, 1776 letter Stuart to Germain in which he explains that 62 Cherokees were at his headquarters at St. Augustine, that they are in very bad situation, but remain loyal to the King. She uses the July 5 letter from rebel Gen. Rutherford to Gen. Christian in a conspicuous manner. This letter spells out details of a three-way invasion into the Cherokee Nation. However. in Chapter10, she makes her case against the Cherokee contemplating war in early July, and in Chapter 11, she protects this planned attack by the rebels by beginning the chapter in late July (30th) so the reader will naturally feel as though their plans were reactionary rather than a well-planned assault. She then separates the same situation in her other chapters.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) With change dominant this week, don't be surprised to find new facts emerging that could put another slant on a situation and offer you another choice. Think it through before you decide.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) There could be some lingering problems from a previous matter that involved a decision you felt you had to make. Resolve the situation with your strong Taurean no-nonsense approach.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) The Gemini's carefully made plans could be undone by someone's unexpected decision. Getting the full story behind that surprise move can help you decide how to deal with the matter.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Recently uncovered information might put a new light on a situation you thought had been resolved. Keep an open mind about possible changes that you might have to consider.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) With a potential revision of an old agreement, you can't beat the Big Cat for knowing how to sharpen a "clause" to the best advantage. Someone close could have the news you've been waiting for.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Certain issues in the workplace could put you in the middle of a dispute you'd rather not deal with. Express your honest feelings before the pressure to take sides builds up. Western Carolina University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, age, disability, genetic information, and veteran status, consistent with applicable federal, state and local laws, regulations, and policies, and the LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) You might feel uneasy disagreeing with someone you've been close to. But your relationship should be able to withstand and even thrive when confronted with your true feelings.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) A romantic situation seems to be creating more confusion than you can handle. If so, own up to your feelings. The sooner you do, the better your chances are for working things out.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) With change directing the Archer's aim, consider a second look at your plans and see where they might benefit from a revision. A work-place matter is close to a resolution.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) New contacts help you learn some important information about upcoming developments. The week calls for the Sea Goat to be more flexible than usual in a number of matters.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) With both change and uncertainty in your aspect, you might feel less confident in a previous decision. That's OK. Check it out and see where it could be modified, if necessary.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Old relationships that seemed to be sinking are buoyant again, and new relationships are benefiting from Cupid's loving care. This could be a good time to make a major move.

BORN THIS WEEK: While you prefer to tread your own path, you'll go out of your way to help someone in need.
