Local residents perform the Friendship Dance.

Fourth Annual Cherokee Community Day held

SUBMITTED BY PEGGY KERBOW

The Cherokee Healing & Wellness Coalition sponsored its 4th Annual Cherokee Community Day this past Saturday at the Tsali Manor Pavilion. Friends and families gathered on a beautiful fall day to honor, promote and reclaim some of our Cherokee traditions.

Identifying of one's clan family is a standard activity during this annual event as is the Cementation or "make friends" (Atunah) activity. The Atunah is one of the seven ceremonies that was traditionally held during this time of the year. The importance of this ceremony was that the Cherokees came together after their New Year ceremony for thanksgiving, renewal, reclaiming and forgiveness of relationships. This event showed how important community cohesiveness and individual relationships were. It was a time to forgive all passed wrongs and ill feelings one had for others, and a time for individuals to commit to loving and caring for each other. Tom Hill, the Fire Keeper for this event, kept the fire blazing while individuals took time to identify those others for whom they carried ill feelings, hatred or dislikes toward. This process included, writing down the names and then throwing the pieces of paper on which the names were written into the fire. This act demonstrated a mental and physical way of saying, "I forgive you and will no longer carry these feelings inside me, clearing the way for me to have a loving and caring way of living." The Cherokee knew that carrying hostility divided our People and that clearing away negative energy in our bodies promoted good health and kept peace among our people.

After this, a Friendship Dance was held, led by Keawa Bone and the singing done by Kevin Jackson.

This year another Cherokee practice was introduced to the people. Several scientific research results were shared. For example, the importance of what drinking water has to our bodies which is 70% water; how the effects of drinking a daily quota of water has on reducing the risks of bladder cancer, colon cancer and the possible reduction of heart disease. Additionally, they were told of a research done by a renown Japanese doctor, Emirates Emoto, who found that words, feelings, and thoughts have a profound effect on water and the water produced either clear, brilliant, beautiful crystals, or ugly, dark, deformed ones depending on the intent delivered to them, either, spoke, thought, or written...it didn't matter in what form, only that the water took on the attitude. This particular research information should lead us to question what our behavior is doing to others since our bodies and planet are both 70% water!

The people were reminded of how the Cherokees used water in their daily lives and how it was also used for healing. For thousands of years, the Cherokees have known the importance of water, they have used water as medicine and practiced "going to water" in their daily lives, or during preparation for important ceremonies and activities. There were also special people who could use Ama in their healing practice. The Cherokees had knowledge of this life-giving resource many years before scientific "discoveries". Two elders brought water from a spring high in the mountains for the event, and a prayer of thanksgiving for the water, acknowledging the Creator's gift, and all's of life's dependence on it was given by Pastor Jack Russell. The Ama was then offered to anyone who desired to partake.

The Traditional Feast once again provided people with an opportunity to enjoy some of the Cherokee foods, bean and chestnut bread, squash, beans and corn, wild greens, frog legs, rabbit casserole, quail gravy and deer gravy, wishey and slicks, and various fruits and berry dishes, watercress salad, along with blueberry & hibiscus tea.

The group dismissed by singing a hymn in the Cherokee language.

Ribbon cutting held for Immediate Care Center

By SCOTT MCKIE B.P.
ONE FEATHER STAFF

The new Immediate Care Center had an official ribbon cutting and open house on Wednesday, Oct. 19. The facility will serve only those eligible for services at the Cherokee Indian Hospital and will handle a variety of non-emergency medical problems.

To celebrate the event, two ribbon cuttings were held. The first ribbon was cut by Principal Chief Michell Hicks and Yellowhill Rep. David Wolfe who serves as the chairman of the EBCI Health Board. The second ribbon was cut by Immediate Care Center staff including: Richard Bunio, MD, medical director for the Center; Donna Wiseman, RN, nurse manager; and Tara Davis, CNA.

"There has been a lot of work that has gone into this to make it possible and so far it has been a tremendous success," said Casey Cooper, Cherokee Indian Hospital Authority (CIHA) CEO. "It's really beat our expectations."

"The staff at Cherokee Indian Hospital has been so motivated to create solutions for the health problems in this community. The buy-in has been tremendous."

Chief Hicks said he hopes the Center will help reduce wait times in the emergency room at the hospital.

"We're going to get behind this 100 percent. Hopefully, this will resolve the issue and help provide better health care for our people."

Information provided by the hospital states, "The Immediate Care Center can take care of all but a few medical problems quickly and efficiently. The clinic can perform many tests on site and arrange any other test needed at the hospital."

