Karyl Frankiewicz has been named Miss Cherokee 2012. She was crowned by Miss Cherokee 2011 Kristina Hyatt during the annual Miss Cherokee pageant held at the Chief Joyce Dugan Cultural Arts Center on Saturday, Sept. 29.

She is the daughter of Melissa Arch and Quinton Frankiewicz, and she resides in the Birdtown Community. Frankiewicz graduated from Cherokee High School in 2010 and is currently a sophomore at Southwestern Community College with a double major in Fine Arts and Early Childhood Education.

Frankiewicz competed against Kelly Driver, of the Big Cove Community, during Saturday night's pageant.

Driver is the daughter of Frank and Diane Driver. She graduated from Cherokee High School in 2006 and earned her bachelor's degree in English from Western Carolina University in 2011. Driver is currently a Cherokee Language teacher at Cherokee Middle School.

The two were judged on a personal interview, casual dress, traditional Cherokee dress, talent and public speaking.

For their talent, Frankiewicz sang "Amazing Grace" in the Cherokee language and English and Driver performed the Cherokee Buffalo Dance.

During the public speaking portion, Frankiewicz spoke on the revitalization of the Cherokee language and Driver spoke on the importance of obtaining a college education.

Eddie Swimmer served as the emcee for the event.

Robbery/Homicide being investigated

The Cherokee Indian Police are investigating an apparent robbery/homicide that occurred on Sunday, Sept. 30 at the Fairfield Inn & Suites, located at 568 Paint Town Rd.

The Cherokee Tribal Dispatch received a call at 9:58pm, from a local resident reporting shots being fired near the residences of Reuben Taylor Road. This residential area is in close proximity to the Fairfield Inn & Suites.

Cherokee Indian Police Officers found Barbara Preidet (Preet), 76, of Shelbyville, IN in the parking lot of the Fairfield Inn & Suites. Other officers and the Tribal EMS responded to the scene.

Witnesses said a person with a black mask and dark clothing grabbed a purse from the victim and fired a weapon. They also stated the person was thought to have fled toward a light blue or gray full size truck, possibly a Ford or Dodge extended cab. The truck was last seen leaving the parking lot traveling north on US 19.

Principal Chief Michel Hicks stated, "I am shocked by the events which occurred last night in Cherokee. Senseless violence is unacceptable in any community and I am committed to supporting the Cherokee Indian Police Department in locating the suspect in this crime and bringing them to justice. I also want to express my heartfelt sympathy to the family of the victim. Our Nation will continue to remember the family in prayer during this time."

Cherokee Chief of Police Ben Reed commented, "This is a tragic situation and our department will utilize all available resources to solve this crime. This is a cowardly act and the person responsible will be brought to justice. Please pray for all of the people involved."

The Cherokee Indian Police and the NC State Bureau of Investigations are investigating the incident as a homicide stemming from an apparent robbery.

Investigators are requesting anyone who may have been in the area or who have information to contact Detective Sean Birchfield (828) 269-6601 or Cherokee Tribal Dispatch 497-4131.

The Cherokee Indian Police Department is offering a $5,000 reward for information leading to an arrest and conviction.

