Qualla 2020 action plans presented at Forum

SCOTT MCKIE B.P.
ONE FEATHER STAFF

Eleven action plans for diversifying and growing the Cherokee economy were presented at a Qualla 2020 Community Forum meeting at the Chief Joyce Dugan Cultural Arts Center on Monday, Oct. 13. The plans were presented, and then community members were able to address questions to the panel members.

"The purpose of Qualla 2020 is to diversify the Cherokee economy and reduce its risks so that it can better ensure the well-being of the Cherokee population into the future," said Annette Clapsaddle, Cherokee Preservation executive director, at the beginning of the meeting. "We need to engage the full knowledge of our community."

According to information from Qualla 2020, the action plans include:

- Develop a marketing plan to attract knowledge industries such as software developers, architects, engineers, etc.
- Feasibility study for fiber-enabled office building and co-working (shared) space
- Explore potential for an Agricultural and Convention Center at the Acquoni Expo Center (old Cherokee High School) site

- Create implementation plan for compacting BIA Realty function
- Develop draft statuses for individual possessory holding legal framework
- Create a single source of information for small businesses
- Strengthen the Cherokee Chamber of Commerce
- Create an economic development coalition
- Build a more vibrant entrepreneurial culture on the Qualla Boundary
- Expand individual businesses on the Qualla Boundary through 8(a) contracting and similar programs
- Expand sales of Cherokee art

Clapsaddle related that diversifying the Cherokee economy is of vital importance, and she referenced the City of Detroit as an example. She related that, in 1960, Detroit was the richest city in the country per capita and today it has the highest poverty level in the country.

"When the motor industry and manufacturing jobs left, the City of Detroit suffered," she noted. "It is critical to start diversifying our economy now when the gaming industry is strong rather than wait." During the meeting, various Qualla 2020 committee members spoke about the different action plans.

Jason Lambert, EBCI Commerce Division director, spoke on the idea of creating an Agricultural and Convention Center on the site of the old Cherokee High School. "The goal is to make changes to the site to provide another venue for large attractions and shows in Cherokee with easy, public access to parking."

He said community input and support is important for the idea to work. "We need to make sure the community has a shared vision."

Lambert said the entire site of 18 acres should be used instead of the existing six acres that are currently utilized. "We need to get away from thinking of the old high school site as only a building. The entire parcel of the land is usable. There is great existing parking there."

He said such a facility would attract conventions to Cherokee which would build traffic for retail stores.

Hannah Smith, EBCI Office of the Attorney General, spoke on the possessory holding legal framework. "In order to accommodate growth and to allow tribal members to use their land to the fullest, our laws have to catch up."

She said concerns they hope to address while performing a legal analysis of the framework include fairness, efficiency and privacy.

Lambert then spoke about several ideas involving the Cherokee Chamber of Commerce. "What we need in our community is a single place to go to for business information."

He said it is important to increase business-to-business relationships. "Within the Commerce Division, our job is to bring visitors to Cherokee. It is then up to the individual businesses to market themselves. The Chamber of Commerce is the conduit for businesses to make their voice louder."

Russ Seagle, of The Sequoyah Fund, spoke about entrepreneurship in Cherokee and creating a vibrant economy. "I love the word vibrant. It denotes life and excitement. The reality though is most banks don't want to take a risk on a new business. We need to determine what exists and where are the gaps? What is needed?"

Qualla 2020 will be taking comments and questions on these action plans until the end of October. To weigh in, visit www.cherokeeconservationfoundation.org and click on the Qualla 2020 link.

Parker: Roundabout in Cherokee increases safety, traffic flow

SCOTT MCKIE B.P.
ONE FEATHER STAFF

Drivers on Acquoni Road may notice increased traffic flow near the Charles George Bridge due to the installation of a new roundabout, the first of its kind in Cherokee.

"It was a cooperative agreement between the Tribe and NCDOT," said Josh Parker, Cherokee Department of Transportation manager. "We agreed that we would design the project and pay for the design and they would pay for the construction."

Parker commented that safety was a major reason for the roundabout. "There was a concern about the traffic light and the amount of traffic that was building up. We wanted to do something to either improve the traffic light and make it more efficient or come up with an alternative. So, when we met and put our heads together, we came up with the roundabout concept."

He said that the benefits of a roundabout far outweigh those of a new traffic light. "The main focus of a roundabout is to efficiently increase traffic flow. With a roundabout, you're getting traffic that is rarely at a standstill. Traffic is always moving...that increases fuel efficiency of vehicles and also forces drivers to be more aware and actually yield and take caution."

Parker said that traffic lights where traffic comes to a halt make it more prone to rear-end accidents. "Also, with traffic lights, the light could turn yellow and cause traffic to come abruptly to a stop or it forces drivers to speed up and go through. A roundabout eliminates all of that."

A 2011 NCDOT study found a 35 percent reduction in total crashes and a 76 percent reduction in injury crashes once roundabouts were installed at 55 locations throughout the state of North Carolina.

Internal Audit recognizes tribal programs with SOAR Awards

The EBCI Office of Internal Audit recognized those programs of the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians which have demonstrated fiscal excellence during the 2nd Annual Success in Operations, Accountability, and Reporting (SOAR) Awards which were given out during Annual Council on Monday, Oct. 13. Awards are granted at three distinct levels including Fiscal Recognition Certificate, Fiscal Commitment Award, and the Chief Noah Powell Fiscal Excellence Award.

Sharon Blankenship, Office of Internal Audit chief audit executive, stated, "The SOAR awards program was created to acknowledge Tribal programs who encourage and promote fiscal responsibility, sound financial decisions, best business practices and transparency. The EBCI Office of Internal Audit is committed to recognizing programs that work hard at fulfilling vision and accomplishing objectives."

