Three young ladies will vie for the Miss Cherokee crown during the annual pageant scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 4 at 6pm at the Chief Joyce Dugan Cultural Arts Center. Amorie Gunter, Angel Squirrel and Taylor Wilnoty will be judged in various categories including traditional dress, traditional talent, public speaking and more.

“We’re just pleased this year that we have three beautiful, talented young women in the pageant,” said Debbie West, pageant coordinator. “They’ve been a lot of fun to work with. We’d like to see the pageant continue to grow. Our Tribe has a lot of really beautiful women. We’re just really pleased with being able to work with these girls. They’re just really talented, and I can’t wait to see what they can do on stage.”

Amorie Gunter is the 19-year-old daughter of Angie and Frank Gunter from the Birdtown Community. A 2013 graduate of Swain County High School, she is currently studying to become an occupational therapy assistant at Southwestern Community College.

“I hope to improve Tsali Care and just help out our elders a lot,” said Amorie. “I have always wanted to help, and I’ve never really known how to help around the community. I just thought this would be a good opportunity to get out there more and have more opportunities to volunteer.”

Angel Squirrel is the 19-year-old daughter of Angela Squirrel from the Wolfetown Community. A 2013 graduate of Cherokee High School, she is currently a tour guide at the Oconaluftee Indian Village.

“I want to educate others about our language, who we are as a Tribe, our culture, and our history,” said Angel. “I hope to bring people to know who they are as a person and have them get more involved in their history and traditions, community, and eliminate some of the drug problem on the reservation with our young people and getting them more involved.”

Taylor Wilnoty is the 19-year-old daughter of Michael and Savannah Wilnoty from the Paint-town Community. A 2013 graduate of Cherokee High School, she is currently studying nursing at Southwestern Community College.

“I’d like to be a role model for our younger girls, not just because I’m wearing a crown, but to teach them that Cherokee women have always been and always will be the backbone and strength of this Tribe,” said Taylor.

Congress passes Tribal General Welfare Exclusion Act

In an extraordinary demonstration of bipartisan support, the 113th U.S. Congress passed the Tribal General Welfare Exclusion Act 2013 (Act). On Thursday, Sept. 18, the Act was passed by the U.S. Senate by unanimous consent.

Earlier in the week, the U.S. House of Representatives passed the measure by over two-thirds majority. It is fully expected to be signed into law by the President. The Act gives greater clarity and permanence to tribal government general welfare programs.

The Act firmly supports tribal self-determination and sovereignty by granting flexibility for tribal leaders to determine appropriate programs and services to their citizens and also requires ambiguities in the statute to be resolved in favor of Indian tribes.

Importantly, the Act builds upon the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) Revenue Procedure [Rev. Proc. 2014-35] issued in June 2014 and further directs the Secretary of the Treasury to:

1. Establish a Tribal Advisory Committee to advise on matters relating to taxation of tribal governments;
2. Require the training and education of IRS agents on federal Indian law and the implementation of the new provisions; and
3. Temporarily suspend the general welfare examinations of tribal governments.

Annual Council scheduled for October

Per the Charter and Governing Document of the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians Section 10, October is Annual Council month. Tribal Council will meet on Monday, Oct. 6 to open the Annual Council month; however, the first session of Annual Council will start on Monday, Oct. 13 at 8:30 a.m.

The deadline to submit resolutions, ordinances, and requests for time for a timed slot on the agenda for Oct. 13 is Friday, Sept. 26. Please have all requests along with all proper documentation required submitted to the Tribal Operations Program (TOP) by 4p.m. on this day. Any requests signed in which do not have all of the required information will not be placed on the agenda.

Also, please remember that if you are scanning items into the system for the Council session, you must still complete a resolution sign-in sheet. Those are available on cweb. Any items in the system which do not have a sign-in sheet will not be accepted.

If you have any questions, please feel free to contact any of the TOP Staff.

Miss Cherokee looks back on year

SCOTT MCKIE B.P.
ONE FEATHER STAFF

Miss Cherokee 2013 Madison Crowe has had a full year for sure. The Mars Hill University junior, who has a double major in art therapy and art education, has juggled her duties as ambassador for the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians with her responsibilities at school, and she somehow found the time to open a business, Two Crowe's Ice Cream Parlor, with her brother, Tagan.

"I know that I have served as people's first impression of Cherokee, and I am honored to have had that privilege."

One thing she said she has been able to take away from the experience is a sense of togetherness. "I think it is amazing that, in today's world, that Native Americans have come together and made a force to be reckoned with...we are standing together as Indigenous people. We are united."

Crowe has represented the Tribe at numerous events this past year including: 39th Annual Eastern Band Cherokee Pow Wow, Choctaw Indian Fair, EBCI Cooperative Extension's 100 year celebration, USET meeting in Cherokee, Relay for Life in Cherokee, Cherokee Days at the National Museum of the American Indian in Washington, Cherokee Day of Caring, Cherokee Choices Mother's Day 5K, Cherokee Youth Pow Wow, Gathering of Nations Pow Wow, Ned Long Day Celebration, Junaluska Wreath Laying Ceremony in Robbinsville, Veteran's Day Celebration in Cherokee, Cherokee Indian Fair, numerous parades, and many more events.