Owl to enter Lenoir-Rhyne College Sports Hall of Fame

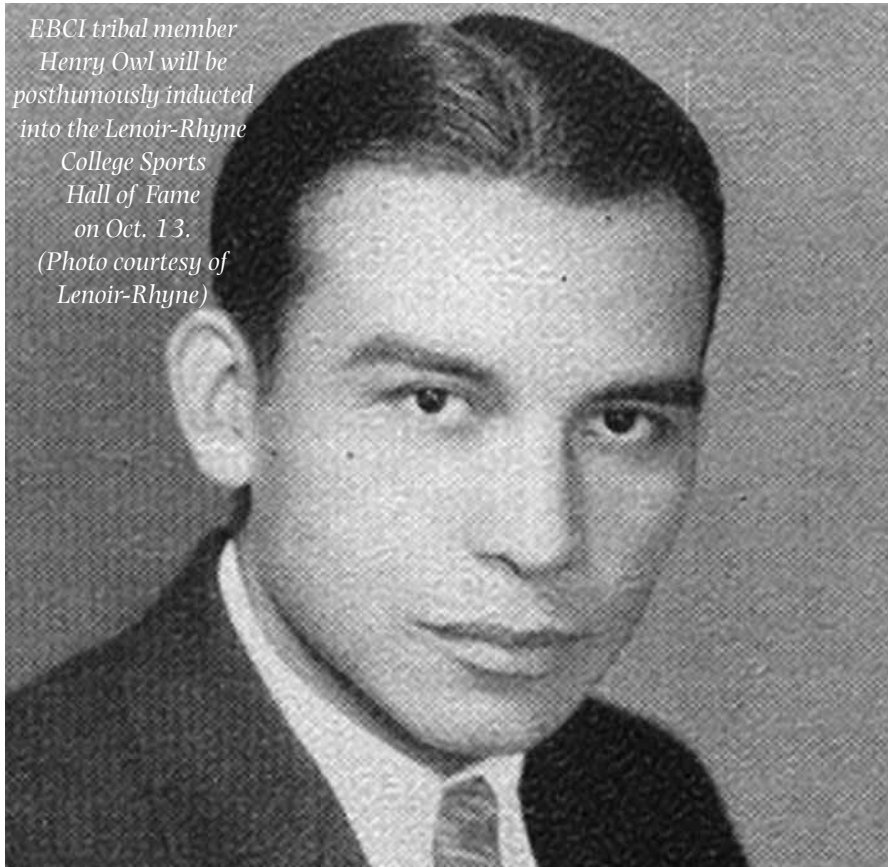

HICKORY - Lenoir-Rhyne College will add five members to its Sports Hall Of Fame as Fred Brown, John Davidson, Meghan Jolly, R. Michael McWhirter and Henry Owl make up the Class of 2012. The Hall Of Fame induction ceremony will be part of Lenoir-Rhyne's Homecoming Weekend and will take place in the P.E. Monroe Auditorium on L-R's campus at 11:15am on Saturday, Oct. 13.

The five will also be honored at halftime of Lenoir-Rhyne's Football Game with Tusculum, which begins at 2p.m., at Moretz Stadium.

Owl (Lenoir-Rhyne, 1928) (posthumous) was the first Cherokee to graduate from a North Carolina college and the first-ever Native American to be admitted to L-R and represent the school in athletics. An outstanding all-around athlete, Owl played three years on both the football (1925-27) and baseball (1926-28) squads and still holds the record for longest fumble return for a touchdown (1927 vs. Milligan). He was also the first American Indian to be admitted to the University of North Carolina in 1928 and earned his master's degree in history in 1929 from UNC. Owl testified before the United States Senate advocating for American Indian voting rights and was instrumental in the passage of a law granting citizenship rights to members of the Eastern Band of the Cherokee Indians, the last Indian tribe in the country to be guaranteed the right to vote. Owl, who passed away in 1980, was an educator and coach for the Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA) and worked for Boeing Aeronautical in Seattle, Wash.

Brown (Lenoir-Rhyne, 1969) lettered three years in both football (1966-68) and track and field (1967-69) at L-R. As a member of the football squad, Brown was part of three Carolinas Conference Championship teams and won the Sportsmanship Award in 1968. He helped lead Lenoir-Rhyne to a 21-6 mark during his career with the Bears. Brown, who earned his master's degree in health administration from North Carolina in 1980, retired in 2001 with the Rank of Colonel after 31 years of service in active duty and the National Guard. He was also awarded the Order of the Long Leaf Pine in 2002 and was the first Air Force Officer inducted into the U.S. Army Officer Candidate School Hall Of Fame. For the past six years, Brown has served as Group Vice President at Carolinas Healthcare System in Charlotte.

Davidson (Lenoir-Rhyne, 1970) was a three-year letterwinner (1968-70) on the Lenoir-Rhyne

Men's Basketball Team. He earned All-Carolinas Conference honors twice (1968-69 & 1969-70) and was an all-district, Lutheran College All-American and all-league tournament selection in 1970. Davidson, who led the team in scoring his junior (18.5 ppg) and senior (19.6 ppg) seasons, was the Team MVP in 1969-70 and is a member of L-R's 1,000-point club (1,010 career points). Davidson ranks fourth all-time in school history in career free throw percentage (.850) and led the Bears to a combined 48-31 record during his three seasons. Davidson is self-employed and COO of Campus Recognition in Statesville.

Jolly (Lenoir-Rhyne, 2002) played four years on the Lenoir-Rhyne Women's Golf Team (1999-02) and is still considered one of the best players at L-R and in the South Atlantic Conference. One of the conference's first women's golf stars, she was a two-time NGCA All-American and three-time SAC Player of the Year (2000-02) during her career at Lenoir-Rhyne. She was also a three-time all-league honoree and won the first South Atlantic Conference Women's Golf Championship in 2000. Jolly competed in the NCAA Division II Women's Golf National Championship three times during her career (2000-02) and finished in the top eight in each appearance. Jolly's best finish was sixth in the 2001 finals in Rock Hill, S.C. After graduation, Jolly went on to compete in 22 events in the LPGA Futures Tour. Jolly is currently the director of catering at Freebirds World Burrito in Austin, Texas.