This year's recipients of the Fiscal Recognition Certificate given "to all who demonstrate the drive toward fiscal excellence" include:

Coulter Regional Leadership Aca. at WCU announces 2014-15 members

CULLOWHEE – Nine Western North Carolinians will form the 2014-15 cohort of the Coulter Regional Leadership Academy, a regional leadership development initiative facilitated by Western Carolina University in partnership with the Cherokee Preservation Foundation.

Selected to participate are: Ada Barber (Clay County), operations manager at The Copper Door in Hayesville; Bill Barker (Haywood County), owner of B. Barker Construction; Ethan Clapsaddle (Swain County), program specialist for the Museum of the Cherokee Indian; Benjamin Davis (Graham County), teacher at Robbinsville High School; Ryan Hanchett (Macon County), a news reporter with the Franklin Press; Brenna Irrer (Jackson County), outreach coordinator for the Wilderness Society's Southern Appalachian Wilderness Stewards program; Ben Laseter (Macon County), restoration coordinator for the Land Trust of the Little Tennessee; Patience Snyder (Cherokee County), program associate for Harrah's Cherokee Casino Resort; Julie Townsend (Swain County), educator with Great Smoky Mountains Association; and Adam West (Qualla Boundary), vice president for operations at Harrah's Cherokee Casino Resort.

The group will begin meeting monthly in late October to develop leadership skills in connection with identifying and pursuing ways to address social and economic challenges in the region.

Participants are selected through a process overseen by the Coulter Regional Leadership Academy Advisory Council and they must reside in the counties of Cherokee, Clay, Graham, Swain, Macon, Jackson or Haywood, or the Qualla Boundary.

The academy was created by the Cherokee Preservation Foundation and is administered through WCU to serve as a catalyst for collaborative regional leadership across the Western North Carolina area known as Region A, one of 16 multi-county planning regions in North Carolina. The pilot program began in October 2013.

Through engaging with regional leaders, examining case studies in regional leadership and professional growth opportunities, members work to develop a deeper understanding and appreciation for regional diversity and dynamics. The activities also help participants to develop their own personal leadership skills, evaluate how decisions made by regional leaders and leadership bodies affect the regional community, and establish practices of sustainable, intentional and life-long leadership development that contribute meaningfully to the region.

Juanita Wilson, director of the WNC Leadership Initiative Program in WCU's Coulter Faculty Commons, and Sarah Graham, director of planning and development with the Southwestern Commission, facilitate the program.

The academy is named in honor of the late Myron "Barney" Coulter, who served as chancellor of WCU from 1984-1994 and as founding chair of the foundation.

Tramper sentenced to three years for domestic violence

Kenneth Lee Tramper, 35, was convicted on Wednesday, Oct. 1 in The Cherokee Court for Domestic Violence Assault Inflicting Serious Bodily Injury and was sentenced to three years imprisonment. The sentence, issued by the Honorable Kirk G. Saunooke, Cherokee Court Judge, was yet another multi-year sentence issued by the Cherokee Court following the implementation of the Tribal Law and Order Act which authorized felony level criminal sentences of greater than one year in tribal courts.

Sentences of greater than two years in crimes of violence qualify Cherokee inmates for transfer to the Federal Bureau of Prisons for service pursuant to a program created as part of the Tribal Law and Order Act in which tribes can apply to the Federal Bureau of Prisons to have their inmates serving such qualifying active sentences transferred to Federal facilities. The Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians is one of only two tribes having previously utilized this program, thereby not only preserving Tribal resources, but opening up greater rehabilitation services for inmates through the Bureau of Prisons.

Tribal Prosecutor Jason Smith stated, "I want to thank Assistant Tribal Prosecutor Justin Eason, Cherokee Police Officer Wahnetah Toineeta, Cherokee Probation Officer John Nations, and the Cherokee Domestic Violence Program for their hard work and dedication to this case which made this outcome a possibility. There was a tremendous amount of investigation, legwork, and communication with the victim and witnesses performed by those involved with this case, allowing the victim and the public to be protected."

Although this case involved a defendant who was an EBCI tribal member, the Cherokee Court will soon be hearing cases involving non-Indian perpetrators of domestic violence pursuant to the reauthorized Violence Against Women Act of 2013 ("VAWA 13"). This unprecedented Federal law, in part, recognizes the original criminal jurisdiction of tribal courts, authorizing prosecutions in certain cases involving domestic violence perpetrated by non-Indians when certain specific requirements are met. Once Cherokee laws are amended to comply with VAWA 13 requirements, these non-Indian perpetrators will also be subject to punishment in the Cherokee Court for the commission of domestic violence crimes against enrolled members on EBCI lands. These amendments are expected to be finalized by early next year at the latest.

Welch sentenced to 51 months in prison on felony gun charge

ASHEVILLE – Anthony Keith Welch, 29, of Cherokee, was sentenced on Thursday, Oct. 16 to 51 months in prison, announced Anne M. Tompkins, U.S. Attorney for the Western District of North Carolina. U.S. District Judge Martin Reidinger also ordered Welch to serve two years of supervised release.

According to court records, in April 2013, Welch possessed a 9mm pistol which he hid in the rafters of the parking garage at Harrah's Cherokee Casino. The firearm was retrieved by law enforcement officers. Court records indicate that Welch has a prior conviction of attempted robbery with a dangerous weapon in Swain County in 2009, and he is prohibited from carrying a firearm.

Welch pleaded guilty in September 2013 to one count of being a felon in possession of a firearm. The investigation was conducted by the U.S. Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives and the Cherokee Indian Police Department. The prosecution for the government was handled by Special Assistant U.S. Attorney Jason Smith of the U.S. Attorney's Office in Asheville.

GSHPs...