Attending the Choctaw Fair was one of her fondest memories, and she praised the Mississippi Band of Cherokee Indians for their hospitality. "They took me in like I was one of their own. I had a traditional meal at a house of people that we didn't know, but they invited us to come and eat with them...they were all really welcoming."

In her time as Miss Cherokee, Crowe has made it her purpose to educate as many as she can about the Tribe and American Indian people in general. "I got to talk about what it means to be a matrilineal society."

She has been proud to be able to share the Cherokee language with others. "After I speak, people come up and say, 'that was beautiful, your language is beautiful.'"

During her reign, Crowe has had the opportunity to meet many interesting people including lots of dignitaries and leaders from throughout Indian Country. At last October's annual USET meeting, held in Cherokee, she was excited to have met NCAI president Brian Cladoosby as well as Oneida Nation Rep. Ray Halbritter.

"At USET, I spoke on how what you do today affects seven generations behind you, and you should always keep that in mind... the USET president and vice president actually used my quote about the seven generations in their speeches, and I thought that was awesome."

Crowe will crown Miss Cherokee 2014 during the upcoming pageant on Saturday, Oct. 4 at 6pm in the Chief Joyce Dugan Cultural Arts Center. When asked what advice she would give to the next Miss Cherokee, she related, "Take in every moment and absorb the information that you hear."

She added, "Don't think that just because you have a crown on your head that you lose your voice as a person and a Native American. Don't let the crown hold you back from anything that you believe in. Stay strong."

Crowe speaks during the groundbreaking ceremony for the new Cherokee Indian Hospital in March.

Harrah's Cherokee employees donate to PHHS

Through a community service initiative led by the Harrah's Cherokee Casino Resort Operations division, employees collected 10,264 needed items for the Cherokee Public Health and Human Services (PHHS) division.

Hundreds of Harrah's Cherokee employees from across the property's multiple departments donated thousands of toothbrushes, toothpaste, bath soap, wash towels, dish soap, sponges, and toilet paper over a three-month period.

"We were all so surprised at the overall amount of items that Harrah's employees collected and donated," PHHS Health Operations Director Aneva Turtle Hagberg said. "The staff, as well as the families we serve, is very appreciative. There's always an on-going need of some of the most basic necessities in life that some of us take for granted."

The benefitting PHHS programs include the Children's Dental Program, Community Health Nursing Program, Emergency Housing Program, Home Health Nursing Program, and Women, Infants, and Children (WIC) Program. Many of the donations will be used to organize welcome baskets for emergency housing participants, give tooth-

Over a three-month collection period, hundreds of Harrah's Cherokee employees donated toothbrushes, toothpaste, bath soap, wash towels, dish soap, sponges, and toilet paper for the Cherokee PHHS division.

The collection drive, spearheaded by Harrah's Cherokee Casino Resort Administrator Michelle Sneed, was an effort to ensure all of the Cherokee PHHS programs have the needed items for the people they support. Most of the programs rely heavily on volunteers and donations to provide their daily supplies.

"We all experience great loss at some point in our lives," Sneed said. "I think our employees who participated did it because they've been there or would like to know that someone would care for them in their time of need."

Through the PHHS supply drive alone, Harrah's Cherokee employees earned nearly 70 percent of the property's goal of 15,000 volunteer hours for the year.

Braves win key road game at Brevard

SCOTT MCKIE B.P.
ONE FEATHER STAFF

BREVARD – Cherokee (2-3) pulled to within one game of .500 on the season with a 30-19 win at Brevard on Friday, Sept. 19. Cherokee never trailed in the game and caused four Brevard turnovers to take the key victory on the road.

Brandon Buchanan, Braves quarterback, had another solid game as he went 7 of 18 for 70yds, 1 TD, 1 INT and rushed the ball 11 times for 51yds and 1 TD. J.J. Benjamin, Braves running back, rushed 10 times for 48yds and 2 TDs. Channing Lossiah led Cherokee's receiving corps with 2 catches for 44yds and 1 TD.

Kennan Panther, who is tied for second in all of western North Carolina in tackles, led Cherokee's defense with 23 tackles in this game. He was followed by Jaron Bradley and Logan Teesateskie with 12 each. Panther also recovered a fumble as did Benjamin and Darius Blanton.

Brevard got the ball first in this game, but it was a short-lived possession as Cherokee's Lossiah intercepted a pass at the Blue Devils 30-yard line just minutes in. On first down, Benjamin ran to the Brevard 8-yard line. Several plays later, Buchanan would run in for an 8-yard score. He followed that with a run for the two-point conversion and Cherokee led 8-0 at the 8:01 mark in the first.

Brevard would start their next possession in a very similar fashion. Just a few plays into the drive, they fumbled the ball which was recovered by Kennan Panther at the Braves 21-yard line.

A few plays later, Buchanan connected with Lossiah on a 36-yard touchdown pass up the left sideline. Buchanan hit Blanton for the two-point conversion and the Braves led 16-0 with just 19 seconds left in the first.

Cherokee got the ball back very soon as Blanton recovered a Brevard fumble on the ensuing kickoff. The Braves had good field position at the Blue Devils 31-yard line. Panther had a nice run to the Brevard 16-yard line on first down, but a costly holding penalty negated the play and led to an eventual punt by Cherokee.

Brevard took over at their own 24-yard line and put together a four-minute drive that culminated in a 43-yard field goal by Isaac Bingle with 7:43 left before the half.

tion with a 50-yard return on the ensuing kickoff all the way to the Brevard 30-yard line. Several plays later, Benjamin ran around the right side of the line for a 5-yard touchdown. Lloyd Mitchell added the point-after kick and Cherokee led 23-3 with 6:24 left in the quarter.

The Blue Devils would strike back quickly though as they would take the ball following the kickoff and drive 68 yards in under a minute. Tanner Pettit finished the drive off with a 14-yard touchdown run. The point-after kick failed and Cherokee led 23-9 at the 5:54 mark.

Cherokee turned the ball over on downs on their next possession, and Brevard took over at their own 19-yard line with just over three minutes left in the half. They drove down the field, and Bingle hit a 38-yard field goal with 1.9 seconds left to make it Cherokee 23 Brevard 12 at the half.

Brevard got the only score of the third quarter as Pettit ran in from 22 yards out at the 7:42 mark. Bingle added the point-after kick and Cherokee led 23-19.

The fourth quarter opened with Brevard starting at their own 42-yard line following a Cherokee punt. Cherokee's defense held them to a three-and-out and forced the Blue Devils to punt. An errant snap that went way over the punter's head led to great field position for Cherokee as they started their next possession at the Brevard 26-yard line with 9:15 left in the game.

A few plays later, Benjamin found the end zone on a 3-yard run. Mitchell added the point-after kick and Cherokee extended its lead to 30-19.

Cherokee held Brevard and forced a punt following another three-and-out. The Braves weren't able to move the ball on the following possession, and Brevard took over at their own 21-yard line with 4:51 left. On the fifth play of the drive, an errant snap was recovered by Benjamin at the Cherokee 27-yard line and the Braves were able to run out the clock to secure the win.

The Braves host Hayesville (2-2) for their Homecoming game on Friday, Sept. 26 at Ray Kinsland Stadium at 7:30pm. Homecoming festivities will occur during halftime.

BRyson CITY -
The JV Braves (3-0) have a flair for the dramatic. For the second week in a row, they sealed the game with less than two minutes left.

Cherokee stopped a two-point conversion by Swain (4-1) with 1:04 left in the ballgame to take a 14-12 win at Swain on Thursday, Sept. 18.

"It's a great atmosphere for a big game," said JV Braves head coach Chris Mintz moments after their victory. "Both teams gave it their all. They didn't quit, and we didn't quit. It was a pretty special game."

Swain got the ball first in the game, but the Braves defense came in fired up and held them to a three-and-out. The Braves started their first drive at their own 30-yard line, but Swain's defense held tight – a common theme for both teams throughout the game – and Cherokee had to punt following a three-out-out.

Swain started its second possession of the game midway through the first quarter at its own 34-yard line. Several plays later, Keshawn Beaner ran 20 yards to the Cherokee 42-yard line for a first down.

Tye Mintz (#1), JV Braves quarterback, runs past a slew of Swain defenders en route to a 64-yard touchdown run in the third quarter of a game at Swain on Thursday, Sept. 18. The score put Cherokee ahead by eight points.

Two plays later, Shane Swimmer ran 33 yards for an apparent touchdown, but it was called back for holding. The Maroon Devils continued to drive though, and Beaner found the end zone on an 8-yard run several plays later. The two-point conversion failed and Swain led 6-0 at the 1:08 mark in the first.

Cherokee would strike back quickly.

Following the kickoff, the Braves set up shop at their own 42-yard line. Tye Mintz, JV Braves quarterback, kept the ball on first down and ran 26 yards to the Swain 32-yard line. On the next play, Isaiah Evans, JV Braves running back, took it 32 yards to the house for Cherokee's first score. George Swayney caught a Tye Mintz pass for the two-point conversion and Cherokee led 8-6 with 13 seconds left in the first.

Both defenses tightened the reins even more in the second quarter which saw little offense. Swain punted once and turned the ball over on downs once and Cherokee turned the ball over on downs once.

The Braves did get the ball back right before the half, but they were unable to capitalize as they drove deep in Swain territory but had an incomplete pass in the end zone as time expired on the first half.

Cherokee got the ball first in the second half at its own 35-yard line. Mintz hit Holden Straughan on a 32-yard pass play that took them into Swain territory.

But, on the next play, Swain's Shane Swimmer intercepted a pass and Swain took over at its own 33-yard line. Cherokee's defense rose to the occasion and held the Maroon Devils to a three-and-out.

The Braves started their next drive at their own 32-yard line with just under five minutes left in the third quarter. On second down, Tye Mintz ran around the left side of the Swain defense on a 64-yard touchdown. The two-point conversion failed and Cherokee led 14-6 at the 4:23 mark of the third.

The next few possessions went back and forth between punts, several fumbles by Swain that were recovered by Cherokee's Straughan, and Cherokee turning the ball over on downs with just over two minutes left in the game.

Swain took over at its own 32-yard line. Following a first down run of 17 yards, the Maroon Devils found themselves within Cherokee territory at the 49-yard line.

On fourth down, Swimmer caught a 46-yard touchdown pass with 1:04 left in the game. Following a holding penalty on the first two-point try, Swain was unable to convert on the second try and Cherokee held onto a 14-12 lead.

Swain tried an onside kick, but Kyler Hill fielded the ball cleanly for Cherokee, pounced on it and effectively ended the game. Cherokee was able to take a knee and run out the clock for the victory.

The JV Braves host the Murphy JV Bulldogs at Ray Kinsland Stadium on Thursday, Sept. 25. It will be Homecoming Week for Cherokee with festivities during halftime.

Lady Braves sweep the podium in Waynesville

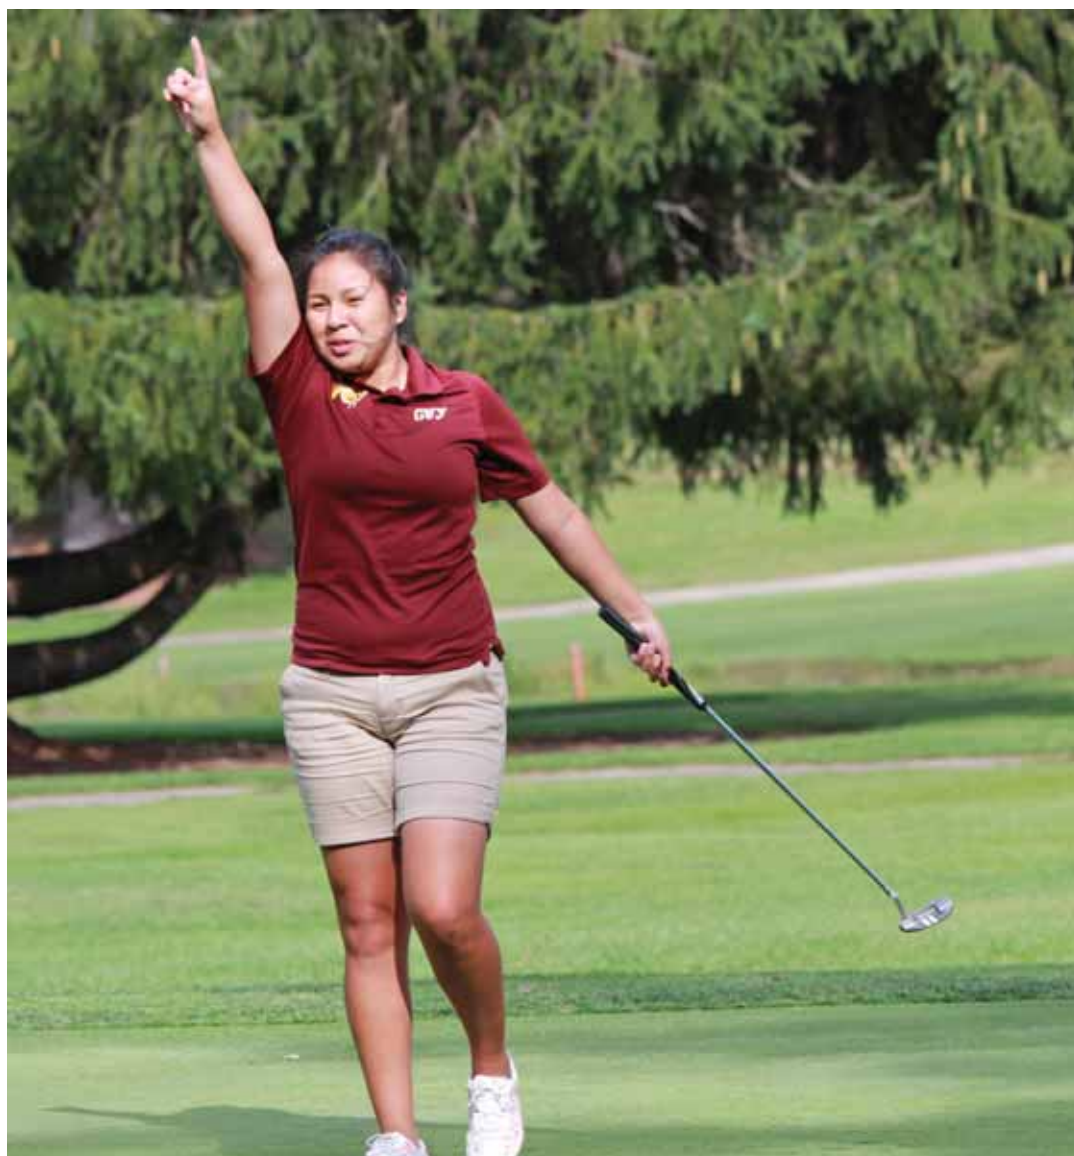

AMBLE SMOKER

WAYNESVILLE – Posting the lowest team score in the six-year history of Lady Braves golf, Cherokee took all three spots on the podium at the Donald Ross-designed, Carolina course at the Waynesville Inn match against the Highlands Lady Highlanders on Monday, Sept. 15.

“The Lady Braves finally broke under 50 and posted the lowest team score in six years at CHS,” said Lady Braves coach Sharon Bradley after the match.

Bree Stamper lead the Lady Braves by carding a season low 47 to finish atop the leaderboard. She was followed by Peri Wildcatt who took second by shooting a 48 and Tysha Sampson in third with a score of 51.

The stout performance at the Waynesville Inn comes off the heels of another strong performance on Thursday, Sept. 11, when the Lady Braves traveled to the Asheville Municipal Golf Course for a match against several Asheville area high schools for a non-conference match. Wildcatt, Sampson, and Kendra Wiggins all carded a 53 to finish in the upper echelon of the leaderboard and, along with Bree Stamper (59), propelled the Lady Braves to a second place team finish behind North Buncombe. Enka, Mountain Heritage, and Reynolds rounded out the top five at the match.

While the Lady Braves continue to finish strong in conference and non-conference matches, the team has bigger aspirations to be in the mix for a playoff spot at the NCHSAA Regional tournament at the Lincoln Country Club on Oct. 20. In order to qualify, golfers must have a season average of 54 or under.

“Continued low scores will qualify us as a team and individuals for regionals, possibly State,” Coach Bradley explained. “We have seven matches left. Regional competition is set for Oct. 20 and cut off scores for state competition is usually around 85-88 for 18 holes. We have players who are working hard to get there and our averages are coming down as we continue to play more.”

The Lady Braves return to action Sept. 25 at the Waynesville Inn for an 18-hole match against the Highlands Lady Highlanders where the team looks to improve their season average and make a strong push for playoff contention.

Braves, JV Braves Players of the Week named

Cherokee Braves Offensive Guard Nichalus Hill is the EBCI Public Safety Player of the Week for the week of Sept. 8-12. Hill anchored the offensive line and helped the Braves accrue 360-yards against the Rabun Gap Eagles on Sept. 11.

Cherokee Braves WR and OLB Channing Lossiah is the EBCI Public Safety Player of the Week for the week of Sept. 15-19. Lossiah led the receiving corps with 2 receptions for 44 yards, including a 36-yard touchdown reception and also had an interception on defense in the Braves victory against the Brevard Blue Devils on Sept. 19.

Cherokee JV Braves QB Tye Mintz is the EBCI Public Safety JV Player of the Week for the week of Sept. 8-12. Mintz had a 65-yard rushing touchdown, a 39-yard passing touchdown, and returned a fumble for a touchdown in the Braves victory over the Robbinsville Black Knights on Sept. 10.

Cherokee JV Braves Holden Straughan is the EBCI Public Safety JV Player of the Week for the week of Sept. 15-19. Straughan recovered two fumbles and played an instrumental role on the defense in the Braves victory against the Swain County Maroon Devils on Sept. 18.

What's happening at the Fair on Saturday?

ROBERT JUMPER
ONE FEATHER EDITOR

The Cherokee Indian Fair will take place Oct. 7-11 at the Cherokee Indian Fairgrounds. The Destination Marketing Department has prepared the lineup for this year's event. The theme for this year's Fair is Cherokee People: Our Legends and Tales.

The fifth and final day (Saturday) is traditionally known as "Community Day". Each day of the Fair has its own unique theme. There will be several competitions throughout the day in which community members are welcome to participate.

To be a competitor in the archery and blowgun competitions, entrants need to be at Unity Field no later than 9:30 am. Those interested in entering an animal in the livestock competition need to go to the old elementary school site across from the Oconaluftee Island Park at 9:30 am. The archery competition, blowgun competition and livestock judging will start promptly at 10:00 am.

Gates will open at 11 am. The exhibit hall displays, including the Agricultural Extension Office contest entries, Community displays, Veteran remembrance display and

DAWN ARNEACH/One Feather contributor

While his competition prepares their darts, Sonny Ledford (center) shoots during a past Fair's blowgun competition.

Qualla Arts and Crafts Cooperative contest entries will all be available for viewing throughout the day. Carnival rides will be running on schedule for Saturday along with the food and craft booths. Raymond Fairchild will take the Amphitheatre stage at noon. Fairchild is a world-renowned bluegrass musician. His accomplishments are several recordings including two gold records, five awards as a champion banjo picker and a performance at the Grand Old Opry that was carried on WSM in Nashville. He was born in Cherokee and regularly performs with his group, the New Maggie Valley Boys, which includes his son, Zane Fairchild, in Maggie Valley. Raymond Fairchild is known for his style of fast, intricate banjo picking.

Two favorite competitions will be returning this year. The wood chopping and corn shucking competitions will take place at noon at the Fairgrounds. Wood chopping will test the speed and muscle of local men and women as each attempt to chop the most wood in a timed event. Similarly, women will compete for prizes and determine who can shuck the most corn in another timed competition. Signups to participate in the wood chopping and corn shucking competitions will be at the Fairgrounds on Friday (October 10) from 5-7 pm. There will be three men's stickball games on Saturday; elder men's stickball at 1 pm, men's stickball at 2 pm and 5 pm.

Crowd favorites, the Rye Holler Boys, will sing and play at 3:30 pm. Formed in 2007, RHB has grown from a small local band to recording multiple CDs and performing at large bluegrass festivals. The band's interests are simple and stated on their Facebook page, "We love just being country boys, singing old Bluegrass and Gospel music and being friends". Two Qualla Boundary-based bands will perform at this year's Cherokee Indian Fair. Cherokee's Soco Creek will be on stage at 6:00 pm with their unique styling of new country.

At 7 pm, the Kingfisher Family Trio, a gospel music group from Tahlequah, Okla. sings for the Cherokee audience. Robbinsville's FastGear band brings their mixture of country top 20 sounds to the stage. Their sound is a heavy dose of country with a little bit of rock and roll.

FastGear performs at 7:45 pm.

The finalist for Cherokee Idol will take the stage on Saturday and a new Cherokee Idol will be crowned. Cherokee Idol is a singing competition where local singers compete for prizes. The Idol competition is always a crowd favorite and the audience participates in the selection of the winners. At press time, the organizer was still accepting applicants for the competition. Those interested in signing up should contact the organizer. Any amateur singer may contend for the prizes, even a previous Idol winner.

Stage entertainment will conclude with the long standing, all-in-fun Pretty Legs competition. Brave men from around the Boundary compete for prizes and the coveted title of Mr. Pretty Legs by exposing their gamas. A gam is defined by dictionary.com as "a person's leg, especially an attractive female leg". The theme for this year at the Pretty Legs competition is "It's Raining Men". Men in the Pretty Legs competition do their best impression of women and the audience judges who has the prettiest legs. Howard Wahnetah, Fairgrounds and Events Supervisor, suggests that, with the great prize money award in this "pageant", organizations should sponsor men to compete and raise money for their organization. Exposure at the Fair will also heighten awareness to their causes.

The Cherokee Indian Fair Fireworks Finale will be put on by East Coast Pyrotechnics, a commercial fireworks provider who has presented spectacular fireworks displays for Cherokee, NASCAR, City of Charlotte and the Atlanta Braves. The display will last about 20 minutes starting at 10:45 pm.

Christopher Watty is the organizer for Community Day. He may be reached at 828-554-6490 or chriwatt@nc-cherokee.com. General questions about the Chero-

WCU Cherokee Center update

The WCU Cherokee Center is serving as a drop-off location for the "Cards for Soldiers" project sponsored by the Military Student Services at WCU. Please support our service members in VA hospitals and overseas by dropping off new unsigned cards or already-signed cards. The Cherokee Center is open 8-5, Monday-Friday, and can be reached at 497-7920. For more information, you may also call the Military Student Services (828) 227-3074. Help us collect a large number of Christmas greeting cards, now through Thanksgiving.

Tickets are on sale now at the Cherokee Center for $10 for the Western football game on Saturday, Nov. 1, WCU vs. Chattanooga. This game is designated as Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians day. We will sponsor a tailgating event prior to the game in a reserved area for EBCI. This game day will also recognize kids by having inflatable games and free PAWS bobble heads for the first 1000 people to enter the gate. All WCU alumni please call the Cherokee Center and help us make it a very special day.

OUR THOUGHTS AND PRAYERS

The Club extends its sincere sympathy to the friends and family of Louise Taylor who passed away on Sept. 18. Louise was the mother of Albert Arch of the Club's Bus and Truck Department and Tina Saunooke of the Club's Child Care Department.

Our sympathy also goes out to the friends and families of Mark Donald Mead, Brianna Jade Bradley and Sydney Marie Jackson who passed away this past week. Please keep all of these families in our thoughts and prayers during this very difficult time.

2014 BOYS CLUB DATE LOGS

The 2014 Boys Club Date Logs that were distributed last fall show Cultural Heritage Day as Wednesday, Oct. 1 – this is incorrect. Cultural Heritage Day is actually Wednesday, Oct. 8. The Date Logs were reprinted after this mistake was caught; however, many of the calendars were given out before the reprint. We apologize for this mistake and hope that it did not cause any inconvenience.

THANKS FROM THE FUEL DEPARTMENT

Donnie Owle, Manager of the Shop Department, wants to thank everyone for their patience and cooperation during the recent fuel system transition. The system was upgraded to use fuel cards as opposed to the old chip keys. The new system will be more user friendly and will allow more concise reporting for the departments that use the system. We apologize for any inconvenience this may have caused. If you have not picked up your new fuel card, please see Donnie Owle at the Boys Club Shop or call (828) 736-7612.

NEW GRAPHICS EQUIPMENT

The Boys Club's Graphics Department (CBC Printing) recently received new equipment that will allow them to do screen printed t-shirts. For more information on this service please call (828) 497-5510.

Obituaries

Brianna Jade Bradley

Brianna Jade Bradley, 21, of Cherokee, passed away unexpectedly on Sept. 16, 2014 in Cherokee.

She is the daughter of the late John Lewis "Johnny" Bradley and surviving mother, Peggy Lynn (Saunooke) Bradley of Cherokee.

Also surviving are her two girls, Braelyn Johnay Bradley Murphy and Marley Christine Murphy; grandparents Solomon and Mary Ann Saunooke; a brother, Jeffery Bradley and three sisters, Chavis R. Wright, Brandi Cooper and Stephanie Hornbuckle; three uncles, Tom Saunooke, Jonah Saunooke and Sam Taylor all of Cherokee.

A visitation was held at the Bethabara Baptist church in Birdtown Community on Friday, Sept. 19. Brianna remained at the church until the funeral service officiated by Pastor Jimmy Lambert on Saturday, Sept. 20. An immediate burial followed the service in the Saunooke Family Cemetery with Cameron Cooper, Jonah Cary, Matt Cary, Nick Swayney, Chris Murphy and John Swimmer acting as pall bearers.

Long House Funeral Home assisted the family in the final arrangements.

Mark Donald Mead

Mark Donald Mead, 49, of Cherokee, and formerly of his birth home Warren, Mich. and recently of Fairview, NC passed away unexpectedly on Monday, Sept. 15, 2014.

He was the son of the late Jay Donald Mead and surviving mother, Sara Jane Catt of the Wolftown community in Cherokee. Mark was a wood craftsman of home interiors and had recently moved to the Cherokee area to be closer to his mother.

He is survived by his children, sons, James Donald Mead, Ricky Edward Mead and daughter, Jessica Ann Mead all of the Asheville/Fairview communities; two brothers, Jeff Bush of Shelbyville, Tenn. and Michael Mead of Melber, Ky.; sisters, Taya Houser of Shelbyville, Tenn. and Donna Mead of Pittsburgh, Pa.; one aunt, Shirley Ironshell of Rosebud, SD; one uncle, Robert Catt of Whittier; six grandchildren, Nahla, Amayla, Mariah, Sophia, Major and Maleke.

Mark was preceded in death by grandmother, Betty Lois Queen and grandfather, Robert Boy Catt.

A memorial service was held for Mark on Friday, Sept. 19 in the Chapel of Long House Funeral Home. The service was officiated by the Rev. James "Bo" Parris of the Big Cove Missionary Baptist church.

PUBLIC NOTICE Improvements made to Substance Abuse Treatment Services

Cherokee Indian Hospital and the Behavioral

Health/Analensis staff have developed a plan to ensure a safe and secure environment for patients to begin the process of recovery from drug or alcohol dependence. Former patients will notice a big change in daily routines and safety procedures.

There are several components to the plan. First, a training program for inpatient staff and providers is underway. Second, we are making significant changes to detoxification policies and procedures. We will offer expanded therapy services on site. This will eliminate the need for inpatients to travel to Birdtown for services while in detox at Cherokee Indian Hospital. To accomplish this, Behavioral Health staff have made changes to the outpatient substance abuse treatment program.

Our goal is to better serve individuals at each stage in the recovery process. Wanda Lambert, nurse manager Inpatient, states "Inpatient nursing and physician staff members are very excited about this improvement of care and safety."

The new program will be implemented Monday, Sept. 22.

September is National Cholesterol Education Month

What's in your diet?

COURTNEY LATAK

Have you ever been told that you have high cholesterol? Approximately 40% of Eastern Band Cherokee Indians have high cholesterol. Cholesterol is a wax-like substance found in the blood. In unhealthy levels, it will bind with other substances and form plaque. This results in a narrowing of artery walls, which leads to cardiovascular disease, heart attack, and stroke. It is important to eat a diet low in fat, specifically saturated fats, for a healthy heart.

A diet high in fats such as saturated fats can cause an increase in cholesterol levels. These are found in meats such as chicken with skin, fatty beef, sausage, and bacon. They are also found in common foods like full fat dairy and cheese, butter, and lard. Instead, heart healthy omega-3 fats help lower cholesterol. Good sources of omega-3s include fresh fish, walnuts, olive oil, and flaxseed.

With all of this in mind, it is hard to picture what you should be shopping for at the grocery store. Shopping the edges of the store first will fill your cart with fresh fruits and vegetables, lean meats, whole grains, and nonfat dairy. Select a variety of fresh fruits and vegetables that have skin.

Choose lean beef, fresh fish, and white chicken without skin. Find skim milk, nonfat yogurt, and low-fat cheeses. Find high fiber whole wheat bread and grains, bran cereal, and dry beans. Try this tactic next time you are at the store and you will be eating your way to a healthy life!

Courtney, a student at Lenoir-Rhyne University, is a dietetic intern at Cherokee Indian Hospital.

Energy Tip of the Week

Presented by Cameron Cooper,
Energy Program Coordinator
828-554-6713
ccooper@nc-cherokee.com

SMART POWER STRIP...

Many appliances continue to draw a small amount of power when they are switched off. These "vampire loads" occur in most appliances that use electricity, such as DVD players, TVs, stereos, computers, and kitchen appliances. Don't fret there are devices that can help manage your electronics, so you are not constantly unplugging your devices in those hard to reach places.

Look into purchasing a Smart Power Strip. These strips look like a regular surge protector but have the ability to turn your electronics off completely. Some models have active outlets for electronics that never need to be turned off as well as the energy saving outlets. They also tend to be color coded for ease of use. They can be expensive but when you factor in that a computer monitor uses up to 30 watts even in sleep mode. That can add up to about $2.19 a month or $26.67 a year in energy costs for one electronic device.

Sequoyah Birthplace Museum joins Smithsonian Magazine's Tenth Annual Museum Day Live!

VONORE, Tenn. - Sequoyah Birthplace Museum will open its doors free of charge on Saturday, Sept. 27 as part of Smithsonian magazine's tenth annual Museum Day Live! A nationwide event, Museum Day Live! offers free admission to visitors presenting a Museum Day Live! ticket at a participating museum or cultural institution.

Inclusive by design, the event represents Smithsonian's commitment to make learning and the spread of knowledge accessible to everyone, giving museums across all 50 states the opportunity to emulate the admission policy of the Smithsonian museums in Washington, D.C. Last year's event drew over 400,000 participants, and this year's event expects record-high participation.

Visitors who present the Museum Day Live! ticket will gain free entrance for two at participating venues for one day only. One ticket is permitted per household, per email address.

Finishing touches put on Mountain Heritage Day plans

CULLOWHEE – The finishing touches are being made to celebrate the region's rich history and culture at Mountain Heritage Day on the campus of Western Carolina University on Saturday, Sept. 27.

This year, two Cherokee stickball teams, the Hummingbirds team from Cherokee at 2 p.m. and -- for the first time -- the age 11-and-younger Big Cove youth team at 11 a.m., will demonstrate the traditional competition that is older than written history. Visitors will see new a new logo and new directional signage at the festival, some of it featuring the Cherokee language in honor of this integral part of the area's saga of civilization.

The annual Mountain Heritage Day 5K has been planned just since the beginning of the school year by class members of new WCU instructor Charlie Parrish's Sport Management 435 course. They remain ready to accept online registrations with a newly redesigned website at <http://claws.wcu.edu/sma/5K/>, complimenting the university's redesign of the Mountain Heritage Day site itself, at <http://mountain-heritageday.com>. Students in different groups planned the marketing of the event; amount of entry fees; cooperation with local law enforcement on the route; acquisition and distribution of supplies like runner's bibs, T-shirts, awards and refreshments -- all of the details of the race. Entry fees support an endowed scholarship fund created by Sport Management Association, a student organization which reached its goal last year to make an award to its first recipient, Liberty Cozart. The race begins at 8 a.m., and should be finished in an hour so that the route may be opened for festival traffic.

This year, a revised parking plan should make it easier for demonstrators and vendors to have access to the festival grounds separately from attendees, diverting their usually-larger vehicles from the traffic flow.

Two recent exhibits in the free-admission Mountain Heritage Center, located in the nearby H.F. Robinson Building, celebrate 125 years of university history and 40 years of Mountain Heritage Day. The university began in a one-room schoolhouse, from which four women and one man graduated three years later. Artifacts ranging from photographs and commencement programs to cheerleader outfits, sports team uniforms and mascot costumes tell the school's story as it grew. The festival's exhibit commemorates long-gone events like candidate stump speeches, pet shows, moonshine sniffing and tobacco spitting.

More than 100 booths will offer handmade arts and crafts in juried competition on the festival grounds, sharing space with living history and craft demonstrations; shape-note singing; cooking, canning and baking contests; beard-and-mustache and chainsaw rivalries; an antique auto show; tractor and horse- or mule-drawn wagon rides; plus a tent featuring children's activities all day. Tempting festival foods -- from traditional to historic to ethnic, offered by vendors in trucks and booths -- will sustain an entire day's enjoyment of the opportunities.

Free admission and free parking remain the tradition at Mountain Heritage Day. Visitors are encouraged to bring a blanket or chair, and an umbrella to shed unwanted sunshine or rain. Service animals are welcome, but guests are asked to leave pets at home.

"I CAN'T WAIT UNTIL THEY MAKE A WATCH THAT WILL ALLOW ME TO TIME-TRAVEL BACK TO WHEN I DIDN'T RELY ON SMART TECHNOLOGY..."

Mars Hill NASA president weighs in on "Cowboys and Navahoes" party

The Native American Student Association's (NASA) viewpoint on these types of parties is that they are offensive. In NASA's opinion dressing as the perceived notion of how a Native American dresses or would dress is equally offensive as a person putting on black face. The disregard that these situations have in 2014 is astounding; the fact that dressing as a stereotype of any other race is considered more offensive than a person being dressed with feathers, painted face, and "buckskin." It is all offensive once the stereotypical dress is put on.

It hurts knowing a person can get away with dressing as an "Indian" if they just plead ignorance of not seeing how it is discourteous to Native Americans. When people do not think of how this affects a population or culture is when the real damage is done.

The Garden Bug

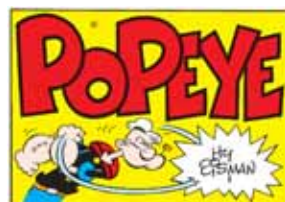

Old farming proverbs

Expect rain when sheep turn into the wind, oxen sniff the air, and swine are restless. If the bull leads the cows to pasture, expect rain; if the cows precede the bull, the weather will be uncertain.

Bats flying late in the evening indicates fair weather.

If the mole digs its hole 2½ feet deep, expect severe weather; if two feet deep, not so severe; if one foot deep, a mild winter.

How Human Activity Affects Deer

Deer get used to any normal activity we humans make in the area they call home.

If farmers do the same thing in the same truck every day when they check cattle, deer tend to just stand and watch. The mailman drives the same road and stops at the same mailboxes and again deer stand and watch. But, if you drive a different route in a different vehicle at a different time, all you see will be white flags.

In urban areas, humans run or walk on certain trails and deer ignore them. Deer get used to the noise they make. You sneak in, though, and they're gone in a blur.

The lesson: study the normal human activity patterns just as closely as you would study deer movement patterns.

If you match these routines as close as possible, you will get away with a lot more pressure than you would otherwise.

You are making a big mistake if you disrupt normal human patterns while hunting.