McWhirter (Lenoir-Rhyne, 1976) was a four-year starter on the Lenoir-Rhyne Football Team from 1972 to 1975. He was the Team MVP in 1973 and earned All-NAIA District 26 and Honorable Mention Lutheran College All-American honors in 1974 after rushing for 828 yards and five touchdowns. For his career, McWhirter finished with 2,553 yards rushing and 295 yards receiving to go along with 22 touchdowns as a fullback in the wishbone offense. He was also a starter on the first-ever South Atlantic Conference Championship Team in 1975 and was the recipient of the Al Corelli Memorial Award. McWhirter is a Senior Sales Representative for Medtronic, Inc., and currently resides in Belmont. In addition, he has served as an Assistant Football Coach at South Point (N.C.) High School since 1999 and has been a part of two state championship teams (2003 and 2009).

Foundation awards 22 grants

Cherokee Preservation Foundation (CPFdn) announced on Friday, Sept. 28 it has awarded 22 new grants totaling nearly $2 million. The grants support cultural preservation, economic development, job creation and environmental preservation. They include:

A grant to the EBCI Cooperative Extension Service to transform existing space at its location into a modern, energy-efficient meeting and teaching area. The new space, which will be used for programs offered by the EBCI Cooperative Extension Service and its partners, will incorporate energy-efficient appliances, technologies and construction practices.

A grant to the Big Cove Community Club to enable elders, who will donate their time and talents, to teach traditional ways of living, including how to gather and prepare seasonal foods, make traditional crafts and sew. The classes, which will be open to the entire community and be geared primarily toward young women, will enable Cherokee cultural practices to be preserved and intergenerational understanding and appreciation to grow.

A grant to Cherokee Central Schools to implement the new North Carolina Common Core curriculum into the Cherokee Central Schools system. The curriculum includes programs that challenge students and offer opportunities for creative expression, basic exploration and learning problem solving skills, enabling Cherokee youth to receive the best education possible and to become future leaders for the EBCI.

A grant to support the marketing efforts of the Greater Cherokee Tourism Council. Members include Cherokee Historical Association, the Museum of the Cherokee Indian, the Qualla Arts & Crafts Cooperative, the Cherokee Chamber of Commerce, EBCI Fish & Game, EBCI Transit, EBCI Parks & Recreation, Sequoyah National Golf Club, and EBCI Travel & Tourism. The funds will be used for ad creation, media buys, web site improvements and social media usage that will attract visitors to Cherokee.

A grant to the Asheville Art Museum, which will work with Qualla Arts & Crafts to develop and publish an interactive online database of Cherokee artists that the public can access on both Qualla's and the Asheville Art Museum's web sites. The database, whose purpose is to increase the visibility of individual Cherokee artists and Qualla Arts & Crafts, will include artists' biographies, images of their work and other information. The Asheville Art Museum will also use the grant to purchase work of EBCI artists and expand its existing Cherokee collection.

A grant to the Land Trust for the Little Tennessee (LTLT) to identify and preserve Cherokee historical sites and farmland along the Little Tennessee and Tuckasegee rivers. The grant will enable the LTLT to develop a convening process with the EBCI that will support tribal influence and encourage active participation in all matters pertaining to the Hall Mountain tract overlooking the Cowee Mound, as well as development of a common vision for the future of the West Mill area, which includes the Cowee Mound, the Hall Mountain tract, and the old Cowee School building. The grant will also identify culturally significant sites outside the Qualla Boundary as the Tuckasegee River was a traditional waterway for the Cherokee people that connected ancient settlements and other cultural sites.

A grant to North Carolina State University, which will enable Cherokee basket makers to grow and maintain bloodroot patches in their home gardens. Basket makers have been having problems accessing sufficient quantities of the dye plant, and because of bloodroot's slow growth and low seed output, continued harvest from wild populations is not sustainable.

CHS seniors hold class election

Cherokee High School Seniors have elected their class representatives. Twenty-four students were nominated, and five were elected. The elected positions included President, Vice President, Treasurer, Secretary, and Student Council Representative. Students were encouraged to base their decisions on the following criteria: who could best handle the responsibilities of the elected position, academic performance, ability to get along with others, leadership, and character. Students wanted someone who would do an excellent job representing the Senior Class.