Ground source heat pumps (GSHPs) are electrically powered systems that tap the stored energy of the greatest solar collector in existence: the Earth. These systems use the Earth's relatively constant temperature to provide heating, cooling, and hot water for homes and commercial buildings. Like your heat pump outside they cool and heat your air but instead of using electricity as the main fuel to operate, the GSHP use the Earth's crust to heat and cool the air through a exchanger. By using GSHP you can save between 40-70% on your heating and cooling bill. These systems are expensive but they are currently affordable through tax credits. The Federal tax credit for these systems is 30% of the cost of the project. North Carolina also has a tax credit of 35% for the project up to $8,400, giving an individual the ability to offset 65% of total install cost. With the savings and tax credits most people are seeing a 4 to 6 year pay off for a GSHP system.

Braves fight hard in loss to Swain

SCOTT MCKIE B.P.
ONE FEATHER STAFF

The Braves (3-5) fought hard on both sides of the football in their 17-7 loss to Swain on Friday, Oct. 17 at Ray Kinsland Stadium.

Offensively, Cherokee gained a total of 174 yards including 104 passing by quarterback Brandon Buchanan who went 8 for 16 with 1 TD and 2 INTs. He also carried the ball 12 times for 27 yards. J.J. Benjamin rushed 7 times for 42 yards.

Logan Teesateskie led the Braves defense with a whopping 21 tackles on the night. He was followed by WNC-leading tackler Kennan Panther with 15 and Channing Lossiah with 14. Dustin Johnson also had an interception for the defense.

Swain got the ball first in the game and started at their own 35-yard line. They drove the ball 65 yards on 13 plays culminating in a 2-yard touchdown run by Spencer McCoy. The point-after kick by Cooper Reinhart was good and Swain led 7-0 at the 5:19 mark in the first quarter.

The Maroon Devils converted on four third-downs on their opening drive.

Cherokee started their first drive at their own 39-yard line following the kick-off. On first down, Benjamin took off on a 15-yard run to the Swain 46-yard line.

Several plays later,

Buchanan connected with Johnson on a pass complete to the Swain 34-yard line. Following two penalties on the Maroon Devils and a 5-yard run by Benjamin, the Braves found themselves with a 1st and goal on the Swain 10-yard line.

Cherokee had several incomplete passes in a row and an illegal procedure call that brought up a 4th and goal from the 14-yard line. Buchanan then hit Johnson in the far back right of the end zone on a 14-yard touchdown pass. Steven Swayney added the point-after kick and the game was tied 7-7 with just over a minute left in the quarter.

Swain started their next drive in good field position at their own 40-yard line. They drove the ball 60 yards on 17 plays that culminated in a 32-yard field goal by Reinhart to make it 10-7 midway through the second quarter.

Cherokee would fumble the ball on their next possession, but the defense held tightly and held Swain to a three-and-out forcing a punt.

The Braves then started at their own 32-yard line with just a little over two minutes left in the half. On first down, Buchanan hit Lossiah on a 30-yard pass to the Swain 38-yard line.

Several plays later, the Braves faced a 4th and 4 and Buchanan scrambled 7 yards for the first down to the Swain 25-yard line.

On the next play though, Cherokee had a pass intercepted in the end zone to effectively end the first half.

Cherokee was set to receive the ball for the second half, but a mishandled kick-off gave Swain the ball at the Braves 36-yard line.

But, the Maroon Devils didn't have the ball for long as Johnson intercepted a pass in the end zone and returned it to the Cherokee 21-yard line.

Cherokee was able to get two first downs on the drive, but were forced to punt giving Swain the ball at their own 17-yard line. The Maroon Devils then drove 83 yards on 14 plays which culminated in a 12-yard touchdown run by Chris Miller. Reinhart added the point-after kick and Swain led 17-7 at the beginning of the fourth quarter.

Cherokee had to punt on their next possession and Swain turned the ball over on downs on their next time with the ball. The Braves started out at their own 27-yard line with just over five minutes left in the game.

They got three first downs in a row on pass plays of 16, 10 and 11 yards and found themselves with a 1st and 10 at the Swain 36-yard line. But, on the next play, the drive ended with an interception at the 8-yard line.

Swain was able to run down the clock following that to take the 17-7 win.

Cherokee travels to Rosman on Friday, Oct. 24 at 7:30pm for another Smoky Mountain Conference match-up.

Lambert places second as Cherokee hosts middle, high school championships

SCOTT MCKIE B.P.
ONE FEATHER STAFF

Darius Lambert, Cherokee Middle cross country team, took second place – for the second consecutive year – as Cherokee hosted the Smoky Mountain Conference middle school and high school cross country championships on Wednesday, Oct. 15. Despite the cold, rainy conditions, Lambert posted a time of 11:41.77 besting his 2013 time of 11:42.89.

Led by Lambert, the Braves middle school team took third place. Swain won both the high school girls and the middle school girls team championships. Hayesville won the high school boys championship and Robbinsville took the middle school boys title.

Kendall Toineeta led the Lady Braves high school team with a sixth place finish and time of 21:52.48 besting her 2013 time of 21:57.58 (also a sixth place finish).

Both the boys and girls high school races were won by familiar faces from Robbinsville. Frank Cline, 2013 SMC champion, repeated this year with a time of 16:51.27 and Shawnda Martin (2012 and 2013 SMC champion) won this year with a time of 19:32.76.

Eddie Swimmer, Cherokee head cross country coach, was happy with the results on Wednesday, “I’m really impressed with my team and how they’ve really come a long ways. The program has come a

Cherokee's Senior Games participants honored

Several members of the Cherokee community traveled to Raleigh recently to participate in the State Finals of the North Carolina Senior Games. The Cherokee Life Center held a potluck picnic at the Oconaluftee Island on Monday, Oct. 13 where 32 participants from the games were on hand to celebrate the occasion. The potluck dinner was followed by the presentation of the jackets. AMBLE SMOKER/One Feather photos

Legends and Tales 5K draws runners from four states

GERRI GRADY
CHEROKEE RUNNERS

The Cherokee Runners hosted a special 5K on Saturday, Oct. 11. The inaugural Legends and Tales 5K drew local runners – including the Cherokee High School cross country teams – as well as visitors from South Carolina, Georgia and Tennessee.

