Tonya Carroll was crowned Miss Cherokee on Saturday, Oct. 2 at the Cultural Arts Center in the Cherokee Central Schools.

Carroll crowned Miss Cherokee

By DAWN ARNEACH
ONE FEATHER STAFF

Tonya Carroll, 25, was crowned Miss Cherokee on Saturday Oct. 2 at the Cultural Arts Center in the Cherokee Central Schools. Cristin Jones, 18, was named second runner-up and Kelly Murphy, 20, was named first runner-up.

Carroll is the daughter of Jan Smith and the late Kermit Carroll. She is from the Birdtown Community and holds a Masters degree in History from Western Carolina University. She is currently the outreach coordinator for the Qualla Arts and Crafts Mutual, Inc.

The evening began with Master of Ceremonies Bob Caldwell welcoming everyone to the evening's festivities followed by the presentation of colors by the Steve Youngdeer American Legion Post #143.

Andrea Saunooke, an EBCI tribal member, performed "How great thou art" and the opening and closing Prayer were said by Mrs. Marie Junaluska, Tribal Council Cherokee Language Interpreter.

The ladies competed Saturday in three different categories: Casual Dress, Traditional Dress and each gave a three minute speech on a topic of their own choosing.

Carroll spoke about "What it means to be Tsalagi". Jones spoke about "The Importance of Elders in the Tribe" and Murphy told the crowd how working at the New Kituwah Academy has impacted her life.

In between the different sets of competitions, Saunooke sang songs for the audience.

Miss Cherokee 2009 Rachel Hicks welcomed everyone to the evening's events and also gave her farewell speech. She talked about the wonderful year she had as Miss Cherokee representing the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians across the country as well as in Germany.

Principal Chief Michell Hicks welcomed everyone to the pageant and said how proud he is of the ladies that are competing. He also welcomed the visiting Choctaw Royalty.

The ladies each performed their talent portion for the evening: Carroll performed the Buffalo dance, Jones sang "One Drop of Blood" in the Cherokee language and Murphy performed the Knee Deep dance.

Matt Tooni served as the Cherokee flutist for the evening.

Passing of the Torch; A Legend retires

Tommy Lambert takes reins as Cherokee Boys Club General Manager

By SCOTT MCKIE B.P.
ONE FEATHER STAFF

Dwight D. Eisenhower was president of the United States when Ray Kinsland started his tenure as general manager of the Cherokee Boys Club (CBC). Now, 52 years later he is retiring and passing the reins over to Tommy Lambert, a 26-year CBC veteran.

The official oath of office was administered at a breakfast banquet held at the Cherokee Holiday Inn on the morning of Friday, Oct. 1.

Lambert, who holds a Business Management degree from Western Carolina University, said that when people talk about passing the torch there is a moment when both parties involved have a hand on the torch at the same time.

"Over the next few weeks, Ray and I will both have a hold of that torch," said Lambert. "We will not drop that torch. The contact name may be different at the Boys Club, but the purpose of the Boys Club will remain the same."

Kinsland is planning to work 30 hour weeks for awhile to help with a smooth transition.

He spoke highly of Lambert and commented, "I am very thankful that Ray Kinsland speaks during Friday's breakfast. He officially retired Friday after 52 years as general manager of the Cherokee Boys Club.

Tommy is our new general manager. I urge you, Tommy, to remember the past as you go into the future."

Kinsland said that it is important to remember the Club motto "By prayer and By work" as the organization moves forward. "May you never, never, never sacrifice your compassion or your integrity."

James "Bud" Smith, assistant director of education at Cherokee Central Schools, said that they anticipate a "seamless transition" and wished Lambert the best of luck.

"Mr. Kinsland, I could speak up

CHS Class of 1960 holds Reunion

By LARRY MANEY
CHS CLASS OF 1960

With much anticipation, my wife Sharon and I walked into Granny's Kitchen Restaurant on the evening of Thursday, Sept. 23. We were shown to a reserved room where members of the Cherokee High School Class of 1960 were gathered for our fifty-year class reunion.

Questions raced through my mind like "How many of us are left?", "Who will be here?", and "How many will I recognize?" However, it didn't take time for the excitement to take over as we shared photo and stories of our high school experiences. As far as the stories were concerned, "What was said at Granny's stays at Granny's".

As the evening slipped away and memories carried us back to that other time and place, we reflected upon the changes that have occurred in our lives. As we grow older, hopefully, we grow wiser and I believe that has happened.

Our home room teacher, the late

Mary Ulmer Chiltoskey and others like Ray Kinsland, have contributed immensely to the character that we possess today. Their main goal, as any teacher's goal should be, was to see their students soar above and beyond anything that they had achieved.

Whatever the occasion, whether formal or casual, "the teacher" in them would always come out to shed new light or to see how much we had learned. One lesson that we must all learn is that education and success are not goals that we ever achieve, for they are journeys that we continue through life, always growing, learning, teaching, and giving. Each of us has very important role to play in a free society and we appreciate those who have sacrificed to preserve and protect that freedom.

If, after half a century, we have become the teachers, and if we have laid the proper foundations for others to build upon, then we have done good with our lives. Thanks to all of those who worked to make this reunion an experience to remember.