This year's elections resulting in an exciting turn of events. Elle Bradley received the most votes for Vice President and Secretary, so she had to choose which position she would like to fill. She took several days to carefully weigh her choice and decided to take the position of Vice President. Her choice resulted in a run-off between Alexis Maney and Callie Phillips for Secretary. The seniors submitted votes in the run-off on Friday, and Alexis Maney was announced as the seniors' choice.

The CHS Class of 2013 senior representatives are as follows:

- Ashley Bottchenbaugh – President
- Elle Bradley – Vice President
- Alexis Maney – Secretary
- Brianna Smith – Treasurer
- Bradley Welch – Student Council Representative

Youngdeer memoirs to be released

The Museum of the Cherokee Indian Press is releasing a new book, The Memoirs of Robert Youngdeer: Marine, Chief, and Proud American. The author, Chief Robert S. Youngdeer, will be speaking Friday morning at 10am at the Aquoni Expo Center in Cherokee, as part of the Veterans' Day events for the 100th Cherokee Fall Fair.

"We are proud to publish this outstanding work—Cherokee history by a Cherokee author," said Ken Blankenship, Executive Director of the Museum.

Chief Youngdeer describes growing up in Cherokee, attending boarding school, joining the Marines, and being wounded in at Guadalcanal in World War II, for which he received the Purple Heart. He became an Army Paratrooper, and then worked as an Indian Policeman on reservations with the Lakota, Choctaw, Apache, Anishinabe, Inuit, and more. From 1983-1987 he served as Principal Chief of the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians.

"Principal Chief Youngdeer has produced an extraordinary history for the Cherokee people through the telling of his life history. The Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians has been blessed with exceptional leaders like Robert, and now our community has

Cherokee High School hosts cross country meet

Cherokee High School played host to a cross country meet on Wednesday, Sept. 27.

Kendall Toineeta took 4th place in the high school girls race with a time of 23:21.28. That race was won by Shawanda Martin, Robbinsville, with a time of 21:36.28. She was followed by Katie Bowden, Hayesville, 22:08.38 and Hayden Bates, Highlands, 22:30.44.

Other Cherokee girls included: Lydia Lossiah, 11th, 24:19.00; Jordyn Thompson, 22nd, 26:39.47; and Alexis Maney, 33rd, 35:24.03.

Gerald Mahan took 5th place on the boys side with a time of 19:05.66 to lead the Braves. Frank Cline, Robbinsville, took 1st with a time of 17:42.69. He was followed by Zak Evans, Hayesville, 18:49.44; Regan Lindsay, Murphy, 18:50.44 and EBCI tribal member Russell Bigmeat, Swain, 19:04.09.

Other Cherokee boys included: Brock Powell, 14th, 21:08.84; Ethan Swearingen, 43rd, 25:25.53 and Gabe Crowe, 51st, 28:55.84.

The middle school boys race was won by EBCI tribal member Matthew Climbingbear, Swain, with a time of 12:15. Richard Noble, Martins Creek, took 2nd place with a time of 12:39 followed by EBCI tribal member Shane Swimmer, Swain, 12:41.

J.J. Thompson led the middle school Braves with a 33rd place finish and time of 14:44. Brennan Forst, Cherokee, came in 62nd with a time of 19:24.

The first three places in the middle school girls race all belonged to EBCI tribal members. Aleshia Tisho, Swain, came in first with a time of 13:24. She was followed by De-vonna Reed, Cherokee, 13:35 and Lynsey Hicks, Swain, 13:57. Other Cherokee middle runners included: Ayla Cruz, 18th, 16:41.

Cherokee is set to host the Smokey Mountain Conference championship on Wednesday, Oct. 17 and the 1A West Regional meet on Saturday, Oct. 27.

"As of right now, I feel Cherokee should be well represented," said coach Eddie Swimmer. "Everyone will have to race with heart and soul on these next few races."

CHS Lady Braves qualify for Regionals

The Cherokee High School Lady Braves golf team, coached by Sharon Bradley, has qualified three players for the Regional Competition. Elle Bradley, Destinie Owle, and Gabby Thompson have scored 55 or better, which is the requirement to compete regionally. All three ladies are seniors and have competed for the past three years. They are also members of the Cherokee High School Honor Society. Other members of the team include Angel Saine, Tysha Sampson, and Emily Kayonnie.