The race started at 7:30am on Highway 441 in front of the Fairgrounds, wound through town on Highway 19 to Casino Trail where runners turned and raced back to the Cherokee Indian Fairgrounds.

The top male runner was Chad Cooper with a time of 21:43 while the top female finishers was Jenny Bean with a time of 27:58.

Cherokee Runners officials stated, “We would like to thank the Cherokee Indian Police Department, Cherokee Fire Department, Cherokee Tribal EMS, Cherokee Bottled Water, Right On Time Productions, the Cherokee Cancer Support Group, and the members of Cherokee Runners, family and volunteers that ensured the safety and success of the race.”

“Also, the sponsors of the event are very much appreciated including: Owl Construction; Cherokee Electrical; Cherokee Enterprises; Cherokee Preservation Foundation; Long Term Care Associates, Inc.- Dr. Daniel M. Raiford, DDS;

Mountain Ear, Nose & Throat; Dr. Savelle; Dr. Mauldin, and Deb Conseen Bradley.”

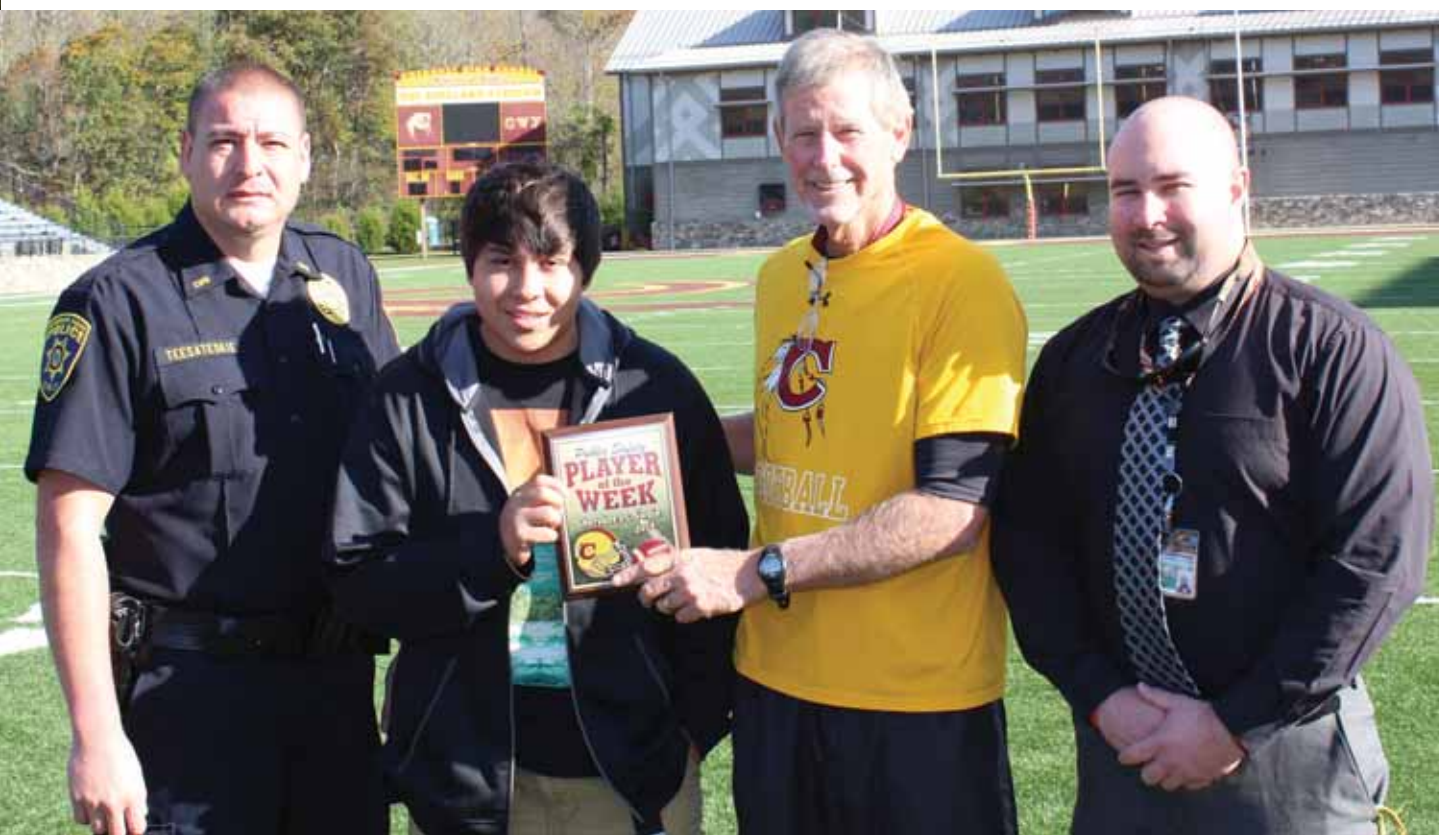

The Cherokee Runners are members of the Road Runners Clubs of America and USA Track & Field Association. A portion of the registration fee will be donated to the Cherokee Cancer Support Group. The group meets on the 2nd Tuesday of each month at the Age Link Conference Room. Anyone can join regardless of fitness level. Walkers are welcome and all age groups can join.

Thank you from Miss Cherokee 2014

TAYLOR WILNOTY MISS CHEROKEE 2014

Siyo Nigada! First, I would like to thank the Creator for the wonderful opportunity he has blessed me with as your Miss Cherokee 2014. It was such an amazing adventure, and I look forward to spending time with you all during my reign.

