Skooter McCoy was sworn in as the third general manager in the history of the Cherokee Boys Club (CBC) during a breakfast ceremony at the Chestnut Tree Inn on Wednesday, Oct. 1. The new CBC Board of Directors was also installed for a two-year term.

"It's a beautiful morning for me and my family," said McCoy who related that his first paycheck came from the CBC when he was 14 and worked for a summer in the JTPA program. "My family and I have been truly blessed. It is vital to remember the values and work ethic that got us here today."

McCoy said there will be many challenges going forward, but he related, "I am confident that our future is bright. Our strong faith and determination will see us through."

He spoke highly of the past two general managers, Ray Kinsland, who served from 1932-2010, and Tommy Lambert, who served from 2010-2014.

Saying the CBC will continue to work every day under its motto "By Prayer and By Work", McCoy said, "We will continue to drive

At the beginning of Wednesday's ceremony, Lambert recognized the outgoing Board of Directors who served from Oct. 1, 2012 – Sept. 30, 2014 including: Wilbur Paul, president; Robert Lambert, vice president; Tiffani Reed, secretary; Terry S. Directors who will serve from Oct. 1, 2014 – Sept. 30, 2016. The new Board includes: Cory Blankenship, president; Albert Arch, vice president; Tiffani Reed, secretary; Beth Bradley Grant, assistant secretary; Robert Lambert, board member; Jack Davis, board member; Carmaleta Monteith, business member; Rep. Perry Shell, Tribal representative; and Jason McMillan, student representative.

“Your organization is only as good as your people, and this organization is doing very well,” said Vice Chief Blythe.

Lambert, who started with the CBC in September 1984, officially retired from the Club on Wednesday. “The Cherokee Boys Club is a staple in this community. The Cherokee Boys Club motto is ‘By Prayer and By Work’. You can’t work for a better company that has a motto like that.”

“The Boys Club will give an opportunity to anyone in this community when a lot of other organizations won’t give them an opportunity.”

He said the CBC was great in giving him opportunities and helping build confidence throughout his career. “Four years ago, they gave me the ultimate compliment by being the second general manager of the Boys Club in the past 50 years.”

Tribe says no to fracking

SCOTT MCKIE B.P.
ONE FEATHER STAFF

The Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians has joined other governments in the mountains of western North Carolina in opposing the practice known as fracking. But, being a sovereign nation, the Tribe, unlike area counties and municipalities, can actually prohibit the practice on tribal lands.

Tribal Council unanimously passed Res. No. 340 (2014) last month that states in part “the Eastern Band of Cherokees will not permit or authorize any person, corporation or other legal entity to engage in hydraulic fracturing on Tribal trust lands.”

The resolution, submitted by Tribal Council as a whole, was signed into law by Principal Chief Michell Hicks on Sept. 10. “Our tribe has taken a strong stand with the resolution against hydraulic fracturing commonly known as fracking,” said Chief Hicks. “I signed the resolution because I believe our environmental protection is paramount to the survival of our people.”

Tribal Council Chairperson Terri Henry commented, “Of importance to the Tribe is the impact on the health of our people who utilize many of the products of the forests and habitat surrounding our Trust Lands.”

The resolution also states, “Hydraulic fracturing is a method of extracting natural gas that involves the injecting, at an extremely high pressure, a mixture of water, sand, and chemicals to break up shale or other rock formations otherwise impermeable to the flow of natural gas; and the State of North Carolina is without legal authority to permit hydraulic fracturing on Tribal trust lands.”

An amendment was made to the original resolution which states, “The Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians supports the ban of fracking in the State of North Carolina, specifically in National Forests.”

The EBCI joins other tribes who have passed resolutions in opposition to fracking such as the Standing Rock Sioux Tribe and the Turtle Mountain Band of Chippewa Indians.

The North Carolina General Assembly passed legislation (SB 786) in May that will allow the N.C. Department of Environment and Natural Resources and the N.C. Mining and Energy Commission (MEC) to issue permits for fracking in spring 2015. That legislation was signed by Gov. Pat McCrory in June.

MURPHY – It was a tough night for the Braves (3-4) as they traveled to Murphy on Friday, Oct. 3, but J.J. Benjamin, senior running back, ran tough all night long despite the scoreboard which had Murphy on top 56-20. He averaged over 10yds/carry as he rushed the ball 12 times for 133yds and 1 TD. Benjamin also caught 2 passes for 34yds and 1 TD.

Brandon Buchanan, Braves quarterback, completed 8 of 18 passes for 111yds 1TD and 2 INT. He also ran the ball 10 times for 69yds and 1 TD.

Turnovers plagued Cherokee in the first half as they lost four fumbles and two interceptions. Cherokee was able to get two turnovers from Murphy including fumble recoveries by Logan Teesateskie and Kennan Panther.

Panther, the leading tackler in western North Carolina, led the Braves on the night with 11 tackles followed by Jason McMillan and Buchanan with 9 each.

The Bulldogs took advantage of the early turnovers and scored seven times in the first half to take a 49-0 lead into their locker room. The first half

Just a few plays later, Panther both caused and recovered a Murphy fumble, and the Braves were in business again. This time, Benjamin took it to the house on a 51-yard run. The point-after failed and Cherokee cut into the lead at 49-13 with 21 seconds left in the third.

Cherokee scored again midway through the fourth as Buchanan took it in from 11 yards out following a nice drive by the Braves. Mitchell added the point-after kick, and Cherokee cut further into the lead at 49-20 at the 6:28 mark of the fourth.

Murphy scored again before the end of the game as George Lampman ran for a 53-yard touchdown. J.D. Owens added the point-after and Murphy would take the game 56-20.

Strong defense key to Braves 48-20 win

SCOTT MCKIE B.P.
ONE FEATHER STAFF

Cherokee's defense held the Tigers scoreless until just before halftime and recovered four Tiger fumbles as Cherokee (4-1) dominated Rosman 48-20 at Ray Kinsland Stadium on Thursday, Oct. 2. Tye Mintz, JV Braves quarterback, led the Cherokee offense as he ran for three touchdowns and threw for one. Cherokee's offensive line also dominated throughout the game opening up gaping, you-can-drive-a-truck-through-the-m holes for the Braves running backs.

"It wasn't the prettiest thing in the world, but we made some nice plays, got a big lead and were able to play everybody," said Chris Mintz, JV Braves head coach. "It made for a pretty fun night."

Cherokee jumped out early in this game. Rosman received the ball first and started their first drive at their own 38-yard line. The Braves defense held strong and forced a 4th and 3 from the Rosman 45-yard line. A Rosman running back fumbled the ball which was picked up by Cherokee's Isaiah Evans who returned it 40 yards for a score. The two-point conversion failed and

SCOTT MCKIE B.P./One Feather photos

After picking up a Rosman fumble, Cherokee's Isaiah Evans (#8) runs 40 yards for a touchdown just minutes into the game against Rosman at home on Thursday, Oct. 2.

Cherokee led 6-0 less than two minutes into the ballgame.

Rosman turned the ball over on downs on their next possession and Cherokee started their next drive at their own 47-yard line. On third down, Tye Mintz ran 34 yards for a first down to the Rosman 28-yard line. Then, Isaiah Evans ran 19 yards to the Rosman 9-yard line. Two plays later, Tye Mintz connected with George Swayney on a 9-yard touchdown pass. The two-point conversion was no good and Cherokee led 12-0 at 1:41 left in the first quarter.

The Tigers wouldn't keep the ball long on their next possession. After starting at their own 21-yard line following the kickoff, Rosman fumbled the ball which was recovered by Cherokee's Damian Blanton at the Rosman 20-yard line.

Three plays later, Tye Mintz found the end zone on a 13-yard touchdown run. The two-point failed and Cherokee led 18-0 at the 1:02 mark in the first.

Rosman didn't keep the ball long on their next possession either as they fumbled the ball on the third play of their drive. The fumble was recovered by Cherokee's Wesley Wildcatt at the Braves 23-yard line.

On the first play of the drive, Isaiah Evans found the corner on the right side and beat the Rosman defenders as he ran 77 yards for an apparent touchdown...but, it was not to be as the play was called back for a chop block.

The Braves didn't let that bother them much as two plays later, Tye Mintz found the corner on the right side and beat the Rosman defenders as he ran 88 yards for a touchdown. Swayney caught a Tye Mintz pass for the two-point conversion and Cherokee extended its lead to 26-0 at the 9:12 mark of the second quarter.

The Tigers turned the ball over on downs on their next possession and Cherokee threw an interception when they got the ball

Rosman took over at their own 26-yard line following the pick and put together a six-play drive that culminated in a 19-yard run by Thomas (#2). The two-point try failed and Cherokee led 26-6 with two minutes left before the half.

Following a personal foul call against Rosman, Cherokee started their next drive from the Tigers 42-yard line. On the first play of the drive, Tye Mintz ran 42 yards for the score. Blanton ran for the two-point conversion and Cherokee took a 34-6 lead into the locker room.

Dressed in pink shirts in observation of Breast Cancer Awareness Month, the JV Cheerleaders performed at halftime. The JV Braves also wore pink socks during the game to show their support.

Cherokee got the ball first in the second half and started their drive in good field position at their own 49-yard line. An illegal procedure penalty backed the ball up to the 44-yard line and on second down, Tye Mintz ran 48 yards to the Rosman 8-yard line.

Several penalties (on both sides) and several plays later, Nate Evans followed a slew of Cherokee blockers around the right side into the end zone on a 10-yard touchdown run. Sterling Santa-Maria caught a Tye Mintz pass in the end zone for the two-point conversion and Cherokee led 42-6 with seven minutes left in the third.

Rosman turned the ball over on downs again and Cherokee took over on the Rosman 36-yard line. On the first play, Blanton ran 36 yards for a score. The point-after kick failed and Cherokee led 48-6 at the 5:08 mark in the third quarter.

Due to Cherokee's big lead, the referees ran the clock continually from this point on. Rosman would add two more scores as Shook (#44) ran for a 14-yard touchdown at 3:02 in the third and Stanley Sutton (#83) ran for a 46-yard touchdown with 4:48 left in the game.

Rosman did get the ball back one more time, but that drive ended with a minute left in the game as they fumbled and the ball was recovered by Cherokee's Ietan Reed-Littlejohn. The JV Braves will finish their 2014 season at Andrews on Thursday, Oct. 9 at 6pm.

Coach Mintz commented that it is a big game for the JV Braves, "We still have a chance that if Swain were to beat Murphy, we'd tie for the conference title. So, it's (Andrews) a very important game. It's our last game of the year, so we're going to be excited for it."

Tye Mintz (#1), Braves quarterback, runs for a 13-yard touchdown in the first quarter. Overall, he ran for three touchdowns and threw for one.

Cherokee Historical to feature scary attractions

The Cherokee Historical Association (CHA) will be the scariest place on the reservation...at least for the next month. From blood-soaked zombies to real-life ghost stories, the Cherokee Historical Cultural Campus will be a site of many screams in October.

The first event on the schedule is the 2nd Annual Zombie Run, for ages 13 and up, scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 25 starting at 12pm. For this year's event, CHA is partnering with the Cherokee Youth Center and half of all the proceeds will go to fund programs at the Center. Participants under 16 years old must have an adult participate with them.

This 2.5 mile run is a non-timed event. Rather, runners are encouraged to simply "survive".

"It's a run for your life obstacle course," said Laura Blythe, Oconaluftee Indian Village director with CHA. "The runners get football flag belts which serve as their life belts, and as they navigate the course which goes indoors, outdoors, over mulch piles, etc., there will be zombies trying to capture their flags. If they can make it all the way through with at least one flag, they're considered a survivor of the zombie apocalypse."

Blythe said runners will have an opportunity to win a flag back at the vaccination station located about midway through the course. "They can shoot a zombie and win a flag back."

Registration for the Zombie Run is $25 if you register on or before Wednesday, Oct. 15 and $30 if you register from Oct. 16-25. The first 75 runners to sign-up will receive a t-shirt. Registration also includes a swag bag, a Badge of Survival for those who survive and a Badge of Infection for those who don't, and entry into the Walking Dead Shindig – an after-party featuring food, music and Zombie dances.

You may also enter to be a zombie for the same prices as the runners. The first 75 zombies to enter will receive a t-shirt and all zombie entrants will receive a swag bag, entry into the Walking Dead Shindig and entry into the Best Zombie Costume contest.

Spectators are also welcome at this event. For $5, you can witness all of the Zombie Run action. Spectator fees also include entry into the Walking Dead Shindig.

The 4th Annual CHA Haunted Adventures will be held from Saturday, Oct. 25 – Sunday, Nov. 1 with it being closed on Monday, Oct. 27 and Tuesday, Oct. 28. Doors will open each night at 7pm.

"We have different haunted attractions," said Blythe, "including a haunted theatre, the dorm which is kind of our hide-and-seek survival game, and then we have a natural ghost walk where we don't set the scene. We just let people experience what they experience."

Blythe said the Ghost Walk is held in the Oconaluftee Indian Village.

"We try to incorporate a little bit of culture into that one. As people go through the Village, we tell some of the darker myths and legends in Cherokee lore including Spearfinger, Ravenmockers...all of those dark ones."

There are several ticket structures for the three events including: 1 attraction is $10, 2 attractions is $18, and 3 attractions (Tsali's Revenge ticket) is $25.

For the haunted theatre and haunted dorm, Blythe related, "We don't recommend this for children as there's some dark stuff in it." She said it is up to parental discretion, but it is geared for teenagers and up.

"The ghost walk isn't too bad though," she said. "There's nothing scary. Your imagination plays with you more than."

Arch receives Mountain Heritage Award

CULLOWHEE – Western Carolina University's Mountain Heritage Day welcomed thousands of visitors to the campus Saturday, Sept. 27, to honor achievements in historic preservation and to sample mountain music, arts, crafts, foods, traditions, games and activities.

EBCI tribal member Davy Arch, internationally renowned artist and mask-maker, was recognized as the individual recipient of the Mountain Heritage Award. Receiving the organization award was the Bethel Rural Community Organization.

In presenting the award to Arch, WCU Provost Alison Morrison-Shetlar introduced him as an artist from the Qualla Boundary who whittled from an early age, and she cited his achievements in researching, preserving and demonstrating the heritage of the Eastern Band of the Cherokee Indians, first as a storyteller at the Oconaluftee Living History Village, then in schools and museums in the region. His ceremonial masks and carvings, created from a variety of woods and other natural materials, have graced the exhibit halls from WCU's Mountain Heritage Center to the Kennedy Center in Washington, D.C., and other museums throughout the Southeast.

Receiving the award, Arch recalled that he was a demonstrator early on at Mountain Heritage Day. "I was here for the very first festival at Founder's Day. We all share in our love for the mountains. I want to say thank you to everyone who works to keep the history of the mountain peoples alive."

Thank you Yogi Crowe Scholarship

It is with humility and profound gratitude that I am writing this letter to thank you for selecting me as a recipient of the Richard Yogi Crowe Scholarship. I am an advanced standing graduate student where my first year of foundation classes was waived and I entered directly into the second year of the graduate studies social work program at Western Carolina University.

I am currently completing my yearlong internship at the Cherokee Central Schools while carrying at least 15 hours of study per semester. I will graduate in May 2015 with a master's degree in social work. After graduation, I plan to return my services back to the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians. With much thanks to this scholarship I am one step closer in achieving a lifetime goal.

This scholarship comes as a happy relief as it has lightened my family's financial burden which allows me to focus more on the most important aspect of school which is learning. I am greatly inspired by two parts of Yogi's philosophy that includes obtaining a higher education and giving back to the community. I will serve our community in a way that reflects these same values in my life. One way I plan to achieve this is by providing ethical social work in our community.

I would like to thank each board member for continued devotion and service to this board while encouraging higher education in our community.

Sgi,
Monica Wildcatt
WCU Graduate Student

Thank you Yogi Crowe Memorial Scholarship

Financial aid support awarded to students is usually designed to be used for tuition, fees, and books. While that is much appreciated, students have many other expenses that go beyond what is covered in a financial aid package.

Thankfully, there is a scholarship opportunity for EBCI members that allows a student some flexibility to use their funds. It might be day care expenses, rent, groceries, gas, copying/printing in the library or a much needed cup of coffee. The Yogi Crowe Scholarship does just that and I appreciate being able to use the funds when and where I need them.

I received this scholarship again this semester and have already put it to good use as I pursue my master's degree in anthropology from the University of Tennessee. I publicly want to express my appreciation for the support provided by the Yogi Crowe Scholarship and recognize the versatility it allows for those of us that need it to cover a variety of expenses while we pursue our educational goals.

Thank you,
Beau Carroll

Tiger family thanks community for support

I would like to express our appreciation to our family, friends and co-workers for all the help, condolences and well wishes. We would like to give a special thank you to the Office of Environment and Natural Resources, Cherokee Choices, Tribal Construction, Public Health and Human Services, Tunney Crowe, Jamie Long, Mary Hornbuckle, and Calloway Ledford Jr. The generous support shown by the EBCI community gave us the strength to help deal with our loss of our brother (Daniel Romualdo Lacebal, June 15, 1994 – Sept. 16, 2014). It gives us great pride to be a part of such a wonderful and compassionate community.

BOOK REVIEW

“Red Skin, White Masks” explores federal recognition issues

KATHY de CANO
ONE FEATHER REVIEWER

Federal recognition is something many indigenous nations have sought and attained over time in their dealings with colonial governments, and it is a prize that some groups still aspire to but have not been able to win. Glen Sean Coulthard of the Yellowknives Dene in Canada challenges recognition in “Red Skin, White Masks: Rejecting the Colonial Politics of Recognition” as a means of coming to terms with questions of sovereignty, the reconciliation of past injustices, and a distinctive identity in the face of larger surrounding governments, proposing that the model of recognition is still colonial in nature, in part because it depends upon the larger colonial power to grant an identity, and in its totality because he believes that the arrangement still “...remains structurally committed to the disposition of Indigenous peoples of our lands and self-determining authority.”

Borrowing from Frantz Fanon’s work “Black Skin, White Masks” to formulate his title and also to argue his thesis, Coulthard embarks upon a meticulous analysis, citing from Fanon’s book, the work of Georg Wilhelm Friedrich Hegel, Charles Taylor’s article “The Politics of Recognition,” and the writings of Taiaiake Alfred, Kahnawake Mohawk, among others, to assert that the issues of racism and colonialism are not solved by the Marxist argument of structural economic solutions and that indigenous sovereignty is not attained solely through recognition by a colonial power but rather through a complete decolonization of indigenous peoples and nations through cultural revitalization and transformation.

As he explores what he refers to as the lessons from the Canadian Idle No More and U.S. Red Power indigenous movements, he quotes Alfred, who sums up Coulthard’s conclusions nicely with his statement, “Personal and collective transformation is not instrumental to the surging against state power, it is the very means of our struggle.”

It brings to mind what many activists among the victims of colonization have said time and time again: Decolonize your mind. It is a call to action to retrieve what was lost, maintain what still is, and recognize that all living cultures undergo change in any circumstance, so he does not propose a complete return to the past, though he does assert that reclaiming the essentials of any indigenous culture also implies a rejection of the Western and Marxist ideas of a linear movement in terms of what is commonly called “progress” in order to embrace the values and practices that have defined and been the most positive elements of indigenous communities. Coulthard’s call for recognition is one of self-recognition, not that of any state.

This is not light reading in any sense of the word, but it is certainly thought provoking, enlightening, and brilliantly researched and argued. Coulthard’s work is an important contribution to the literature on indigenous self-determination and sovereignty.

Kathy de Cano, originally from Kentucky, has lived in Swain County since 1999. She is the department chair of World Languages at Swain County High School where she teaches Spanish language classes and co-teaches Cherokee language classes with Mary Brown.

Laura Blythe, Davy Arch and Sarah Burkey brought gourd masks and supplies for families to paint the masks. Over 65 people attended the group night. Families were encouraged to enter the masks into the Fair and were given a Fair exhibit booklet.

"BabyFACE thanks all the families who attended and the Village staff for providing such a fun and cultural group night!" said Alissa Marie Owle, MA, H.D., BabyFace parent educator.

PUBLIC NOTICE: Smoke Testing of Sanitary Sewer System in Cherokee

Smoke testing of the Sanitary Sewer System in Cherokee will take place from Oct. 13-24 in the area from Tribal Bingo to Frontier Shopping Center only. This survey will assist inspection crews in locating breaks and defects in the sewer system.

Non-toxic smoke will be introduced into a manhole and forced down the sewer lines with the use of an air blower. Smoke will escape from the system at any point where there is an open break in the line. For example, smoke may arise from the ground in yards, stream banks, storm drains, etc. Smoke will also escape from all manhole lids, vents on building roofs, cleanouts, and from underneath buildings if poor plumbing exists.

Be advised that smoke can enter your home, office, or place of business. The completion of the smoke test survey may be delayed with the occurrence of a heavy rain event.

The smoke is non-toxic, non-staining, has a slight odor, white to gray in color and creates no fire hazard. You do not have to be onsite during testing. It is advisable to pour a gallon of water into every sink, tub, and floor drain that is not subject to everyday use. This will fill the p-traps and prevent smoke from entering the building.

EBCI LAND NEEDS ASSESSMENT MEETINGS

An initiative is underway to identify the kinds of land, beyond existing EBCI holdings, which could be helpful in supporting cultural preservation, health, and economic development in the future for the community. The "EBCI Land Needs Assessment", funded by a grant to LTLT by the Cherokee Preservation Foundation, is seeking input from Tribal members in a round of meetings this fall.

Some of the questions being asked are:

- Should the EBCI have long-term plan for accessing new lands—and for what purposes?
- How can the EBCI take advantage of partnerships off of the Boundary that can leverage outside funding and new opportunities?
- Do pressures and competition for land put a damper on tribal farming, cultural tourism, business development, protection of historic sites, and housing?

If you are interested in hearing more or have ideas or questions, please come to one of the upcoming four meetings:

- Thursday, Oct. 16 - WCU Cherokee Center-Cultural and Historic Site Protection
- Thursday, Oct. 30 - WCU Cherokee Center-Health, Recreational, Educational Areas
- Thursday, Nov. 6 - WCU Cherokee Center-Commercial, Tourism, Housing Development
- Tuesday, Dec. 2 - Yellow Hill Community Club. Prioritizing ideas from the different focus areas.

All meetings will run from 11am – 2pm with lunch provided.