Rep. Wolfe commented, "We brought the issues – the wait times, the access issues – to Casey and he addressed these with the (CIHA) Governing Board. I appreciate Carmaleta Monteith and her leadership and the leadership they provided."

"I know that patients will be much happier walking in on a flat surface, rolling right up to the door."

Carmaleta Monteith, CIHA Governing Board chairperson, said she appreciates the issues being brought to the Board so they could be addressed. "There were some changes made to the original proposal that was brought to us, but we think for the betterment and for better service to our people."

"I want to thank the Chief, David (Wolfe) with the Health Board and all of the Tribal Council members that are here in support of this initiative," she related. "As Casey has already mentioned, the success so far has exceeded our expectations."

Hospital CEO to speak at WCU

CULLOWHEE – Casey Cooper, the chief executive officer of Cherokee Indian Hospital, will speak about health issues concerning the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians at 6 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 2, in the theater of the A.K. Hinds University Center on the campus of Western Carolina University.

The event is free. The public is invited. This annual lecture on Indian health is sponsored by Harrah's Cherokee Casino and Hotel and WCU's College of Health and Human Sciences.

Cooper has served the Eastern Band community as a primary care nurse, community health nurse, nurse educator and nursing manager since graduating from nursing school in 1993. As EBCI health director from 1999-2004, he helped shape public health policy with a focus on chronic disease prevention and led a communitywide initiative to assume the management responsibilities of the Cherokee Indian Hospital from the Indian Health Services. Cooper received his bachelor's degree in nursing from Gardner-Webb University and a master's degree in business from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and is a fellow of the American College of Healthcare Executives.

Environmental Studies continue for proposed NC143 improvements in Graham County

RALEIGH — The N.C. Department of Transportation is continuing its study of proposed improvements to N.C. 143 west of Robbinsville in Graham County. The project begins at West Buffalo Creek and ends at N.C. 143 Business, a distance of approximately five miles. The purpose of the project is to improve safety.

NCDOT staff will be in the area performing environmental surveys over the next several months. These surveys are being conducted in order to identify potential impacts to the human and natural environments, in accordance with the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA). Residents should note that the presence of NCDOT staff does not necessarily mean that the properties they are studying will be purchased as right of way for the project.

A recommended alternative will be selected after the environmental studies are completed and after citizens have had the opportunity to comment on the project.

Based upon coordination with representatives of federal, state and local governmental agencies and comments received from citizens, the following three alternatives are being studied. Each alternative proposes widening travel lanes and shoulders on N.C. 143.

- Alternative 1 – Widen existing N.C. 143 with curve improvements from West Buffalo Creek to just north of N.C. 143 Business, including realignment of the N.C. 143 intersection with N.C. 143 Business at the east end of the project.

- Alternative 2 – Widen existing N.C. 143 with curve improvements from West Buffalo Creek to just north of Buchanan Branch Road (S.R. 1125), following the Alternative 1 alignment; construct a new roadway to east of S.R. 1118, with a new crossing of Snowbird Creek; and widen existing N.C. 143 with curve improvements to just north of N.C. 143 Business, including realignment of the N.C. 143 intersection with N.C. 143 Business.

- Alternative 4 – Widen existing N.C. 143 from West Buffalo Creek to N.C. 143 Business with no curve improvements and no realignment of the N.C. 143 intersection with N.C. 143 Business.

Under each alternative, N.C. 143 would remain a two-lane road, possibly with turn lanes at selected intersections. The proposed improvements will require the acquisition of additional right of way and possibly the displacement of homes and businesses.

A fourth alternative, Alternative 3, was considered during the early project development stages. That improvement, which would have required a greater amount of new road construction north of Buchanan Branch Road and the crossing of a wider section of Santeetlah Lake, was eliminated from further consideration due to potential adverse impacts to Nantahala National Forest.

Additional public involvement for the project is scheduled to take place later this year or in early 2012 prior to the selection of a recommended alternative. It is anticipated that acquisition of right of way for the project will begin in late 2015 and project construction will begin in late 2017. This schedule is subject to change.

Maps displaying the three alternatives for which detailed studies are underway are available for public review at the Graham County Manager's Office, located at 12 North Main St. in Robbinsville, and at the Snowbird Community Center near Robbinsville.

For more information about the project, contact NCDOT Project Engineer Wilson Stroud at (919)707-6045 or wstroud@ncdot.gov.

“Doing Business with the Government” workshop scheduled

The Cherokee Business Development Center and Sequoyah Fund will host a workshop on Tuesday, Nov. 8 from 10 a.m. to 12 noon in the large conference room of the Ginger Lynn Welch Complex at 810 Acquoni Road in Cherokee to focus on accessing federal contracting opportunities for area small businesses.