I would like to thank the Pageant Board for this opportunity for our young women. Thank you to Deb West and Kristi Hyatt for working with us and making sure we hit our marks. I would also like to congratulate my fellow contestants, Amorie Gunter and Angel Squirrel. I enjoyed spending time with you both and getting to know you.

Elnora Thompson, Deb Bradley, Tooter Owens, Samantha Hernandez, Rosie Teesatuskie, and Marcia Hollifield – thank you for being here for me and having my back! I look forward to working with you through the upcoming year. You ladies (and husbands) did an excellent job with the stage the night of the pageant, and I truly appreciate all the hard work you did!

To my Mom and Dad – you are the best parents. Thank you for believing in me and pushing me to do my best. You have always believed in Dennie, Dawson, and myself, and loved us unconditionally. Without your love and strength, I would not be where I am today. Thank you for everything!

To Dennie and Dawson – I love you both so much, you're my heart and soul. Dawson, you're my best friend. I'm so thankful to have such an amazing little/big brother like you. Thank you for believing in me, and thank you for keeping me sane during the pageant. Dennie, I love you and miss you so much. You're the reason for all that I do. I hope I've made you proud. Thank you for keeping me strong through this entire journey, and reminding me to always have faith.

Nannie and Papaw Taylor – I love you both so much! You are two of the biggest inspirations of my life. Thank you for believing in me. I can't wait to walk the halls of Washington, and it encourages me to know that these were the halls you once walked, Papaw, to make life better for our people. Nannie, you are my strength. Not only are you the best Nannie in the world, but you raised and loved so many people here in Cherokee, providing for them as if they were your own.

Rosie, Dan, Connor and Tsini – I can't begin to thank you for all that you have done. Rosie, you're like a second mom to me. I couldn't have done this without you. Thank you, Uncle Dan, for making my feather cape and being there to support me and wash my car (lol). To Connor and Tsini, I love you both. Thank you for reminding me of myself and Dawson! I know you both rooted for me from the beginning and that means the world to me.

Renissa McLaughlin – thank you for blessing me with your good looks (wink)! Your help was amazing! Thank you for everything, and your support meant so very much!

Vivica Dupree – my stylist and hair guru - you are the best at what you do. Thank you for helping me to stay calm and helping me look my best!

I would also like to thank Marina Graham, Bo Taylor, Fred Wilnoty, Evan Mathis, Richard Saunooke, Nancy and Johnny Ruth Maney, Faye McCoy, Madison Crowe, Bambi and Dike Sneed, and Sheena Brings Plenty for your talented work and artistic abilities to complete my ensemble. Jayce Watty, Kaniah, Jayce and Braylon James, Dawson Wilnoty, Jacob Smith, Jeffrey Girty & Grae Crowe – thanks for throwing all that candy at our Parade!

To my sponsors: Cherokee Boys Club, Talking Leaves Bookstore, Cherokee Grand Hotel, Sherry Taylor & Chris Southards, Tommye Saunooke, Bill Taylor, Charlotte Saunooke, Rosie & Dan McCoy, Nannie & Papaw Taylor – thank you for helping me achieve my dream with your generous donations.

To my Tribe – I want you to know that this is a dream come true for me! I will represent you all with love and devotion, and I will treat this duty with the utmost respect and dedication. If you would like for me to appear at an event, please contact Elnora Thompson with this request.

I will be submitting monthly reports to our paper, so I look forward to sharing my journey with you throughout the following year.

Thank you letter from Junior Miss Cherokee

Shiyo, my name is Alexa Jade Ledford, and on Oct. 9 I was crowned the 2014-15 Junior Miss Cherokee. I am very excited and look forward to representing the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians with great pride and dignity. I would like to begin by thanking the Creator for blessing me with this honor.

Thank you Mom, you never let me down and always want me to excel in all that I do. Thank you for the countless hours you spent gathering everything I needed to prepare me, from outfits, to sponsorship letters, and getting me to all required practices, etc. I love you Mom and could never thank you enough!

Next, I want to thank Chaz. She never gave up on me and pushed me because she believed in me more than anything. Thank you so much, all of our hard work paid off!

To my Aunt Rosie and Uncle Dan, thank you for believing in me and providing me with all my silver and the beautiful feather cape. I am very thankful for your help and continued support.

Renissa, thank you for making sure I kept calm and relaxed on pageant night, and making sure my outfits came together beautifully. I really appreciate you and all you done for me.

Vivica, you never let me down and always make me feel beautiful. I can't thank you enough for all the up-dos, braids, and make-up. You are fabulous, thank you so much! Aunt Kathie, thank you for providing me with the corn beads and making sure they were nicely bagged to hand out to the crowd. I appreciate your time and patience very much!

Jordyn Thompson, I can't tell you how much I appreciate you! I was at a loss for words when you gave me my beautiful purse basket, I will carry it with great pride. Also, thank you for letting me ride on your pretty car, you're the best! Nancy and Johnny Ruth Maney, thank you for making all of my beautiful outfits. Both of you do awesome work!

Richard Saunooke, thank you for my beautiful pucker-toed moccasins.

Kara, thank you for being such a great pageant coach to myself and the other contestants. Because of your guidance, we were prepared and ready to walk the stage. Henryetta Gloyne, thank you for your work on my formal dress on such a short notice.

Jayln, my sister Madison, Keelie, Jadan, Me-Li, Nevayah, Boie, Tsini, and Connor thank you for helping me in the parade with passing out candy and handing out corn beads during my talent.

Thank you to all of my sponsors: Moni and Ben Toineeta, Dan and Rosie McCoy, Patrick and Cindy Lambert, Buddy Lambert, Jack and Tootsie Gloyne, TGC, Diamond Nails, Peters Pancakes, Johnny and Teresa McCoy, Albert Rose, CBC Printing, Paige Jackson, Tawania Ensley, Jennifer Bigmeat, Bo Crowe, and Native Street Machines. Without your generous donations I wouldn't have been able to compete for the title of Junior Miss Cherokee.