"I like playing because I get to meet other people," said Elle Bradley. "I have made friends from other schools through golf. It is not like other sports where you see other teams as rivals. Ultimately, it comes down to you playing the course and doing the best you can do. It doesn't really feel competitive. You're just out there having fun."

Owle commented, "I like golf because it gives you chances to show other people and schools how well you can play."

Owle has been playing for two years and qualified for Regionals last year as well. "I did okay for my first time to regionals. I wasn't on top of my game due to being sick. I would love to make it to state, but I would mostly love to improve from how I played last year."

Thompson missed Regionals last year by one stroke. "I was so disappointed, but still went to support the team. This is the first time I actually get to play at Regionals. It's going to be difficult from what I saw last year. It's going to be intense."

The Lady Braves have played 12 matches at golf courses around Western North Carolina. There is not a conference for 1A competition so they have to compete with the AA, AAA, and AAAA schools. There are seven matches left before Regional Competitions, giving the re-scores from those matches. Hannah Youngdeer was the first player from Cherokee to make regionals, in 2009 and 2010. Last year, there were five Lady Braves who qualified. They have yet to make it to State competition, but they are working hard to get there.

Regionals will be held at Mead-

"Sequoyah National pro, Ryan Ott, along with his staff, has played a big part in the success of our golf programs here at Cherokee High School," said coach Bradley. "They should be commended for their dedication, patience and availability to our students. We would also like to thank the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians for their making this opportunity available to our students and community through their continued support of Sequoyah National golf course."

News Briefs

Lady Braves volleyball report

Cherokee 3 Robbinsville 1

The Lady Braves (8-8) beat the Lady Black Knights of Robbinsville 3-1 on Tuesday, Sept. 18. The match score was 23-25, 25-19, 25-18, 25-20.

"Our middles had another great night with Callie Phillips leading the team with 10 kills and 20 service points, including three aces," said coach Kim Arkansas. "Avery Mintz had 8 kills, 4 digs and 4 blocks, and setters Kayla Bradley and Kendall Toineeta had 8 assists each."

Rosman 3 Cherokee 1

The Lady Braves lost 3-1 to the Lady Tigers of Rosman on Thursday, Sept. 20. The match score was 23-25, 25-15, 25-8, 25-12. "The Lady Braves started strong against the first place team winning the first set before faltering in the next three," said Arkansas. "Unforced errors and a non-attack offense hurt against a team of this caliber."

Arkansas related she wanted to point out the good play of juniors Taran Swimmer and Kayla Bradley.

Swain 3 Cherokee 0

The Lady Braves lost 3-0 against the Lady Maroon Devils of Swain on Tuesday, Sept. 25. The match score was 25-13, 29-27, 25-3.

"Once again, the Lady Braves proved we can play with the best teams in the conference pushing the second set to extra points against the second place team," said Arkansas. "We never got going in the third set and finished poorly after playing well the first two."

"Senior Callie Phillips played an excellent game with 9 kills and 3 blocks. Junior setter Kayla Bradley continues to improve her setting skills and on-court decision-making. Sophomores Sarai McMillan and Kaycee Lossiah, seeing her first varsity action of the season, were praised for their back row play."

Cherokee 3 Robbinsville 1

The Lady Braves won 3-1 against the Lady Black Knights of Robbinsville on Thursday, Sept. 27. The match score was 25-18, 25-17, 24-26, 25-22.

"Senior Callie Phillips continues her outstanding senior season with 13 kills," said Arkansas. "Juniors Avery Mintz and Taran Swimmer also had good hitting nights getting 6 and 5 kills respectively."

up with 3 kills, 2 service aces, 2 digs and 5 assists in her first varsity start for the Lady Braves. This win brings our record to 8-8. With only two weeks left in the regular season, we are looking to finish strong."

The JV Lady Braves (8-8) lost to Robbinsville 2-0 (25-20, 25-18) on Sept. 18. They lost 2-0 (25-14, 25-21) to Rosman on Sept. 20, and they lost to Swain 2-1 (21-25, 25-22, 25-13) on Sept. 25. They rebounded with a 2-0 (25-22, 25-10) win over Robbinsville on Sept. 27