Tribal Member chosen for National Security Committee

Ledford to represent all Tribal Nations in new Classified National Security Information Program

By SCOTT MCKIE B.P.
ONE FEATHER STAFF

President Barack Obama issued an executive order several weeks ago establishing the Classified National Security Information Program which is charged "to safeguard and govern access to classified national security information shared by the Federal Government with State, local, Tribal, and Private sector (SLTPS) entities."

Gary Ledford, an EBCI tribal member and director of EBCI Public Safety, is one of three people chosen in the country to serve on the SLTPS Policy Advisory Committee. He will represent all of Indian Country on the Committee.

Ledford's Air Force background was instrumental in his being chosen for the position. From 1999-2006, he served as an analyst in the U.S. Air Force Lead Human Intelligence (HUMINT) for Air Mobility Command and U.S. Transportation Command as well as a planner in Lead Psychological Operations for AMC/US-TRANSCOM.

"This is an unbelievable honor for me, and I am truly proud to represent the EBCI, as this is an opportunity to stand up a capability, never before realized in Indian Country," Ledford said. "In these days of growing and evolving threats, it is imperative that we share data, and absolutely be on the same page when we address those threats."

The 8-page executive order outlines how the Office of Intergovernmental Affairs, a division of the Department of Homeland Security, will help SLTPS entities deal with the sharing of classified information with the federal government.

"Our mission will be to develop techniques and procedures that will implement the Executive Order, and put into place a complete architecture by which classified data will be shared between the stakeholders," said Ledford. "This will include, by definitely not be limited to, expedited security clearances for those chosen work with the data, implementation of advanced data paths and networks, and access to information that could provide invaluable indicators and warnings."

He said the Advisory Committee will work closely with many other federal agencies including the Department of Defense, the Office of National Intelligence, the CIA, the FBI, the Department of Justice, and others.

According to the Executive Order, the Committee is established immediately and the rest of the order will take effect in February.

here all day and not do justice," Smith said, "so, I'll mostly say thank you for being part of our community."

Gloria Rattler, Cherokee School Board chairperson, congratulated Lambert on his new position and said of the Club, "It has and always will be invaluable to the school system."

She continued, "Thank you Mr. Kinsland for the years of dedicated service you have provided to the Cherokee Central Schools."

Principal Chief Michell Hicks was on hand to deliver the oath of office and install the 2010-12 CBC Board of Directors which includes: Wilbur Paul, president; Robert Lambert, vice-president; Tiffani Reed, secretary; Dwayne "Tuff" Jackson, assistant secretary; Albert Arch; Jack Davis; Wanda Lawless; Big Cove Rep. Perry Shell; and Kiah West, student representative. Paul and Rep. Shell were unable to attend as they were on travel and will have their oath of office administered at a later date.

Chief Hicks also administered the oath of office to new general manager Lambert. Beforehand though, he praised the countless hours and years of service of Kinsland. "Ray's been a friend and mentor for many, many years. We appreciate you so much."

The outgoing 2008-10 Board was honored and long-time Board president Mark Crowe was awarded a special plaque for his 30 years of service to the Board, ten of which as president.

Financial Course now required prior to receiving Minors Fund Distribution

An idea hatched five years ago by the Junaluska Leadership Council has come to fruition. Those EBCI tribal members turning 18 years of age must now take a Personal Management Course prior to receiving their Minors Trust Fund disbursement.

Legislation (Ordinance No. 401 – 2010) was unanimously passed by Tribal Council last month that amended the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians Gaming Ordinance Sec 16C-6 Minors and other legal incompetents to read, "...in addition to receiving their high school diploma and reaching 18 years of age they must complete the online Manage Your EBCI Money course and include his/her Certificate of Completion as part of the packet to receive his/her minors fund disbursement."

Cherokee Phoenix Theatre adds 3-D Projection

Cherokee Phoenix Theatre has upgraded its projection system to include 3D capability. The installation package includes the following for each auditorium: new screen, Digital projectors, servers capable of handling the digital format films, MasterImage 3D equipment, and HVAC modifications.

The upgrade was made possible by a $200,000 grant that is being handled through The Sequoyah Fund. The theatre operation will contribute a monthly payment toward the 3D system as a form of match funding.

"With the arrival of digital and 3-D projection Cherokee Phoenix Theatres continues to offer our community the best the industry has to offer," said Jason Lambert, EBCI Planning and Economic Development director. "We are the only theatre west of Asheville offering all digital projection, 3-D movies, and stadium seating. The community's support for the theatre over the past two years has been tremendous and we hope that this latest upgrade will be enjoyed. "

Two Cherokee Artists featured in OICA Gallery

By ROSE HOOPER GARRETT
SOUTHWESTERN COMM. COLLEGE

In October, the Gallery at Southwestern Community College's Oconaluftee Institute for Cultural Arts will feature two Cherokee artists as part of a new series of shows.

Horizons: Dean Reed & Henrietta Lambert opened on Oct. 1 and will run through Nov. 21. A reception for the artists will be held on Wednesday, Oct. 13, from 4 to 6:00 p.m.

"Opportunities to showcase local artists give our students a chance to network and derive inspiration from the community," said Jeff Marley, program coordinator for OICA. "It is a natural fit to our program at OICA that we promote local artist."