I would like to let each of my fellow Junior Miss contestants know that it was a pleasure to share the stage with you all. Each one of you is beautiful and talented.

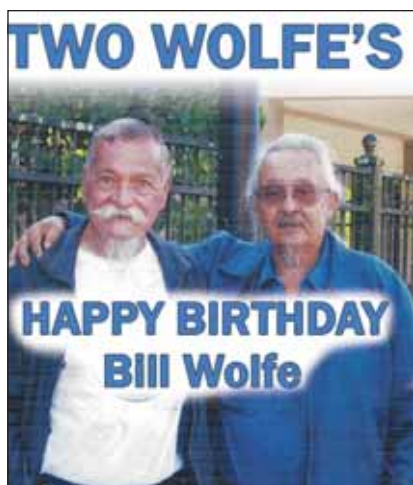

Lastly, I would like to thank my family and friends who supported and believed in me from day one. Thank you for the prayers, words of encouragement and for having faith in me. I love you all!

Congratulations to the newly crowned Miss Cherokee Taylor Wilnoty, Teen Miss Cherokee Madison Hye Long, and Little Miss Cherokee Jenna Cruz. I look forward to the upcoming year representing the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians with each of you!

In last week's One Feather, a photo on page 8 misidentified Little Miss Cherokee. It should have read Little Miss Cherokee Jenna Cruz. The One Feather regrets the error.

Veterans Memorial Center coming together in Cherokee

By L.H. HARDING

A few years ago, former Air Force Sergeant and Post 143 member Dr. Angela Ragan, while writing her master's thesis at Western Carolina University, created an ongoing program of dates and information gathering about the experiences of Cherokee Veterans who had served their country in the United States military. She collected information through research and recorded interviews.

When we celebrated her graduation day and PHD honors at Emory University, we spoke about how her work could be part of our Veterans Memorial Museum. Media specialists from the Charles George VA Center in Asheville have also conducted and recorded on-camera interviews of Cherokee Veterans for preservation and inclusion in our Memorial Museum. These are the stories of those who served and to whom we owe so much. They honored us, and we choose to honor them.

In subsequent years, as we looked at the focus and scope of this undertaking, it was decided that not just military should be included, but also tribal leaders from the legislative, executive and judicial departments of our tribal government. And, for their commitment, dedication, sacrifice, and service, the exemplary service of our police officers, firefighters, emergency medical personnel and our extraordinary educators should also be included in our presentations, displays and awards showcase.

This concept of such a Veterans Memorial Center is a bold and visionary undertaking that has never been done before. We believe that it will have a long-term and profound effect on our people as it permanently honors and lifts up those who served, and are serving the Cherokee people.

The history of our tribe is replete with stories of men and women who have served in extraordinary ways. Some were recognized, some little noted, others forgotten.

Charles George, our Congressional Medal of Honor recipient, is but one of many Cherokee heroes. We intend to name our museum in honor of this brave young man.

There have been many other hometown heroes, not just the ones who served in the military. We intend that history will not be forgotten. We will recognize and honor them as well, with permanent records of their lives and accomplishments. These records will include pictures, narratives, audio and video presentations and family and genealogical histories. All of this historical data will be preserved in our library and museum on CD's and DVD's with a 200-year shelf life. In recent years, there has been a long-overdue resurgence of interest in verifiable and authentic presentation of our military, family, and cultural histories. It has been initiated and encouraged by our Tribal leaders and

RE-ELECT SHERIFF CURTIS COCHRAN

An Honest, Dependable, and Experienced Sheriff

My name is Curtis Cochran and I am a candidate for re-election as Sheriff of Swain County.

As Sheriff for the past 8 years, I have had the pleasure of working closely with my friends and neighbors on the Qualla Boundary, thereby resulting in a relationship of mutual trust and respect which, in turn, has grown into a strong bond of friendship.

My staff and I work daily with the Cherokee Indian Police, and we have a Memorandum of Understanding providing for mutual assistance whenever it is requested by either agency. Together, we have developed a Joint Drug Enforcement Unit, which works closely together, sharing office space and developing the knowledge and skills that are required to carry out the critical tasks assigned to it.

This is indicative of the close-knit relationship between Swain County and Tribal Law Enforcement. And as Sheriff of Swain County, I will continue to respond to any request for assistance by the Boundary. We are all affected by criminal activity, regardless of whether we are on the Reservation or off. So, it is important that this strong bond remain intact, for the betterment of all of our citizens.

As Sheriff, I have also had the pleasure of attending community club meetings throughout Swain County, including those on the Boundary. I do this, not only to bring my message, but also to listen to the concerns of the community. I do not profess to have answers to all of our problems but, by working together, we have a greater chance of solving these problems together.

I like to help people. If there is a problem that you would like to discuss, I will gladly listen, and help where I can. For example, with the opening of the new Cherokee Detention Center, there will be many challenges that will arise, and they will prove to be difficult at times. The Swain County Sheriff's Office will remain available, at all times, to assist the Boundary, in any way possible, to insure that the opening of the facility is smooth and seamless.

I enjoy being a Sheriff, for all the people, and not just for a particular political party or special interest. I have an open door policy, and will gladly see you without an appointment. And, I will continue to treat you with dignity and respect. And, equally as important, I will continue to demand the same from my staff, regardless of whether they are Deputies or Detention Officers.

Crow donates to Locks of Love

Matthias Crow, 17, an EBCI tribal member, had his hair cut at Crowe's Barber Shop on Tuesday, Oct. 14 as a memorial to Gilbert Crowe Sr. Matthias hasn't had the back of his hair cut since he was two years old. Gilbert told Matthias that if he ever got his hair cut, that he wanted to do it. Although that wasn't possible, Matthias still wanted to come to Crowe's Barber Shop and have it cut in his honor. The hair will be donated to Locks of Love.