Seniors preparing for Fall

The seniors at Tsali Manor have been making crafts in preparation for Fall. They made a fleece tied baby blanket and hand embroidered table scarves. Joyce Welch used her scarf in a tray that her husband made for her. Shown (left-right) back row - Elsie Rattler, Rosie Teesatuskie, Rowena Rowland, Frances Walkingstick, Bessie Wallace, Barbara Schuessler, JoLou Bradley, Mary Smith, Sarah Catt-Smith and Suzanne Muschek; seated - Lizzie Hull, Lawanda Jackson, Joyce Welch, Bessie Welch and Ann Walker. "The season of Fall brings one of our favorite events of the year - the Cherokee Indian Fair," said Amy Pete-Ochoa, Tsali Manor staff. "This year will be the 100th Annual Cherokee Indian Fair. We have decided that we will make a float for the parade this year and in doing so would like to thank the volunteers who helped create the float and those who rode it. Even though the weather wasn't what we expected. We would also like to take this opportunity to thank Cherokee Pro Hardware for their donation of materials, the seniors for their donations of candy, and Roy Lambert for his donations of the trailer and cornstalks. We wish you all a Happy Fall and invite you to join us at one of our three centers: Tsali Manor Sr. Citizens Center in Cherokee, Snowbird Sr. Citizens Center in Snowbird or John Welch Sr. Citizens Center in Marble. Meet Sara, new behavior specialist at Dora Reed

By SARA TARTER

This will be my introduction to a lot of you. My name is Sara Tarter and I am the new behavior specialist for Dora Reed. I am coming straight out of a preschool classroom and have been a teacher for the last 10 years. I have a master's degree from WCU in birth to kindergarten education.

I am very excited about the opportunity to work with the staff and the families of the Dora Reed and Big Cove centers. My area of focus deals with children's social/emotional development. So we will start there. Social/emotional development is a sense of confidence and competence, an ability to develop good relationships with peers and adults, make friends, and get along with others, an ability to persist at tasks, an ability to follow directions, an ability to identify, understand, and communicate own feelings/emotions, an ability to constructively manage strong emotions, and the development of empathy.

In work by Huffman, Mehlinger and Kerivan (2000), they state, "Children who enter kindergarten without adequate social and emotional competence face a cascade of problems throughout their life and into adulthood." All teachers should first build a positive relationship with the child, and the family in order for new social/emotional skills to develop. Having a positive relationship helps children feel accepted in the group, assists children in learning to communicate and get along with others, encourages feelings of empathy and mutual respect among children and adults, provides a supportive environment in which children can learn and practice appropriate and acceptable behaviors as individuals and as a group. This is one of the many areas in which the classroom teacher is working and helping children learn new skills. Teachers help children learn social/emotional skills through modeling, play and day to day interactions.

I look forward to working with everyone and if you need to get in touch with me my extension is 3004 and my email is saratart@nc-cherokee.com.

NCAI reacts to recent Mass. Senatorial election events

Note: The National Congress of American Indians (NCAI) issued the following statement in the wake of recent developments in the Massachusetts Senate election contest between incumbent Massachusetts Senator Scott Brown and his opponent, Elizabeth Warren, who has stated she descends from Cherokee and Delaware Indian ancestry.

STATEMENT By JACQUELINE PATA
NCAI EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

In the last week, the Massachusetts Senate race reached an extremely disturbing place. The National Congress of American Indians is calling for the candidates to return civility to the public discourse and to immediately stop the politicization of Native identity. On Tuesday, video footage was released showing Senator Brown's staff leading crowds in 'war whooping' and 'tomahawk chopping' during a clash with Warren supporters. Additionally, last Thursday Senator Brown made inflammatory remarks about Warren's skin color as an indicator that she is not of Native descent.

The video footage of Senator Brown's staff engaged in 'war

Watch the video in question:

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=r1XpAD8auCY>

whooping' and 'tomahawk chopping' is not only offensive and demeaning to Native Americans it is also demoralizing to citizens across the country. It's concerning that experienced staff members of a United States Senator would act this way; Senator Brown should take corrective action immediately. These actions belittle the democratic process and are emblematic of an irresponsible public discourse on race and Native identity by misinformed individuals and the media.

Elizabeth Warren also bears responsibility for allowing the public discourse about Native identity to become misrepresented. She has every right to be proud of her family, however her campaign failed to educate a non-Native media and the public unfamiliar with federal tribal enrollment rules or about historic federal policies that make proving Native ancestry very difficult for some people. Finally, Warren's campaign did not respond to requests for interviews from Native media organizations. All of these actions could have gone a long way to reducing tension and increasing awareness.

The video released of Brown's staffers comes just days after Senator Brown responded to a question during the opening of a September 20, 2012 televised debate between the two candidates in which he referred to Warren's white skin color as proof that she is not of Native American descent in response to an opening question about character, "I think character is important...what you are referring to is the fact that Professor Warren claimed she is a Native American, a person of color, and as you can see, she is not."

Skin color or physical appearance has no bearing on one's Native American heritage or status as an enrolled member of a federally recognized tribe. As a result, numerous national television programs and websites have irresponsibly echoed Senator Brown's statements by referring to someone's skin color as an indicator for Native American identity. These claims are false and Senator Brown should correct the record and retract his statement immediately.

NCAI is concerned by the negative and racially charged statements and actions that are the result of the politicization of the issue of Native ancestry. This issue has no bearing on the qualifications to be the Senator of Massachusetts.

Native American peoples have long endured discrimination and we will not tolerate, nor should the American people tolerate, a return to hostile environments or ignorant discourse about America's first peoples. Nor should we tolerate a hostile environment about a common characteristic many people share, a connection to Native American ancestry.

Today, Native people are proud of our ancestors, our place in the American family of governments, and we will not stand for irresponsible behavior or public discourse."

Will miss hunting partner, friend

News came of the death of Larry Hines, of Rocky Mount, Va. Throughout the year, he has made many friends who are members of the EBCI who he has welcomed to hunt deer on his land in Virginia.

He always provided a place to stay and use his home as a refuge. He slipped away on Sept. 25 in a Rocky Mount Hospital. He requested to be cremated, and a memorial will follow.

He will be missed by all his hunting partners and friends from the Cherokee Indian Reservation.

Jesse Winstead

Bear hunting is not what it used to be

COMMENTARY By JODY BRADLEY

Bear hunting was a family affair in my childhood. I remember laying in the back of mom's old blue station wagon with my two sisters. We were listening to the dogs bark and waiting for my dad to come out of the woods from bear hunting. We always took our pillows and blankets because we knew it was going to be a long night. Sometimes we'd be there till the early morning. We always thought my brother was marked by the bear because we spent so much time in the woods while mom was pregnant. He's kinda fuzzy like a bear.

I remember riding through Jenkins Creek, Big Cove, and Wrights Creek on Sunday afternoons looking for dogs lost the night before. If we were riding on the back of the truck, we were taught to keep our eyes on the banks to look for sign. When I was little, I thought my neck was going to freeze in place looking right or left. Dad had a fuzzy Airedale and a couple of other dogs tied up in the back yard to hunt with. He always carried his gun behind the seat wrapped up in a blanket just in case we saw park rangers.

My favorite memory was the meal after a successful night of hunting. Nothing like bear meat, sauerkraut, bean bread, and gravy, especially the way my mom and granny cooked. For us, it's our heritage. For some, this might seem barbaric and I for sure don't want PETA here again.

"For us, it's our heritage."

It was survival and food on the table. It's what our grandfathers and our great grandfathers did, it's family heritage and it's in our blood.

Bear hunting has changed and it's not quite what it used to be. Now there's "a season" to hunt and a season to "bait". Today's hunter uses costly GPS tracking devices to find dogs. They use four wheel drive vehicles to haul the bear out; and cell phones to stay in touch. Fancy dog boxes have replaced lead straps and LCD lights turn the forest to day. Reciprocating saws and fancy knives assist with dividing up the night's haul so each hunter can prove he's been in the woods. They aren't just dogs anymore. They are expensive Walkers or Plotts, and treasured if they hunt well. Guns have changed also, but the hunter's ability to use one is still questionable. You'd think with all this new technology they'd be able to outsmart the bear, but the bear obviously still elude many hunters.

Some things are still the same. There's still the fellowship of hunters. They still sit around after the hunt and tell their stories, their lies, and make fun of the guy that missed the shot. They talk about their dogs and imitate their barks. They laugh. They talk about Russell McCoy, Joe Bradley, and other old timers. They relive their stories and tales of the hunt. They still run through the mountains in the dark, knowing each ridge and road and branch between Soco Gap and the Great Smokies.

Some things will never change. Cooked and served up, bear meat tastes the same. Maybe a little better because we don't get it as often as we used to. It's a treat, a special occasion at our house. I can call one person and say, "I'm cooking a bear roast" and the whole family shows up. I still hide a small portion for a bear meat and mustard sandwich when everyone has gone home. I still check the banks for bear sign and my neck, it gets a little stiff but it has never froze in place. I still get excited when I see a bear cross the road. I still hear my daddy's voice, "Start the car. We got one, Ann. Let's go home."

Thank You

First and foremost, I want to thank the Lord for all the blessings he has bestowed upon me, for giving me the strength and courage to finally participate in the pageant again. I want to thank my mom, dad, sister and wonderful family and friends for all your love and support. Thanks mom for making my beautiful outfits. A huge thank you to Matt and John Tooni for helping me when I need it, I cannot thank you enough. Mollie Bowman and Richie Bottchenbaugh thank you for dancing with me and for passing the knowledge of our culture onto me. Thanks to Shakyra and Richie Bottchenbaugh for helping me with the shakers. Thank you Amanda Wolfe, Lisa Penick and Kristie Hyatt for the beautiful cape, earrings, support and advice. A special thanks goes to Stacey Wolfe for my translations and always willing to help me with my Cherokee language. Thanks to my sponsors Native Street Machines and River Valley Store. Last but not least thanks to all my students, co-workers and community for coming out and showing your support, it means so much to me. If I left anyone out I apologize and thank you for your help.

Sgi,
Kelly Driver

Thank you

I would like to take this time to thank all the people, family and friends who have come out to show their condolences in our time of need. The passing of my son, Justin, is a horrible experience. Those hugs, words of kindness and prayers are much appreciated. Chelsea and Alex are grateful also. I know my son had lots of friends, not to mention family. Thanks to the EMT's, CPD, Park Service, MOMMA, Memorial Mission, Gavin and Tay, those strangers on the side of the road, Long House Funeral Home (job well done), Denny Crowe, Greg Morgan, the singers, and all who had a role in comforting us. We miss our son greatly. Please continue to remember out little family and keep us in your prayers. Special prayers go out for Alex, who is in recovery. Once again, thank you all for being here and God bless you.

CHILD CARE PROVIDERS: WHOOPING COUGH IS ON THE RISE!

Tammy Bradley, Manager of the Club's Agelink Center asks parents to be aware that Whooping Cough (pertussis) is on the rise and spreads easily from person to person by coughing, sneezing or close contact. Most adults received a vaccination when they were children that protected them from whooping cough. Because this vaccination weakens over time, adults can develop a mild case of whooping cough and can spread it to infants in their care.

This disease can be life-threatening to newborns and infants so it is important to protect yourself and children in your care by getting a Tdap Vaccine. This also includes a tetanus and diphtheria booster. Please check with your doctor, nurse, clinic or local health department for more information.

PROTECT YOURSELF AGAINST

ENCEPHALITIS!!

What is Encephalitis? Encephalitis is inflammation (swelling and irritation) of the brain, usually caused by infection. In some cases encephalitis can let to severe trauma and life threatening conditions.

What are the Symptoms? When Encephalitis happens after a common illness like chickenpox, the signs and symptoms of that illness come before and inflammation in the brain. Symptoms such as high fever, severe headaches, sensitivity to light (called photophobia: light hurts your eyes) Nausea, vomiting, stiff neck, confusion, drowsiness, irritability or poor temper control.

Where does Encephalitis come from? Encephalitis comes from infected mosquitoes which are called Tree-Hole mosquitoes. Tree Hole mosquitoes lay there larva eggs in any object that holds water such as buckets, gutters, ponds, old tires, trash and any object that may hold standing water. Once the eggs are laid, it takes only 5 whole days for the larva to hatch. It is very important to empty any object that holds standing water especially after a good rain.

How do I protect myself? Protecting yourself from Tree Hole Mosquitoes is very important. One good way is to apply bug-repellant that contains "DEET" to any open bare-skin each time a person is outside. Apply bug-repellant as followed by directions. Another way to protect yourself by wearing long sleeves and pants during outdoor activities.

If you any questions about Encephalitis please contact

KINA MARIE
Happy Birthday, Baby

Today is your special day
for you and for me;
If I could hold you I would be so proud,
you just turned three;
I feel I cheated you by not giving you my joy or love;
But I know that you see how much I care even so far up above;
I see now that you're the lucky one no pain, sorrow or despair that's here in this land;
you're happy, peaceful and full of cheer standing by the throne, holding the man's hand;
So today, on your birthday when I cry for you, these are not tears of sorrow or pain;
They are tears of joy and happiness
for the world you live in and I have to gain;
So happy birthday baby, and remember,
you are always in Pa-Pa's mind and heart.

Love, Grandpa Henry Q. Littlejohn Jr.

Just as in any word search puzzles the words can be found up, down, across, diagonally, and backwards. If you're a student of our Cherokee language this will assist in your learning the phonetic sounds and pronunciation. There are some words that may differ and this being the differences of native speakers "dialect". Have Fun!