Clark Fields, Government Procurement Counselor with the SBTDC's Procurement Technical Assistance Center, and Mike Arriola, Senior Area Manager for the U.S. Small Business Administration, will conduct “Doing Business with the Government.” The workshop is open to small business owners in Cherokee seeking to do business with the federal government. Workshop attendees will discover how to identify sales opportunities; evaluate federal and state solicitations for jobs; register a business; find assistance resources; understand the bid process; match a firm with the various SBA and other federal contracting preference programs to maximize a firm's marketability; and tap into the SBA surety bond guaranty program.

“The federal government is the world's largest purchaser of goods and services, and the Small Business Act targets 23 percent of contracting dollars to go to small businesses,” commented the SBA's Arriola. “This workshop seeks to connect Cherokee small businesses with the tools they need to tap into those business opportunities.”

In addition to the Cherokee Business Development Center and Sequoyah Fund, the workshop is also sponsored by SCORE and the NC SBTDC. Lunch will be provided immediately following the workshop. Both are free of charge; however, attendees are required to register with the Business Development Center by phoning (828) 497-1666.

Wilson hired to manage Right Path program

By NANCY FOLTZ
CHEROKEE PRESERVATION FOUNDATION

Cherokee Preservation Foundation has announced that Juanita Wilson has been hired as Program Manager for The Right Path, a culture-based leadership development program for adult members of the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians. The Right Path, which just finished its inaugural year, works to bridge the past and present by examining traditional cultural elements as well as contemporary leadership competencies. The purpose of adult and youth leadership programs developed by Cherokee Preservation Foundation and members of the community is to introduce the concept of selfless leadership and encourage emerging leaders to draw on Cherokee traditions in their decision making process.

“The Right Path is helping the EBCI produce leaders who will be guided by their cultural roots, which I believe is a critical characteristic that must be nurtured,” said Wilson, who is the first Program Manager of The Right Path and served as a consultant in the pilot phase of the program.

Previously, Wilson was employed as Site Director for the “Today, Not Tomorrow” alcohol prevention program in the Cherokee Central and Swain County schools, Deputy Administrative Cherokee Runners are Rockin' the Roads!

By GERRI GRADY
CHEROKEE RUNNERS

October training continues for the Cherokee Runners in addition to working on personal fitness goals. Chad Bowman and Skye Littlelave competed in two recent races: the Southeastern Tribes 5K and the Smoky Streak 10K and placed in both events. This coming weekend, several runners will compete in the Thomas Wolf 8K in Asheville and members have completed several long runs. On Sunday October 16 a group ran at least 16 miles on Round Bottom in Big Cove while two members ran almost 20 miles during the same group run. Round Bottom is challenging due to the gain in elevation during the first section of the course.

On Saturday, Oct. 15, the Cherokee Runners met with John Martin and his son, Michael, to run the Harvest 5K course that the Martins have been training for over the last several weeks. The pair traveled from Knoxville to run in what would be their first 5K. The group, including the Couch to 5K trainee, had a great time on the run and good fellowship after. Congratulations to the Martins on completing their first 5K!

Upcoming events include preparing a pasta dinner for the Cherokee School Cross Country Team on Oct. 27. The Marine Corps Marathon will take place on Oct. 30 in Washington, D.C. The group held a 50/50 to raise gas money for the trip. The winner was Doug Reed of Big Cove.

The next regular meeting will be held on Nov. 3 at 7pm at the Age Link Conference Room. Anyone interested in improving fitness through walking or running is welcome to join the group. Visit our Facebook page (Cherokee Runners) or the group's website www.cherokeerunners.com.

Big Cove Representative Report

Several important issues have been raised during the past week. One of these is the proposed resolution for the sale of alcohol. I do not endorse yes or no, but I think that the people should have a voice in this decision. So I encourage everyone, if and when it comes to referendum, please go out and vote and let your voice be heard.

Several important issues have been brought up in committees that affect Big Cove directly. Even though I do not sit on all the committees, I do have the opportunity to sit in to gather information. Roads Committee revealed that the slide area at the top of Bunches Creek has been granted funding and repairs should be underway after the repaving of Galamore Road. This slide area has been of great concern due to the fact that if the slide should become worse, it could affect one of our possible entrance and exit points for Big Cove in the event of an emergency.

We should have an amount for the per capita distribution in Friday's annual council.

If you want to comment or ask questions, please contact me at 828-736-2947 or email me at kolanvvi@gmail.com.