Kina (Granny Kina) Littlejohn

Kina (Granny Kina) Littlejohn, 94, of Cherokee, went to be with the Lord on Tuesday, Oct. 14, 2014 following an extended illness while staying at the Tsali Care Center.

She was the daughter of the late Jasper Queen and Luzene (Reed) Queen. She was a Homemaker, but was known to most as Granny Kina due to her loving, teaching and fostering of many children in the community through being a day care worker and foster parent.

She is survived by her children Mose Oocumma (wife Peggy), Annie Oocumma, Peggy "Dollie" Littlejohn, Ahli-sha Stephens (husband Jake), Henry Queen Littlejohn, Joe Oocumma, Clint Oocumma (wife Cassandra), Norma Davidson and Susan Oocumma; siblings, Henry Queen and Myrtle Bird; 21 grandchildren; 31 great-grandchildren; and three great-great grandchildren.

Kina is preceded in death by her husband Boyd Littlejohn; son, Levi Oocumma; grandchildren, Kina-Marie Littlejohn and Kina Darlene Youngdog; brothers, Blaine, Jesse, Tom and Lewis Queen; sisters, Eva Wolfe, Annie Powell and Minnie Smith.

A visitation was held on Thursday, Oct. 16 at Bethabara Baptist Church. The funeral service was held on Friday, Oct. 17. Burial was at the Littlejohn Cemetery. Family will act as Pall Bearers. Pastor Eddie Sherrill, Pastor James "Bo" Parris and Pastor Richard Duke will officiate.

Long House Funeral Home assisted the family with arrangements.

Local gospel singer passes away

Norman Wilson, of The Primitive Quartet, passed away Wednesday, Oct. 15 after suffering an apparent massive heart attack while hunting with friends in Graham County. Wilson played mandolin and sang tenor for the band since 1973.

The Primitive Quartet began when two sets of brothers, Reagan and Larry Riddle and Furman and Norman Wilson, carried a guitar and mandolin with them on a fishing trip to Fontana Lake. After the fishing trip, with the encouragement of their parents and pastor, they began to sing together at area churches, calling themselves the Riddle-Wilson Quartet.

The Riddle and Wilson brothers went on the road as full-time musicians in 1978. Now called the Primitive Quartet, in honor of the old-time gospel singing that inspired them.

They have recorded several albums and have toured throughout the United States and abroad. The group was the subject of a BBC documentary in 1984, and Singing News has listed them among the top five nominees for its readers' Band of the Year award for several years consecutively. All but one of "the Primitives" live in Candler.

WCU Cherokee Center Report

The Western Carolina University Football program has designated the WCU vs. Chattanooga game on Saturday, Nov. 1 as a day of recognition for the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians.

A number of events will highlight the community and Tribe including: 1. Team helmet will have a logo designed by WCU student, Jakeli Swimmer. 2. Team roster will be written in syllabary (thanks to the WCU Cherokee Language Program by Hartwell Francis and Tom Belt. 3. Special guest from EBCI will do the coin toss. The first 1,000 fans to enter will receive a free PAWS bobblehead. 4. We will have a special reserved area for pre-game tailgating. 5. Special on-field presentation honoring EBCI.

Tickets for this game are on sale at the WCU Cherokee Center for a special rate of $10 per ticket. Particular activities for this game will be explained in more detail next week. We are calling on the alumni of WCU to invite friends and neighbors to this game.

Info: 497-7920. Please purchase your tickets at the Center (Monday - Friday from 8 a.m. - 5 p.m.). Go Cats!

The WCU Cherokee Center is a designated drop-off center for the Cards for Soldiers program sponsored by the Red Cross. We are asking for new Christmas cards, without envelopes, either signed or unsigned. We need to collect these cards now until Thanksgiving. No envelopes are needed as the Red Cross will mail them in bulk in time for Christmas. Please contribute to this worthy and patriotic cause. Contact the Cherokee Center 497-7920 if you have any questions. We are open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. - 5 p.m.

Thank you from the family of Sydney Jackson

The family of Sydney Jackson thanks everyone for the outpouring of sympathy during the devastating loss of our beautiful Sydney. Special thanks to Pastors Paul Teasdale and Ben Crowe and Brother Joe Wolfe for officiating the service; Rock Springs, Antioch Singers and Larry Blythe for the beautiful singing and testimony; to Adam Wachacha for doing whatever needed to be done. You were there for Sydney in life and death. The family thanks Brandon Jones, Little Snowbird Church, Encie Bird and Chuck Garland, Geraldine Thompson, Brook's Cove Church, and the Crowe family; Little Snowbird Church, Alyne Turner, Kathy Holloway, Renee Wachacha and Marsha Harwood for the delicious food. We extend our appreciation to the Townson-Smith Funeral Home family. We appreciate Tribal Construction and the grave diggers for preparing Sydney's final resting place. Thanks to pallbearers Junior Jackson, Stuart Jackson, Eddie Stamper, Chad Bridges, Adam Wachacha, Cody Collins, Josh Owl and Blaze Powers. Thanks to Chief Michell Hicks and Vice-Chief Larry Blythe and to all the other people who brought food and flowers or came to pray and cry with us. It is a blessing God work through people.

Pray for our family as we are heartbroken and solace is hard to find. Pray for the Graham County Sheriff's Department and law enforcement agencies to diligently search and find justice for Sydney; the drug community, rampant in this area, needs be held accountable for destroying precious lives. May God richly bless each of you.

*Thank you,
The family of Sydney Jackson*

Thank you from pageant contestant

I would like to thank everyone in my family that helped with my Jr. Miss pageant. Thank you first to my mom and dad for getting me to practice and for all the support you always give me in anything that choose to do. Special thanks to my momma Sue Long for making my outfit and my Aunt Tess for beading my moc-casins.