Dean Reed has been working in clay for over 37 years, following a traditional Cherokee style of stamped pottery. Dean has a founding member of the Cherokee Potters Guild and a member of the Qualla Arts and Craft Mutual in Cherokee.

Henrietta Lambert focuses primarily two-dimensional work, such as painting and drawing. She is the first graduate from OICA and is currently pursuing her bachelors at Western Carolina University.

"Shows in the gallery space here at OICA provide a forum for the community, a place we can come together and share our art," said Marley. The gallery at OICA is open 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday, and by appointment on weekends.

Southwestern Community College offers an Associate of Fine Arts degree program at The Oconaluftee Institute for Cultural Arts. Letters to the Editor

Thank You

I wanted to thank the AMERICAN INDIAN WOMEN of PROUD NATIONS BOARD and Roseanne Belt and Lynn Harlan for their part in Mothers', Catherine Blythe Sanders, lifetime achievement award presented at the banquet during their conference on, Thursday, September 16th! It was a very pleasant surprise as I was unaware, Lynn mentioned it as Mom and I were catching supper when I had just arrived on wednesday! I had just come up for my last visit before my knee replacement surgery this week. We were both thrilled and delighted! Educators are often forgotten for their life endeavors and we are very appreciative for this recognition of her, at her age of 92! Congratulations to the other local recipients, our old and dear friends, Amanda Swimmer, Joyce Dugan and Sara Bradley!! Thanks again!

Mother, or Mrs. Sanders, taught many people on the reservation, in Snowbird and in Oklahoma, including Chilocco and Sequoyah. (And me at Big Cove!) She was known for her strictness and discipline but revered for her demand of excellence from each of her students. It never fails when I am home that some former student does not come up and hug her neck and tell her she was the "meanest"...but the "BEST" teacher they ever had! She desired only for her students to excel and was and has always been a great encourager. My Mother and Father have been my greatest inspirations, and I am very proud of her work among Native children! My sister and I followed in her footsteps with degrees in Education, and I know she influenced many other children to pursue College degrees, "You can do it!!" was her mantra! She so enjoys seeing former students and friends when she is out and about, thanks for speaking with her, even though her short term memory is failing her these days, I bet she will remember you!

So many wonderful things happening while I was home, the South Eastern Tribes Festival at the Fairgrounds, although the heavy gravel was difficult to walk on (Mom's wheelchair was almost impossible to maneuver and terrible on my knee, hope there is a remedy by Fair time for our elders!) it was grand to see old friends from home and from Oklahoma! (the art/crafts were beautiful by the vendors! Congrats to award winners!!) The Writers' Conference at the Museum was interesting and Sean Ross and Shan Goshorn had fabulous Art Shows featuring each at the Museum and at WCU, respectively! So proud of our native talent!

See ya'll on the flip side, all good things...

Signed,
Faren Sanders Crews

Thank You

We would like to take the opportunity to Thank everyone who in some way helped make the Miss Cherokee Pageant a success.

First and foremost we Thank God for the many blessings he has bestowed upon us.

We would also like to thank: The Royalty Board for the beautifully decorated stage, various sponsors of the girls, Yona Wade and his stage crew (you were great), Cherokee Central Schools, Tavish Ponozzo, Paula & Oliver Irving, American Legion, Steve Youngdeer Post #143, Andrea Saunooke, Mathew Tooni, Marie Junaluska, Bob Caldwell, Principal Chief Michell Hicks, Rachel Hicks, Miss Cherokee 2009, Garfield Long Jr. and the 2010 contestants and their parents. We congratulate Tonya Carroll, Miss Cherokee 2010 and wish her, Cristyn Jones and Kelly Murphy the very best.

Last but certainly not least we want to Thank "you", the public, for your presence on Saturday evening.

Sincerely,
Pageant Coordinators

CMS learns about Bats in Wilderness Class

By DYLAN WEST, K-LYNN JACKSON,
JENNIFER WOLFE, & KENDRA PANTHER

The Cherokee Middle School Wilderness Class is learning about bats. The class is making bat boxes in Mr. Rogers' CHS wood-working class. Both Wilderness classes were able to complete four bat boxes. The bat boxes will be attracting bats all over the school and can hold up to 200 bats. The bats will help get rid of bugs like mosquitoes, gnats, and other insects. The bats use echolocation to catch their food.

The bats get their water by scooping it up with their mouths and drinking it as they come back for more. Mr. Brun's Wilderness class had a lot of fun making the bat boxes and we hope a lot of bats come to live right here on the Cherokee School campus.

Cherokee Rotary teams up with Local Job Corps

By HOLLY KRAKE, MSEd

Imagine replacing a weekly meeting by donning boots, vests, gloves and heading into the weeds. That's exactly what six Cherokee Rotary members did in a major effort to improve and restore their community in September.

To kick-off their inaugural Adopt-a-Highway litter sweep, the Cherokee Rotary Club partnered with the Oconaluftee Job Corps Civilian Conservation Center (OJCCCC) in a highly successful clean-up effort.

"I can't believe what people will throw out into the environment" said Oconaluftee student Jenny Barnett as she picked up trash at the corner of US 441 and Stacy Saunooke Rd. "It just seems so irresponsible". Barnett spent the next two hours with 11 other OJCCCC students working to clean-up the adopted stretch of US 441.

EBCI Travel & Tourism and Rotary member, Robert Jumper, captured the spirit of the crisp fall morning stating "We should do this every week, every month... it's just great to see so many people turn out to make our community just a little bit brighter, just a little bit better."

In all, over 20 large bags of litter and trash were collected from the road side with 34 total volunteer hours spent. Special thanks to the following Cherokee Rotary Club members and OJCCCC students who volunteered for this special service project: Dr. Casey Cooper- Cherokee Indian Hospital, Lloyd Arneach- EBCI Information Technology, Cherie Rose- EBCI Information Technology, Hugh Lambert- EBCI Information Technology, Robert Jumper- EBCI Travel & Tourism, Holly Krake- USFS OJCCCC, Students: Chris Brown, Travis Johnson, Quentin Lewis, Jenny Barnett, Brooke Carr, Zavivus Godfrey, Latoya Graham, Ya'bria Hill, Eric Grunert, Raciell Polanco, and Ashley Reid.

The Oconaluftee Job Corps Civilian Conservation Center is associated with the National Forests of North Carolina and currently serves 68 students. The mission of the USDA Forest Service is to sustain the health, diversity, and productivity of the Nation's forests and grasslands to meet the needs of present and future generations. The Agency manages 193 million acres of public land, provides assistance to State and private landowners, and maintains the largest forestry research organization in the world. Hunting for Chestnuts near New Kituwah

Students in the after-school program hunt chestnuts near the New Kituwah Academy on Tuesday, Sept. 28. Shown (left-right) are Tso Smith, Tsalalisi Taylor, Uwodi Toineeta, Alitami Taylor, Danili Hill, Nole and Yona Littlejohn. The children enjoyed gathering the pods which had fallen to the ground, and with the help of intern Digaduna, more pods were shaken from the tree limbs. Alex Cruz explained to the children only to gather ones that have a split in their pod indicating they are ready.

MURPHY - It was the first day of fall, and it definitely felt like it as a blast of cold air filled the Murphy High School stadium as the Braves came to town to play the Bulldogs on Friday, Oct. 1. Murphy poured in 53 points and totaled an incredible 601 yards of offense to give long-time coach David Gentry his 300th overall win.

It was not the best game for the Braves, but there were some shining stars. Dorian Walkingstick continued his ground assault with 242 yards on 38 carries and 1 TD. Buddy Arch led the way on the other side of the ball with 10 tackles. He also forced and recovered a fumble.

Murphy scored the first five touchdowns of this game and dominated the first three quarters.

Bulldogs QB Seth Curtis threw a 13-yd touchdown pass to Chris Edwards with 4:07 left in the first quarter to get things going. Just seconds into the second quarter, Edwards ran 79 yards for a score.

Brooklyn McKeon caught a 75-yard touchdown pass from Curtis with a little less than three minutes left before halftime to make it 19-0.

Then, just about a minute later, Curtis ran 27 yards for the third touchdown of the half he had a part of. Murphy led 27-0 at the half.

Midway through the third quarter, Murphy's Devon Reese found the end zone on a 6-yard run and Murphy led 34-0 going into the final quarter.

Cherokee would get on the board though as Walkingstick scored on a 10-yd run just two minutes in to make it 34-6.

Murphy would score twice in a three-minute span on a 12-yd run by Tony Swezey and a 58-yd run by James Posey to make it 47-6.

Cherokee scored one more time though as Greg Bradley found the end zone on a 10-yd run to make it 47-12.

The Bulldogs would add one more score as Posey ran 49 yards for the final score to make it 53-12.

Murphy outgained Cherokee 601 yard to 315 yards on total offense and 456 yards to 261 yards of net yards rushing. Cherokee was 3 of 14 on third down conversions and had to punt six times.

Braves lose to Highlands, Blue Ridge

By DAWN ARNEACH
ONE FEATHER STAFF

Cherokee hosted the Highlands Highlanders on Thursday, Sept. 30. Highlands is one of the area's hardest teams holding most teams scoreless. Cherokee players came out strong and aggressive and had several runs at the Highlands goal, but still came up scoreless.

Confusion in Cherokee's goal area helped Highlands score two of their first five goals in the first half within one minute of each other. At the end of the match, Highlands won 8-0.

The Braves hosted Blue Ridge on Monday, Oct. 4. This was another defeat for Cherokee, but the Braves were able to get one goal in ending the game 3-1 in favor of Blue Ridge. Cherokee's next game will be Thursday, Oct. 7 at 4pm at home against Swain.

Pounding the Pavement with the Cherokee Runners

By GERRI GRADY
CHEROKEE RUNNERS

The Cherokee Runners have had a busy two weeks. On Saturday September 25, twenty runners from Cherokee participated in the Mountain Heritage Day 5K: Nick, Priscilla & Angel Squirrel, Robin & Steph Swimmer, Bruce & Kendall Toineeta, Cliff & Mira Mault, Michell & Lynsey Hicks, Chad Bowman, Skye Little-dave, Lucky Hodges, Chris Reed, Elnora Thompson, Brian Driver, Marlene Arch, Renissa Walker and Alex Cruz. It was a great run on a fast course.

The following week, Elnora Thompson ran two paces: the Fletcher Park Cross Country 5K on Thursday and the Run the Quarry 4-Miler on Saturday. She came in first in her age group in the Run the Quarry race. The Fletcher Park Cross Country race is a part of the Foot RX Cross Country Challenge that Elnora has been participating in since August. She has two more races to complete before the series ends.

Also on Saturday, Cliff Mault, Pam Sneed, Dawna Paul, and Karleigh Reeves ran the Smoky Streak 10K (6.2 miles), Michell & Lynsey Hicks, Mia Mault, Lucky Hodges, Brian Burgess and Marlene Arch ran the Smoky Streak 5K (3.1 miles). The course is relatively flat in the Webster/Dillsboro area and runners can build up good speed on it. The following morning, October 3, Robin & Steph Swimmer and Gerri Grady ran the Atlanta Half Marathon (13.1 miles) at Oglethorpe University. This course was hilly but not too steep and all three runners had good race times.

The group plans on an entry in the 2010 Cherokee Indian Fair Parade as well as taking part in the Chief's Challenge 2-mile run before the parade. The next meeting will be held at Age Link on October 15th at 5PM. We encourage anyone that would like to walk or run with our group to come and join us!

Here's APPLES

It's apple season, so grab a bushel
and bake!!!

By SHEENA BRINGS PLENTY, CPC

In America, apples have been a staple in just about every household since first being brought here by the Europeans in the 17th century. Their versatility, health benefits, and resilient nature made them perfect for eating out of hand, baking into pies, crisps, crumbles and cakes, storing in root cellars, packed in sand or between layers of hay or straw, canning, and juicing.

The first known apple orchard in North America is said to have been in Boston around 1625 making apples available in larger quantities and making them America's favorite fruit. Johnny Appleseed (John Chapman), in particular, was obsessed with apples and was responsible for bringing them to the rest of the country. He was born in 1774 in Massachusetts and was a lover of all things in nature. He developed his zeal for apples at a young age and began planting orchards across the country, from Pennsylvania to Iowa, around 1806.

In 1845, one of the first American cookbooks was written by Mrs. E. A. Howland. She called it The New England Economical Housekeeper. In her book, Mrs. Howland gave specific instructions on how to preserve and store apples for the winter so they could be harvested in bulk and enjoyed year-round.

In 1904, J. T. Stinson declared "An apple a day keeps the doctor away" in a speech in St. Louis. Apples have long been known to possess many healthy characteristics. In 200 A.D. two famous Greek physicians living in Rome, Galen and Hippocrates, recommend eating sweet apples to help with digestion and sour apples for fainting. Apples also have been linked to the lungs and nervous system.

Now, the apple industry in America is the second largest in the world, following China, and apples have definitely claimed the throne as America's favorite fruit. This time of year you will see apples prepared in every way imaginable. The most popular ways of cooking apples around this time, I've noticed, are in pies or crisps. Everyone and their grandmother has a recipe for apple pie or apple crisp that is "the best!!"

APPLE PIES TO-GO

SCOTT MCKIE B.P./One Feather photos

By SHEENA BRINGS PLENTY, CPC

Instead of trying to replicate someone else's apple pie or crisp, I decided to create my own and put a couple little twists on them. For the first recipe, I decided to make apple pie accessible to those on the go! It's all wrapped up in a neat little package and is great eaten on the go with a napkin, or in a bowl with ice cream. You could also make them smaller and use them as a mini dessert for a tea party or luncheon! The second recipe is one I'm very excited about! It's a "to-go" sort of recipe as well that would be perfect for a single quick treat or for a party!

So, since it's apple season, grab a bushel and get to baking!!!

Apple Pies to Go (makes 10)

3 Tablespoons butter
2 Honey Crisp apples, peeled, cored and diced about 1/4 inch
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1/8 teaspoon cloves
1 Tablespoon cornstarch
2 Tablespoons COLD water
Pastry for a 2-crust pie (store-bought or home-made)
1 egg, beaten
Sugar for sprinkling

1. Melt butter in a large saucepan over medium-high heat. Add apples, sugar, cinnamon, nutmeg, and cloves and cook for 4 minutes.
2. In a cup or small bowl mix cornstarch and cold water with a whisk or fork until smooth and lump-free. Slowly pour into the apple mixture and stir to combine. Continue cooking the apples for another 4-5 minutes.

Set aside and let cool.

3. Heat the oven to 425 degrees and prepare 2 sheet pans by lightly spraying with baking spray or lining with parchment paper. In a cup or small bowl beat the egg and set aside with a pastry brush.
4. Roll out half of the pastry to 1/4 inch on a floured surface. Use a pizza cutter or pastry wheel and a plastic ruler to cut the dough into a 9x9 inch square. Cut the dough into 4 equal squares each measuring 4 1/2 x 4 1/2 inches. Separate the squares from each other.
5. Place a heaping Tablespoon of the apple mixture into the center of the pie dough squares. Brush the beaten egg white onto 2 sides of the squares. Fold the opposite corner over the apple mixture and press the edges together. Seal the edges by pressing down with a fork, being careful not to puncture the dough.
6. Place the 4 pies onto the first sheet pan and set aside. Roll out the scraps of dough and cut out one more 4 1/2 x 4 1/2 inch square and repeat the process. Place the sheet pan in the refrigerator. For the remaining half of the dough repeat steps 4-6.
7. After placing the second sheet pan in the refrigerator, remove the first sheet pan. Brush the tops of the pies with the egg and sprinkle the sugar over the top.
8. Place in the oven and bake for about 10-15 minutes or until golden brown. Allow to cool on the sheet pan for a few minutes, then remove with a spatula and place on a rack to cool completely. Repeat steps 7 and 8 with the second sheet pan.
9. Store covered and serve at room temperature or warmed with ice cream.

Apple Crisp Ice Cream Cones (makes 12)

Vanilla Ice Cream
6 egg yolks
6 oz sugar
1 pint milk
1 cup heavy cream
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
Pinch salt
12 Old-Fashioned Sugar Cones

1. Heat the milk in a saucepan to just under boiling. Also, bring some water to a simmer in a saucepan to use as a double boiler.
2. Combine the egg yolks and sugar in a large bowl. Whip until thick and light. Very slowly pour the milk into the egg yolk mixture while whisking to prevent curdling the eggs or creating lumps.
3. Heat the egg and milk mixture over the double boiler, stirring constantly, until the mixture thickens enough to LIGHTLY coat the back of a wooden spoon. (It won't be thick like pudding, but shouldn't run off the spoon like milk or water.) Remove from the heat.
4. Stir in the cold cream to stop the cooking. Add the vanilla and salt. Allow to cool on the counter for a

Barbecued Pork and Apple Kebabs

By KEAHANA
LAMBERT-SLUDER

The quick barbecue sauce turns into a sweet tomato glaze as it cooks on the grill.

Serves 4

Ingredients

- 1/2 cup apricot jam
- 2 tablespoons cider vinegar
- 1 tablespoon tomato paste
- 2 tablespoons olive oil, plus more for grill
- Coarse salt and ground pepper
- 1 1/2 pounds (about 1 1/2 inches each) pork tenderloin, halved lengthwise and cut into 16 cubes
- 1 medium red onion, cut into 8 wedges
- 1 Granny Smith apple, peeled and cut into 8 wedges

Directions

1. Heat grill to medium-high. Make the sauce: In a large bowl, combine jam, vinegar, tomato paste, and 1 tablespoon oil. Season with salt and pepper. Set aside.
2. Assemble 4 long skewers, alternating 4 pork cubes with 2 onion wedges and 2 apple wedges on each (begin with pork and end with apple). Roll skewers in remaining tablespoon oil. Season with salt and pepper.
3. Lightly oil grates. Place skewers on grill; cover grill, and cook, turning occasionally, until grill marks are visible, 6 to 8 minutes.
4. Open grill; baste skewers with some sauce, and cook, turning skewers and basting occasionally with more sauce, until pork is no longer pink in the center and is nicely glazed, 4 to 8 minutes more.

few minutes.

5. Put in the refrigerator and chill thoroughly for about 2 hours, at least.
6. Freeze in an ice cream maker according to the manufacturer's directions. Store in a covered container in the freezer while preparing the rest of the components.

Apple filling

- 1 1/2 Tablespoons butter
- 1 Honey Crisp apple, peeled, cored and diced about 1/4 inch
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/8 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1/8 teaspoon cloves
- 1 1/2 teaspoons cornstarch
- 1 Tablespoon COLD water
- 1. Melt butter in a large saucepan over medium-high heat. Add apples, sugar, cinnamon, nutmeg, and cloves and cook for 4 minutes.

2. In a cup or small bowl mix cornstarch and cold water with a whisk or fork until smooth and lump-free. Slowly pour into the apple mixture and stir to combine. Continue cooking the apples for another 4-5 minutes. Set aside and let cool.

Crisp Topping

- 1/2 cup packed brown sugar
- 1/4 cup all-purpose flour
- 1/4 cup oats

1/2 teaspoon cinnamon

1/2 teaspoon nutmeg

2 1/2 Tablespoons butter, melted

1. Heat oven to 375 degrees.
2. Thoroughly mix together the brown sugar, flour, oats, cinnamon and nutmeg. Pour in the melted butter and mix well.
3. Lightly grease a sheet pan with baking spray. Place mixture onto sheet pan and spread out evenly.
4. Bake for about 8-10 minutes, or until the topping is light brown. Be sure not to burn the edges.
5. Remove from oven and cool completely. Once the mixture is cool enough to handle, break it up with your hands and crumble it into a bowl. The size of the crumbles is up to you as they will go on top of the cones.

Assembly

1. Have all your components ready and in front of you for easy assembly.
2. Holding one cone, spoon some of the ice cream down into the bottom of the cone leaving about an inch of space at the top. Spoon in the cooled apple mixture and fill almost to the top.
3. Using an ice cream scoop (whatever size you have) scoop the ice cream and place it on the top of the apple mixture. Place as many scoops as you wish, then sprinkle on some of the crumbled crisp topping and press lightly to make it stick.

Financial Understanding = Financial Freedom

By YONA WADE
CCS PR

For many Cherokee High School students, money matters are not always at the top of the list. With per capita distribution providing income for our children like never before, it is our responsibility as parents and teachers to ensure that our children have the knowledge to make the best money decisions possible.

Last week, Cherokee Central Schools, played host to Mad City Money, which is a live financial skills simulation created by the Credit Union National Association (CUNA) to teach youth basic money management skills. This is a national program used across the country, which seeks to provide each participant with the opportunities to: practice budgeting as an adult with realistic circumstances, identify and experience the consequences of poor decisions, develop good judgment regarding spending, making a budget, and understanding that budget. All of which helps provide financial understanding to each of our students.

With over 90 freshmen participating in last week's simulation, Cherokee Central students are well on their way to Financial Freedom as adults, through a better understanding of finances.

During the simulation, students had the opportunity to visit a number of simulated life circumstances in the way of booths, all of which, were manned by local businesses and organizations. Each student was given a profile which outlined his/her economic status, as well as whether or not the student had children, debt obligations and a spouse that works. All of these points played a role in the decisions the students made. Not only did the students have to ensure they had the funds needed to live, they also were tasked with writing checks to cover the cost.

It's important to note that this would not have been possible without the help of Keith Sneed who organized the event, as well as all the organization that played a role to ensure that Mad City Money was a success. Thanks to all the organizations who manned the booths: BB&T of Waynesville, First Citizen's Bank, Nationwide Insurance, On-Track Financial Education and Counseling, Internal Revenue Service, Docaldo Housing, Sequoyah Fund, Cherokee Youth Center, VOC/PTO, Tribal Court, Healthy Cherokee, Snowbird Recreation, WCU-Cherokee Center, EBCI Executive Office, EBCI Cooperative Extension, Cherokee Preservation Foundation, Boy's Club, Cherokee Life, United Community Bank, and First Nation Development Institute.

Deadline for Disaster Relief approaching

By BECKY FORTNER

On Mar. 2, President Obama declared a major disaster in the State of North Carolina based on damages and losses caused by severe winter storms and flooding that occurred from Dec. 18, 2009 through Dec. 25, 2009.

As a result of this major disaster, the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians Qualla Boundary Tribal Land was declared eligible for Federal disaster assistance, including Farm Service Agency (FSA) emergency (EM) loans for eligible family farmers.

In addition to the Eastern Band of the Cherokee Indians Qualla Boundary Tribal Land, 3 additional North Carolina counties are named as contiguous counties where eligible family farmers may qualify for FSA EM loan assistance, in accordance with Section 321(a) of the Consolidated Farm and Rural Development Act. Those counties are : Haywood Jackson Swain

Becky Fortner said that effective Mar. 2, 2010, farmers in Swain/Jackson may apply for EM loans for physical and production losses. Nov. 2, 2010 is the deadline for filling an application. The local office is located at 50 Main St. Federal Building Room 220 and has office hours of 8:30 – 4:30. Becky Fortner said that any farmer who suffered a production or physical loss should contact his/her office for additional information.

China's Cirque Shanghai to perform at Harrah's Cherokee

Cirque Shanghai, a troupe of China's most talented acrobatic performers will present a rare performance of Cirque Shanghai – Bai Xi at Harrah's Cherokee Events Center on Saturday, Oct. 9 at 7:30pm.

The show is a visually spectacular production combining astounding Chinese acrobatics, balancing acts, and martial arts with graceful dance and folklore.

Dating back 2,000 years to the Han Dynasty, talented and fearless Chinese acrobats performed Bai Xi, or "one hundred amazing acts," for Imperial courts awed by the incredible feats of the skilled performers. The modern stage production pushes this performance to the limits by incorporating traditional and modern acrobatics with spectacular costumes and state-of-the-art lighting. Harrah's Cherokee hosts one of the troupe's final performances on their limited U.S. tour before returning to China.

FOR TICKETS: Tickets for Cirque Shanghai – Bai Xi are priced at $20, $25 and $45, and are available at www.ticketmaster.com or 1-800-745-3000.

Trail of Tears Memorial Walk scheduled for Saturday

The Fourth Annual Trail of Tears Memorial Walk will be held on Saturday, Oct. 9 starting at the Cherokee Historical Association building which is located at 564 Tsali Blvd. (Hwy. 441 North). Seventeen thousand Cherokee were forced to walk twelve hundred miles from North Carolina to Oklahoma in the winter of 1838. More than four thousand died along the way. This Memorial Walk is a way to remember all those who made this long, hard journey and to also celebrate the triumphant spirit of the Cherokee people who are today a strong, thriving Nation.

The Memorial Walk will follow the Cherokee River Trail Loop approximately 2.5 miles and end at the Oconaluftee Indian Village. A light breakfast, t-shirt, and special tour of the Village will be offered to participants with a $10.00 paid registration fee. Children under 12 will be free with a paid adult. To pre-register, please send a check or money order payable to "Cherokee Historical Association", along with your t-shirt size to PO Box 398, Cherokee, NC 28719. If you need additional information, please call 1-866-554-4577.

Parking will be available at the Oconaluftee Indian Village with shuttle services to the Cherokee Historical Association parking lot provided by Cherokee Transit starting at 7:45 am.

EBCI represented at Aianta Conference

MARYVILLE, Wash. - The American Indian Alaska Native Tourism Association (Aianta) was cited for significant efforts in creating international trade opportunities and educational programs for its tribal membership at their recently concluded annual conference at the Tulalip Resort and Casino.

Mary Jane Ferguson, director of EBCI Travel and Promotions Division, was elected to the new Aianta Board of Directors.

Don Chapman, U.S. Department of Commerce Senior Advisor on Native American Affairs, presented the export award to Aianta President Tina Osceola for the nonprofit's very close work with the U.S. Commercial Service, Santa Fe, and CS Germany to provide international tourism marketing workshops at their annual conference, develop an international tribal tourism outreach strategy and create a unified Native American presence at major international travel shows such as ITB in Berlin, Germany. These efforts, according to Commerce, have provided "incredible worldwide opportunities for Native American tourism."

"This export award comes at a very exciting time for Aianta internationally," commented Aianta Executive Director Rebecca Martinez, "because we have just begun to realize the potential of overseas markets for tribal tourism in the United States." Board President Osceola of the Seminole Tribe of Florida added: "Aianta is entering into new partnerships with long-established mainstream national organizations like the National Tour Association and has become the established Indian Country voice at international tradeshow. Aianta's mission and vision for tribal tourism is being embraced on a national scale for its economic development potential as well as it reinforcement of tribal culture and sovereignty."

The theme of Aianta's 12th annual conference, "Voices and Visions of Indian Country," was illustrated in keynote addresses, breakout sessions and mobile workshops throughout the three-day conference, which announced new partnerships with the National Tour Association (NTA), the American Recreation Coalition (ARC), National Center for American Indian Enterprise Development (NCAIED) and the National Park Service, Hospitality Association (NPSHA) and a new cooperative agreement with the Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA).

"European audiences have continuously demonstrated enthusiasm for the unique blend of Native American culture and rugged scenic beauty that Indian Country travel offers," added Ed Hall III, a founder and advisor of Aianta.

"We're thrilled that Aianta is providing the conduit for tribes to introduce themselves abroad."

The new cooperative agreement with BIA includes Aianta projects and collaborations with National Tribal Geographic Information Support Center (NTGISC), ORACLE Software, the National Park Service and Bureau of Land Management.

New Aianta Board of Directors members elected at the membership meeting are Ron Solimon, Indian Pueblo Cultural Center (At-Large); Mary Jane Ferguson, Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians (Eastern Region); Sherry Rupert, Nevada Indian Commission (Southwest Region); Jackie Yellowtail, Apsaalooke Nation and Montana Tourism (Plains Region); Lee Blackwater, Navajo Nation (Southwest Region); Janee' Doxtator, Native American Tourism of Wisconsin (Midwest Region); Theresa Obi, Quinault Nation (Pacific Northwest Region); Tony Azure (Alaska Region).

New Board members join the current Aianta Board of Directors: Tina Osceola, Seminole Tribe of Florida (At Large); Camille Ferguson, Sitka Tribe of Alaska (Alaska Region); Cassie Molkentin, Stockbridge-Munsee Band of Mohican Indians, (Midwest Region); Ruth Whitener, Squaxin Island Tribe (Pacific Northwest); Karen Sitting Crow, Three Affiliated Tribes of North Dakota (Plains Region).

Highlights of the conference, keynote addresses, the Aianta Annual Report and membership information is available at www.aianta.org.

Housing & Community Development offers 11 Home Maintenance Tips for this Fall Season

Fall is a very important season for home maintenance because it's your last chance to get your home ready for the cold weather that's right around the corner.

1.) Examine your roof/gutters/downspouts for debris: Your roof is often forgotten about because it is not at eye level to give you a subtle reminder every time you walk past it. Clear leaves, dirt, and pine needles from gutters and examine downspouts for damage or loose pieces.

2.) Change the filters in your home: If you have a central air conditioning system, change the air filter regularly. If you have a window air conditioning unit, remove from the window or place a waterproof cover over it to prevent damage. Clean air filters will keep your family healthier in the fall months.

3.) Still have leaky faucets? Repair them now: Before the temperatures start to dip low, examine leaky faucets in the kitchen, bathrooms, and utility room locations. Most likely the time and money spent now to fix will be less than a broken pipe in the dead of winter!

4.) Check windows and doors for drafts: The majority of conditioned air in your home is lost through the windows and doors. Go through your home and open windows to ensure the seal and caulking around the window frame is in good condition. Think of adding heavier drapery around windows that are extra drafty, to help block some air infiltration. Check weather stripping around exterior doors and adjust thresholds to prevent air drafts.

5.) Remove, drain and store garden hoses, drain exterior water faucets. Freezing water expands and will cause damage to you the hose fittings, spray nozzles, and valves. Replace your regular water faucets with a frost-free type for extra protection.

6.) Check your electrical outlets for potential fire hazards such as frayed wires or loose-fitting plugs. Be sure not to overload electrical outlets, fuse boxes, extension cords or any other power service.

7.) Inspect your smoke detectors. Make sure there is one on each floor of your home. Test them monthly, and change the battery annually or as needed.

8.) Insulate water pipes in areas exposed to cold temperatures, and turn up the thermostat during extra cold periods.

9.) Run all gas-powered lawn equipment until the fuel tank is empty. Gasoline left in the tank loses its volatile components over the winter, making your mower hard to start in the spring.

10.) Maintain steps and handrails. Repair broken steps and secure loose banisters. Broken steps are easily hidden beneath snow, which could cause a dangerous fall. Similarly, a person slipping on ice will grab a handrail for support.

11.) Check and or replace heat tape in well/pump house.