By SCOTT MCKIE B.P.
ONE FEATHER STAFF

On a cold, blustery day, Kendall Toineeta jumped out in front early and didn't look back as she ran to a first place finish at the Smoky Mountain Conference Cross Country Championships held at Cherokee High School on Wednesday, Oct. 19. The freshman sensation led the Lady Braves to a third place finish in the overall team contest.

"Kendall is just a superstar," Eddie Swimmer, CHS cross country coach, said after the race. "There are no words to describe Kendall. She is just a blaze. She takes off and goes."

Toineeta, who was also named "Most Outstanding Runner" for the Smoky Mountain Conference, came in with a winning time of 20:55.30 – 53 seconds ahead of second place finisher Katie Bowden of Hayesville. Amber Long, Robbinsville, came in third with a time of 22:03.46 and her teammate Lindy Cronk finished fourth with a time of 22:26.99.

With a total of 44 points, Robbinsville won the girls team title. They were followed by Hayesville 55, Cherokee 60, Murphy 77, Andrews 129 and Hiwassee Dam 135.

Swimmer said he is proud of the team, "The girls did good. I'm proud of them. They worked hard. People don't realize how hard they work – the hours of running that they put in."

On the boy's side, Dylan Johnson, Hayesville, took home the title with a time of 16:57.10. He was followed by Frank Cline, Robbinsville, with a time of 17:02.52 and Robert Vinson, Hayesville, with a time of 17:34.63.

Of the meet, Swimmer noted, "I think the meet went very well considering the weather. The teams, they ran tough, they ran hard in this cold weather."

Cherokee plays host to the Regional Cross Country meet on Saturday, Oct. 29 with the boy's race scheduled to start at 1pm with the girl's race to follow.

Project Lazarus: Community Club Meetings Schedule

Project Lazarus is a community-based program designed to reduce accidental deaths from abusing or misusing narcotics. The initiative takes a public health approach by uniting efforts between many community sectors like the hospitals, law enforcement, recovery programs, youth programs, churches, etc. Project Lazarus is now spreading across the 50 counties within the state of North Carolina. A local team of community advocates and Tribal programs have teamed up to bring Project Lazarus specifically to the Cheerokee Community, which is seeing its own epidemic of drug abuse.

Thanks to support funding from the Cherokee Preservation Foundation and matching contributions from the Cherokee Police Department, A local group of providers and community advocates has been able to present to several Cherokee community club meetings over the past few months. Traffic

Every day businesses across America open their doors to wait for customers. For millions of businesses, the activity that best drives customers through their doors is newspaper advertising. That's because 8 out of 10 consumers act on newspaper advertising over a 30-day period.

Consumers rate Newspapers as the media:

- Used most for shopping ads
- Where consumers like to see ads
- Most valuable in planning shopping
- With the most trusted and believable ads
- Preferred for receiving ad information

With over 70% of U.S. adults reading a newspaper in print or online in a typical week, that's more than 164 million people. With numbers like that coming through, don't stand too close to those doors.

Newspaper advertising works for millions of advertisers. Put it to work for you.

"And just how many helpings did he have of this upside-down cake?"

The Garden Bug

Fallen leaves

Fallen leaves are high in nutrients. Avoid bagging them for the trash dump! If dry, shred the leaves and reuse right away as a fine mulch to spread around and over wintering foliage (unshredded, wet leaves will mat together and form a dense layer that won't allow water to pass through). If leaves are wet, combine with other garden waste into a compost bin to enrich your soil during future growing seasons.

Traffic

Every day businesses across America open their doors to wait for customers. For millions of businesses, the activity that best drives customers through their doors is newspaper advertising. That's because 8 out of 10 consumers act on newspaper advertising over a 30-day period.

Consumers rate Newspapers as the media:

- Used most for shopping ads
- Where consumers like to see ads
- Most valuable in planning shopping
- With the most trusted and believable ads
- Preferred for receiving ad information

With over 70% of U.S. adults reading a newspaper in print or online in a typical week, that's more than 164 million people. With numbers like that coming through, don't stand too close to those doors.

Newspaper advertising works for millions of advertisers. Put it to work for you.

Traffic

Every day businesses across America open their doors to wait for customers. For millions of businesses, the activity that best drives customers through their doors is newspaper advertising. That's because 8 out of 10 consumers act on newspaper advertising over a 30-day period.

Consumers rate Newspapers as the media:

- Used most for shopping ads
- Where consumers like to see ads
- Most valuable in planning shopping
- With the most trusted and believable ads
- Preferred for receiving ad information

With over 70% of U.S. adults reading a newspaper in print or online in a typical week, that's more than 164 million people. With numbers like that coming through, don't stand too close to those doors.

Newspaper advertising works for millions of advertisers. Put it to work for you.