To Nancy and Johnny Sue Maney, thank you for my beautiful shirts. To my singer, Frankie Bottchenbaugh, I really appreciate you for taking the time to practice and singing for my pageant. Thank you to my dancers Jacob Long, Chloe Ledford, Jeece Ledford, Shadow Long, and Ryan Walkingstick. Thank you all so much and I love you. To Aunt "Punney" Parker Washington, thank for the hair piece. My hair turned out wonderful, and my mom said she loves you dearly. To Native Street Machines Car Club, thank you for the donation for my candy for the parade. To Kara Martin, thanks for all the direction for the pageant. You are a wonderful teacher.

Thank you to Rae queen for being our representative for Jr. Miss and making sure that everyone was there and on time. Thanks to other contestants. We had a great time, and congratulations to Jade Ledford for winning Jr. Miss Cherokee. Thank you to my God above for giving me the strength to get through this event.

Teach your children well

ROBER JUMPER
ONE FEATHER EDITOR

As this election season continues, I believe it is important to educate and provide a venue for young people to participate and voice their opinions. In many cases, young people possess the innocence and straight forward mentality to express unbiased wisdom concerning candidates and issues.

It has been said before. Children are the future of our Tribe. Part of protecting and preserving the future is to nurture and train the generation behind us. We need informed children that grow up to be inquisitive and informed adults.

Start by including your children in the way you prepare to vote in elections. If your child is computer savvy, as most are these days, let them help in your candidate and issue research. They will appreciate your willingness to let them be a part of the process and also getting additional quality time with family.

Every child should understand what each branch of government is and its functionality.

As a family, include your children when you attend community club meetings and find ways to solicit participation in the meetings from the children. As you watch Tribal Council sessions, explain to your children what is going on and how it will affect their lives. When you are out and about with your child, point out the government projects and how what the actions in the government offices resulted in the development of those projects. Explain how projects and initiatives are funded. Tell your children how these decisions personally impact them.

The Junaluska Leadership Council is a great opportunity for teens to experience and be a part of tribal government. Our tribal leadership should encourage other avenues for engaging children in governmental processes and at earlier ages. They truly are the future of the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians.

Chrysanthemums

These eye-catching flowers come in many colors and petal sizes (from delicate long-petaled blooms to tight clusters of flowers with colorful centers). They're extremely hardy, thriving in conditions where other flowers might fail. Line your walkways and paths with them or place in baskets at your door to add some real pop to your curb appeal.

REQUEST FOR PROPOSALS: FACILITIES MASTER PLAN

The Tribe is requesting proposals for a Firm or individual to conduct asessments on our 80+ tribal buildings, building and facilities needs for our tribal programs, building safety assessments, and recommendations on replacement vs. renovation, cost estimations for recommendations and timetables for replacement vs. renovation. The end product should be a Facilities Master Plan for the Tribal Government to adopt and implement for its operations.

Services provided by the Firm or Individual must include, but are not limited to, the following:

1. Assist the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians in evaluating its building and facilities needs through assessment of current facilities, documenting the current condition and safety considerations, occupancy, current use, future use and future needs based on operations.
2. Assist the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians in establishing criteria for renovation vs. replacement of existing facilities, and determining new construction needs.
3. Assist the EBCI in determining potential sites for construction of new facilities based on best land use parameters.
4. Determine cost of renovations, replacements and new construction, and priority schedule for the next 10-15 years.
5. Produce a Facilities Master Plan Document that outlines the EBCI's facility needs and a 10-15 year plan for renovation, replacement and new construction.

The Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians anticipates the following deliverables:

1. Analysis reports including safety considerations, occupancy type, occupancy limits, and condition for each current tribal facility.
  2. Report on cost implementing recommendations per facility for renovation, replacement and new construction.
  3. Produce a Facilities Master Plan Document outlining the 10-15 year needs of the EBCI.
  4. Document a repeatable process for the EBCI to execute in future years.

now has a momentum of its own.

This Memorial Center and Museum, in addition to its military space, will have a Hall of Chiefs, a Tribal leadership Hall of Fame, a library, an American Legion meeting space, and an Honor and Awards Hall in the existing large courtroom. It will also have a banquet room and meeting rooms for Tribal programs for our Iraq and Afghanistan Veterans. It will be a teaching and educational facility, not just to showcase the past, but to create a vision for the future. We believe that it will make an indelible impression on the hearts and minds of those whose lives it touches, now and for generations to come.

We ask that those who are interested in being a part of this project, let a post member know. Don't step back, step up. That's what our Veterans, Tribal leaders, police officers, firefighters, EMS personnel and educators have done. Their example of "service above self" during times of great need in the history of our Tribe and our country honor us. Their dedication, sacrifice, and firm belief in the future of our people allows us to be where we are today. There have been many and there will be many more, so let's show them our appreciation for their service and steadfast belief in the future of our country.

We are working with this newspaper to begin periodically highlighting the service of some of our veterans in a Cherokee Warriors section of the One Feather. We thank them for their interest and professionalism; and we thank you, the Cherokee people, for helping memorialize those who gave so much that we might be free.

PUBLIC SERVICE ANNOUNCEMENT: EBOLA VIRUS DISEASE
FROM: EBCI PUBLIC HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES DIVISION
DATE: OCTOBER 17, 2014

The EBCI Community is working collaboratively with surrounding counties and community partners to address the threat of Ebola, and to inform the community about this disease.

- You can only get Ebola from:
  - Touching the blood or body fluids of a person who is sick with or has died from Ebola.
  - Touching objects, like needles, that are contaminated with Ebola.
- You CANNOT get Ebola through air, water or food.
- What you can do:
  - Wash your hands
  - Get your flu shot
  - Be aware of health risks when you travel

Although the risk of Ebola spreading in the United States is very low, CDC and its partners are taking action to prevent this from happening.

If you have questions about Ebola, please call 1-800-222-1222 or visit the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) website:
