Bullfrog Place Park opens in Cherokee

> By SCOTT MCKIE B.P. One Feather Asst. Editor

HEROKEE, N.C. – A little rain didn't dampen any spirits as children played in the various water features as the Kanunohi (Bullfrog Place) Park opened officially in downtown Cherokee, N.C. on the afternoon of Friday, May 2. It is the latest project of the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians (EBCI) and adds a new amenity to the downtown area.

EBCI Ugvwiyuhi (Principal Chief) Michell Hicks commented,

"There's been a lot of hard work that's gone into this project...I do want to thank all the staff, our contractors. I know facilities, construction, they've worked some late hours, communications. We just appreciate all those guys...it takes a lot of effort.

We are in a revitalization stage of Cherokee. This is one project...I'm really excited about where we're going. But, we have to keep the momentum."

He went on to say, "Our team has spent a tremendous amount of time planning, and I appreciate the Planning Board...One of the things that we have going for us as executive leadership, and also Tribal Council, is we have a really seasoned crew here. The economy has been tough. The shutting down of I-40 and 441 has been really tough on us. But, these types of projects are going to help really revitalize us, so I'm excited about it."

EBCI Secretary of Commerce Sean Ross said, "I'd like to single out the tribal leadership for allowing us the opportunity to execute this vision for our community, our visitors, and our partners within this business district...I want to acknowledge the Project Management team...for their focus, coordination, and unwavering oversight and diligence in the process of managing this mist park initiative."

He added, "I want to thank the business owners for their kindness and patience through all of the construction disruption and also for their individual commitments in assisting with the gradual revitalization of this downtown area."

Rebecca Bowe, EBCI Project Management program manager,

Four young ladies had a hand in cutting the ribbon to officially open the Kanunohi (Bullfrog Place) Park including Lily Hampton (black shirt), Aurora Garcia-Hernandez (white hoodie), Bella Frady (red shirt), and Analee Garcia-Hernandez (blue shirt).

said, "This has been a lot of hard work, kind of a project of labor and love over the last year. The old fountain and splash pad that used to be here was really old and dilapidated and just became a really big maintenance headache. Time and ists. "We just think this is a great opportunity to let you all gather down here and have a picnic and just enjoy a nice, sunny afternoon."

money kept going into it and we could never really get it working right. So, we all brainstormed, trying to figure out what do we need to be here to make it more community-driven and compliment the businesses that were here."

She is excited about the new amenity and what it will mean for local families as well as tourmented, "We appreciate all the work that everyone on the planning board has done for the past 5 years. Michell and I, and my husband, Wilson, have been on some of these boards and this is just one of the fruitions of that."

Dinilawigi (Tribal Council) was represented by Kolanvyi (Big Cove) Rep. Richard French and Wayohi (Wolftown) Rep. Bo Crowe.

Rep. French said, "I just want to thank the Chief's team and Commerce and everyone that was behind all this. I look forward to better days so the kids can enjoy this more."

Rep. Crowe noted, "I believe it's a perfect day to be here. It's raining and that's what we're here for is to be wet. So, I think it's a good day to be here. I just want to thank everyone that had a part in this and thank everyone for showing up this evening."

Little Miss Cherokee Faith Panther, Junior Miss Cherokee Misha Slee, and Teen Miss Cherokee Dvdaya Swimmer were all on hand and greeted the crowd gathered for the event. The Threshhold Party Band, from Fort Mill, S.C., played the event as well.

Dinilawigi (Tribal Council) approves pediatric dialysis treatment feasibility examination

By SCOTT MCKIE B.P. One Feather Asst. Editor

CHEROKEE, N.C. – The Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians (EBCI) is going to look at the feasibility of offering pediatric dialysis services on the Qualla Boundary. Dinilawigi (Tribal Council) passed Res. No. 461 (2025), which was introduced by EBCI Ugvwiyuhi (Principal Chief) Michell Hicks, during its regular session on Thursday, May 1.

During debate on the issue, Ugvwiyuhi Hicks said, "I know we've all seen our families struggle in a lot of different ways...we just built a new dialysis facility. One of the things we did not do was allow for children. Again, not second-guessing that decision, but I think it's time for us to consider how do we address this issue?" He added, "I think with the resources that we have, and I think with the right mindset, we can figure this out. I know it's a specific area that requires specific expertise."

The legislation states, "Pediatric dialysis is not currently available on the Qualla Boundary, and children who need the treatment have to be drive to other cities, such as Charlotte, North Carolina, sometimes multiple times per week for treatment."

The legislation further states,

MISSING

Terrell James Goldtooth

Enrolled with Navajo Nation

Height: 5'5"-5'6" Weight: 140-180 lbs Male Hair: Brown Eyes: Brown Age: 39 Date of last contact: February 16, 2023 Last Known Location: Teec Nos Pos, Arizona

Circumstances of Disappearance: Terrell was last seen at his parents house on the Navajo Reservation in Teec Nos Pos, AZ. Terrell told his parents he may head to Farmington NM and parents left the residence. When they returned home, Terrell was not home. There have been possible sightings of Terrell at Northern Edge Casino 2752 Indian Service Rd 36, Farmington, NM 87401 and at Walmart at 4600 East Main Street, Farmington, NM 87401. Terrell is a known transient homeless and he does not have a cell phone. His distinctive physical features are the following tattoos: "love" on right arm, "A. Jones" on chest, "family" on left arm.

"The Tribe, through the Division of Public Health and Human Services and the Cherokee Indian Hospital Authority (CIHA), working together, are authorized and requested to examine the feasibility of providing dialysis treatment on the Qualla Boundary for persons under 18 years of age...the examination shall include consultation with Davita Dialysis; an assessment of need; space, staffing, and equipment needs; whether existing facilities can accommodate the service; cost; whether any contracts need to be amended or written; and other relevant factors."

Ugvwiyuhi Hicks commented, "As we look at where we're looking in the future, I know we've been somewhat generalized in our health care. A lot of the specific services we contract out. I think we have to change our mindset...there are certain areas, especially when it relates to our children, that we lift the level of expertise that we're putting on the ground and everything is not pushed to Haywood, Sylva, Asheville, Charlotte, wherever it may be, but we start developing specific expertise locally here and structure that in a way that makes sense for our people."

Tsisqwohi (Birdtown) Rep. Boyd Owle said, "There's a great need for it. When we talk about children not having to travel from all communities to get this treatment here...it fits the bill for what we need here."

Following passage of the legislation, Casey Cooper, CIHA executive director, told the One Feather, "While the number of pediatric patients in our community requiring dialysis is, thankfully, very low, we must never overlook the profound impact this care has on the lives of those families. In the past, Tribal Council has acknowledged the need, however discussions around localizing these services revealed the significant investment required and the challenges associated with serving such a small patient population.

Because we currently contract with an outside company to provide dialysis for adults and they have not made the decision to provide treatment for children, I am proud the Tribe is willing to once again reopen discussions on what that would look like to take it on ourselves. As healthcare advocates committed to the well-being of the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians, we must continuously revisit these complex questions with fresh perspectives and a renewed willingness to explore what is possible."

According to the legislation, the findings of the feasibility study are to be reported back to Dinilawigi within 90 days.

Cooper went on to say, "If there's a path forward that allows even one family to receive critical care closer to home, surrounded by their support systems and cultural connections, then it's worth pursuing. I commend Chief Hicks for his leadership in bringing this study forward, and I look forward to working with our partners to examine how we might turn this vision into a reality."

Dinilawigi Vice Chairman David Wolfe asked for an amendment for home dialysis to be added to the feasibility examination. The amendment was approved, and the legislation was passed unanimously.

Dinilawigi (Tribal Council) passes cannabis home grow law

By SCOTT MCKIE B.P. One Feather Asst. Editor

CHEROKEE, N.C. – People with a Medical Cannabis Patient Card can now grow their own cannabis again on tribal lands of the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians, under certain restrictions. Dinilawigi (Tribal Council) passed Ord. No. 391 (2025) which amends Cherokee Code Section 17-80 "so that people with medical cannabis patient cards may cultivate cannabis in their homes", per the legislation.

James Bradley, a member of the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians, submitted the legislation. Following its passage during the regular session of Dinilawigi on Thursday, May 1, he told the One Feather, "I would like to thank Tribal Council for restoring the right to grow for medical patient card holders. It is extremely important as Cherokee people that we are able to grow our own herbal medicines in the privacy and safety of our homes."

Ord. No. 391 (2025) amends Cherokee Code Section 17 to replace the entirety of Sec. 17-80 (Exemption from tribal prosecution for certain acts involving marijuana.)

The new Sec. 17-80(c) reads, "The exemption from tribal prosecution set forth in subsection (b) applies only to the extent that a person who holds a valid patient identification card of such a person: (1) Engages in the medical use of marijuana in accordance with the provisions of this Chapter as justified to mitigate the symptoms or effects of a person's chronic or debilitating medical condition; and (2) Do not, at any one time, collectively possess with another who is authorized to possess more than (i) Sixteen (16) ounces of usuable marijuana (one pound); (ii) Eight (8) marijuana plants, no more than four (4) of which may be mature and/or flowering at any one time."

The new Sec. 17-80(g) addresses the intent to make sure that cannabis cultivation is only for adults. It states, "A person who cultivates marijuana pursuant to this section must take reasonable precautions to ensure the marijuana plants are secure from unauthorized access or access by a person under 21 years of age. For purposes of illustration and not limitation, cultivating marijuana in an enclosed, locked space that persons under 21 years of age do not possess a key constitutes rea sonable precautions."

Home grow was allowable previously under the EBCI's cannabis laws until Ord. No. 63 (2024) removed the language.

Bradley was thrilled to see it added back with the passage of his legislation. "Restoring rights and expanding rights and opportunities to enrolled members is something that all of Tribal Council should fight for, and I hope they continue to do so. This is only the first step in my fight to give enrolled members more opportunities within the cannabis Industry that we voted to allow. Thank you to all those who reached out to me or stopped me to share your thoughts. Your support has been so important to me, and I can't thank you enough."

Ord. No 391 was approved by nine Dinilawigi representatives voting for and the following voting against: Vice Chairman David Wolfe, Aniwodihi (Painttown) Rep. Michael Stamper, and Tutiyi - Tsalagi Gadugi (Snowbird - Cherokee Co.) Rep. Bucky Brown.

DOI: Recognition plan for Lumbee has been developed but not yet released

By SCOTT MCKIE B.P. One Feather Asst. Editor

The Lumbee Tribe of North Carolina, a state-recognized group, was the subject of a Presidential Memorandum three months ago regarding its bid for federal acknowledgement.

President Donald J. Trump signed a memorandum on Thursday, Jan. 23 regarding the issue. The memorandum states, " Sec. 2.(a) Within 90 days of the date of this memorandum, the Secretary of the Interior shall review all applicable authorities regarding the recognition or acknowledgment of Indian tribes, and in consultation with the leadership of the Lumbee Tribe of North Carolina, shall submit to the President a plan to assist the Lumbee Tribe in obtaining full federal recognition through legislation or other available mechanisms, including the right to receive full federal benefits."

The Department of the Interior press office responded on Monday, April 28 to a question from the One Feather regarding the memorandum stating, "The Department of the Interior has developed a plan in accordance with President Trump's memorandum and will provide an update when appropriate."

Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians (EBCI) Ugvwiyuhi (Principal Chief) Michell Hicks said in a statement on Jan. 23 in response to President Trump's memorandum, "We understand President Trump's desire to conduct due diligence in exploring federal recognition for the Lumbee. That instinct is correct – facts relating to tribal history and existence of Indian ancestry must be at the heart of any federal recognition decision. Recognition is a profound act with far-reaching consequences, and it must be based on objective evaluations of provable historical and genealogical evidence to protect the integrity of tribal nationhood.

While the President directs the Department of the Interior to develop a plan for exploring pathways to recognition - through legislative, judicial, or administrative processes - it does not grant federal recognition to the Lumbee Tribe. Nor does it override or bypass the established Office of Federal Acknowledgment (OFA) process. Instead, it signals the need for a thoughtful and structured review of the Lumbee's claims, which we believe must be conducted under the rigorous standards of the OFA."

It has long been the stance of the EBCI tribal government that the Lumbee should go through the OFA process. Ugvwiyuhi Hicks' went on to state, "We continue to believe that the OFA process is the proper venue to consider recognition for the Lumbee and any other group claiming to be a tribe. This process was established to provide a fair, transparent, and rigorous mechanism for determining whether a group is comprised of Indian ancestry from historical tribes. By grounding decisions in demonstrable facts rather than shifting narratives or political considerations, the OFA protects the integrity of all tribes.

Federal recognition must be approached with seriousness and respect for facts and evidence. Anything less risks reducing recognition to a political tool, undermining the sovereignty of tribes with treaty and trust relations with the United States and the trust of the American people."

Two identical bills are current ly in Congress regarding Lumbee recognition. The legislation (S. 107) for the 119th Congress was introduced in the Senate on Thursday, Jan. 16 by Senators Thom Tillis (R-N.C.) and Ted Budd (R-N.C.). An identical bill (H.R. 474) was introduced in the House of Representatives by Congressmen David Rouzer (R-N.C.) and Mark Harris (R-N.C.). S.107 was referred to the Committee on Indian Affairs, and H.R. 474 was referred to the House Committee on Natural Resources.

Some of the cast and directors of the upcoming Cherokee Central Schools (CCS) production of "Grease" are shown at the school on the morning of Tuesday, April 29. The shows are scheduled for May 8-10 at 7 p.m. nightly. Shown, left to right, are Michael Yannette, CCS director of choirs and musical theatre; Ada Neti, a junior playing 'Danny'; Izabella Terrell, a junior playing 'Frenchy'; Tyruss Thompson, a senior playing 'Doodie'; and Toby Lawrence, CCS dance and theatre instructor. (SCOTT MCKIE B.P./One Feather photo)

"Grease" is the word

Cherokee Central is heading to Rydell High

By SCOTT MCKIE B.P. One Feather Asst. Editor

CHEROKEE, N.C. – The antics of Danny and Sandy and the T-Birds and Pink Ladies will be brought to life by students in an upcoming production by the Cherokee Central Schools (CCS) musical theatre program. The students will present "Grease" on May 8-10 at 7 p.m. nightly at the Chief Joyce Dugan Cultural Arts Center in Cherokee, N.C. Tickets are $5 at the door.

Michael Yannette, CCS director of choirs and musical theatre, said the community has been asking the program to do "Grease" for years and he decided that this year's students provided a great mix to give it a go.

"I've done 'Grease' a bunch...I know it well. Really, the kids have been amazing. I mean, just awesome...they're funny and fun and they don't take things too seriously. So, you're just able to flow with everything so well."

The students' natural humorous nature has really shined during work on the play. "They are funny. We just laugh the entire rehearsal. We giggle the whole time. They're actually genuinely funny...and, especially with 'Grease', they're already high school kids...we wanted them to be themselves and they already are what's there. So, all they have to do is just believe in themselves. Also, I adore them, so letting them know that all the time."

Toby Lawrence is the new CCS dance and theatre instructor and has taken off in his role as choreographer for the show. "I think everyone has seen the movie at least a few times and I did watch a lot of '50s dancing and, specifical ly for each number, watched the way that people did it. But, I also mostly just approached it from the perspective of just wanting to make the students look really good. It is my first big musical, but the choreography that I've done before has been very different. So, I think I was able to come at it from the perspective of telling the story and making the students look good. I tried to uphold the rich history of 'Grease' and all of the tradition around 'Grease' - the numbers that people know and are used to seeing, but really just focus on 'how can I make this a fun dance that looks impressive but is really also fun to do'. I tried to strike that balance as best as I could."

Yannette praised Lawrence's work. "He is a miracle...wait until you see this choreography. He has this natural gift...he's an incredible teacher. This is his first school job so he's a totally natural teacher. The kids love him and he's so good. But, he so cleverly has made kids who have had very little dance experience look like they know what they're doing. And to make it look like it's more complex than it actually is just clever."

Lawrence noted, "I think they (the kids) made our job really easy with that. So, really, all that we had to do was just provide a space for them to show their awesomeness and to show how courageous and brave and funny they are. We didn't really have to coordinate that at all."

Tyruss Thompson, a senior, has been involved with musical theatre and singing for about five years. He will play the part of 'Doodie' in this show. "There's not many lines I have to remember which was really easy on me. But, I would say my most favorite part about playing 'Doodie' is definitely his solo. I was told that with how high it goes, I was one of, if not the only kid in the high school right now that could go up to those notes or was willing to go up to those notes."

When asked what he enjoys most about musical theatre, he said, "Definitely getting out there and just kind of playing the part of someone else while incorporating how the character would go about it."

Izabella Terrell, a junior, has also been involved in musical theatre for several years and is playing the part of 'Frenchy' – a role she identifies with. "I think it's really a fun role. I love doing her a lot because, honestly, I don't have to act that much. I don't like doing heavy acting roles, but I really just like being comfortable in the role and portraying the best I can with just enough enthusiasm that it gets people's attention."

Ada Neti, a junior, has been doing musical theatre for three years and will play 'Danny Zuko' in this show. "I feel like I just have more fun whenever I'm acting. I try to incorporate myself into the character but also play as the character itself. 'Danny' is such a hard character to be. Some parts are embarrassing, but I just have a good time with that character, really."

Each student was asked what percentage of their character portrayals would be themselves shining through. Thompson said, "Roughly 60 to 70 percent is going to be me. A lot of it is just how and make it 'Doodie'."

Terrell noted, "You're going to see 99 percent of it because I just enjoy 'Frenchie' a lot...I've seen how a bunch of other people portray her in different types of 'Grease', but I feel like they're all playing her and never really playing themselves to her. I just feel like I have a lot of fun with her because she's me. I can see myself in her and all the stuff she goes through."

Neti responded, "It would probably be 70 until you realize how much he embarrasses himself. That could never be me. I could never do that."

Yannette said "Grease" will be the last show that he will music direct. "I'm actually officially retiring in December. I'll still be here for the show next year...Toby is going to be the new me and I want to make sure we get another music person to take over after next year."

He said musical theatre is so important to the school. "Of all the places that I've taught, that feeling of 'theater and singing has to be here'...it's so important that this continues on."

Cherokee Transit wins big at State ROADEO

By BROOKLYN BROWN One Feather Reporter

TULLOWHEE, N.C. - The Cherokee Language Master Apprentice Program (CLMAP) 2025 cohort has worked closely with Western Carolina University (WCU) School of Art and Design assistant professor Tatiana Potts and her printmaking classes to create a series of children's books for Cherokee language and cultural learning. The children's book project recently received the 2025 Impact Award for Community-Engaged Teaching, Learning & Research presented by the WCU Center for Community Engagement and Service Learning on Monday, April 28.

The project has resulted in the creation of seven hand-printed books, including "Seasons", "What We Do", "Visit Cherokee, NC!", "Stories Collected by Mooney", "The Rabbit Goes Duck Hunting", "Riparian Ecosystem", and the latest book, "Creatures of the Cherokee World". The project has been funded in part through the Cherokee Preservation Foundation. The other two finalists for the award were "Action Club! Theater for Youth Audience Fundamentals" and "Post-Helene Travel and Tourism-WNC Strong".

Hartwell Francis, education curriculum developer for New Kituwah Academy, along with several students from the CLMAP program including Meshay Long, Aaliyah Swimmer, Elvia Walkingstick, Michelle Long, Madison Long, and Olivia Owle, provided key consultation on the project to produce culturally relevant books for Cherokee youth.

"This award is well deserved for their outstanding contributions to this meaningful project for our youth," KPEP Youth & Adult Education Director Renissa Mc-Laughlin said of the group. "The award-winning project is an example of what can be accomplished through collaborative efforts between the Cherokee community and educational institutions like Western Carolina University."

Code Purple: A Community Response

By BROOKLYN BROWN One Feather Reporter

BRYSON CITY, N.C. - Jeff Helpman, pastor of The Grove Church on Franklin Grove in Bryson City, heads a Code Purple warming center at his church with the help of his wife, Jodi Helpman, who is graduating this May from Western Carolina University's Master of Social Work program. The warming center provides shelter for those experiencing homelessness in "code purple" conditions—a significant drop in temperature that poses severe health risks.

The warming center is offered to the local unhoused population, with individuals from Cherokee, Sylva, Bryson City, and beyond seeking the center during code purple winters. The center operates through volunteer staffing and preset standards to keep up to 20 guests safe and warm, including a closed-door policy at 8pm unless discussed otherwise with the center.

"Our goal is providing a warm place to stay...a place that's safe for people to come and not feel that they're in any danger, from the temperatures to the people they interact with here," Jeff Helpman said.

"We are also able to offer showers, laundry services, as well as a kitchen where we can supply hot meals for the guests."

Helpman is interested in expanding the center with cross-county collaboration. "This year was the first year we had outside organizations donate to us and that's been a huge help. Our number one need right now is heat. We don't have a HVAC system for the warming center space, so we run off electric heat, which doubles our bill and things like that."

RezHOPE Recovery & Consulting Services, a grassroots non-profit organization in Cherokee, was one of the outside organizations that provided help to the warming center this winter.

"If money wasn't a limitation, we could offer mental health counseling, plug in other resources for permanent housing, job solutions, but right now we want to offer a warm, safe place to sleep and that's what we're doing."

The center is a labor of neighborly love, which the Helpmans hope to grow. "I'm informed by my faith, and my faith tells me to love your neighbor, so this is kind of our way of doing that. We have the space, and when the nights are freezing, we don't have anyone else down here, so why not?"

INFRASTRUCTURE PROGRAM SERVICES ON TRUST LANDS

Site Inspection: This process begins at Tribal Realty and is sent through the approval process to identify a buildable house site and road access.

House Lot Survey: Surveying requests for approved buildable house sites.

Site Prep: House site grading and driveway will be constructed on a buildable house site.

Hydroseeding: To help prevent erosion, hydroseeding will be done once site prep is complete.

Block Foundation: The foundation will be built for modular homes and stick built homes.

Termite Spray: This treatment is for block foundations for new homes.

Concrete Footers: Footers will be poured for single and doublewide mobile homes.

Block Underpinning: Block underpinning will be installed for doublewides.

Vinyl Underpinning: K-rock vinyl underpinning will be installed on single wide trailers.

Trailer Transports: Mobile home transports from trust land locations to be set up as permanent residence for enrolled members. We do not transport mobile homes from a mobile home company due the warranty on the home and liability.

Gutters: Gutter install is provided for new homes if needed, such as modulars, stick built and doublewides. We do not install gutters on singlewides. Gutter repair is done if they are causing erosion problems.

Final Grade: Drain lines are installed and the yard is graded to give positive drainage away from the foundation along with seed and straw to prevent erosion.

Asbestos Assessment: This assessment is performed on any home on trust lands owned by EBCI members and is being fully remodeled or demoed for replacement of a new home as the permanent residence.

Asbestos Abatement: The abatement is performed on any home that is positive for asbestos. The analysis is sent to Environmental, TCP and to the Land Fill for EBCI members replacing the old home with a new home as their permanent residence.

EBCI COMMUNITY ANNOUNCEMENTS

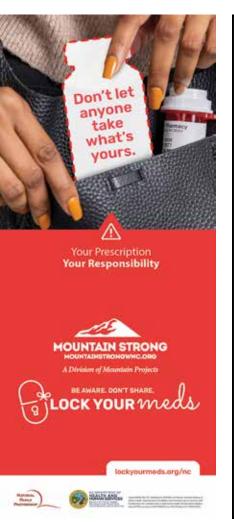

EBCI Dept. of Solid Waste Transfer Station Disposal Rates increasing

Effective Thursday, May 1, the tipping fee rates for businesses and non-EBCI (Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians) tribal members will be increasing as follows:

- MSW (normal household waste) and C&D - $80 per ton
- Mixed Construction $107.10 per ton
- Concrete $35.70 per ton
- Brush $81.60 per ton

Tire disposal rates will also be changed on the same date. Tire disposal rates and policies will be as follows:

- Passenger vehicle tires $3.50 per tire
- Commercial Truck tires $5 per tire

• Commercial Equipment tires -$25 per tire

These tire rates are for all businesses and non-EBCI tribal members. The following criteria will be used to determine business vs. private categorization:

• Anyone disposing of more than six tires per month would be considered a business and must pay the business disposal fees.

• Anyone disposing of more than 20 tires in a calendar year would be considered a business and must pay the disposal fee.

Tire disposal fees do not apply to the following:

• Business under contact with the EBCI to do roadside clean-up on the Qualla Boundary

• All tribal programs (not including entities)

Ray Kinsland Leadership Institute to celebrate Alumni Week and announces International Conference Opportunity

CHEROKEE, N.C. – The Ray Kinsland Leadership Institute (RKLI) is proud to share two exciting updates that reflect their continued commitment to culturally based leadership development for the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians (EBCI).

RKLI Alumni Week — May 19-22

RKLI invites all alumni from their leadership programs to join for Alumni Week from May 19-22 between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. daily at their offices in Cherokee. This drop-in event is an opportunity to reconnect, reflect, and celebrate shared experiences across programs. Whether you participated in the Cherokee Youth Council, the Youth Cultural Exchange Program (formerly Costa Rica Eco-Study Tour), the Jones-Bowman Leadership Award Program, or the Duyugodv'i Right Path Adult Leadership Program, you are welcome to stop by for snacks, fun activities, RKLI swag, and to share where your leadership journey has taken you. Global Leadership Development –

WIPCE 2025

In addition, RKLI is thrilled to announce that with support from the Harrah's Cherokee Tribal Scholarship Fund, they will send a select group of adult EBCI adult community members to the World Indigenous Peoples Conference on Education (WIPCE) in Aotearoa (New Zealand) this November. Held every three years, WIPCE is the largest and most prestigious Indigenous education event in the world. As part of their participation, selected participants will complete leadership and cultural development activities prior to departure and share their experiences with the broader community upon return through public presentations. This opportunity supports long-term personal growth, global awareness, and strengthened leadership rooted in Cherokee values, including the development of economic strategies that are respectful of Cherokee culture.

Qualla Arts & Crafts Mutual, Inc. undergoing a facelift

In the coming months, the History Gallery of Qualla Arts & Crafts Mutual, Inc. will be undergoing a facelift. This project is sponsored in part by the Cherokee Preservation Foundation and will include new windows to better protect these priceless pieces of artwork, updating our timeline, and repainting the permanent collection display cases with a layout honoring all Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians crafts encompassing both historical and contemporary art since our beginning in 1946. Our goal is to showcase our rich art and craft history as the oldest Native American craft cooperative in the United States. Each tribal member has family or friends from the past or present that is a member of the co-op, we see this project for everyone from all walks of life because if it wasn't for craftspeople and craft supporters we would not be here.

Qualla began with the hopes of craftsmen and craft supporters wanting to extend the arts and crafts on the Boundary, where it keeps our crafts together. As one of the most important cultural institutions of the Eastern Band, it's the best thing our people ever chose to do.

Manager Qualla Arts and Crafts, Inc.

EDITORIAL

Eastern Band unity

By CHEROKEE ONE FEATHER EDITORIAL BOARD

We are not big believers in the "they are out to get us" mentality. During the Cold War, then-President Ronald Reagan, when dealing with the Soviet Union concerning nuclear proliferation, uttered the famous words, "Trust but verify". We feel this is a good policy for the government and for the community that the government serves.

Relationships are built on mutual trust. If trust is in a relationship, then sharing information should not be an issue. The government and community are in a partnership, and with Cherokee people, it is as close as a family relationship.

There was a time in our community when we would have our internal disagreements, we set those aside if an outside threat appeared. The family and the community came together, and all minds and bodies were leveraged to meet the threat. Now it seems that we care more about disagreeing with each other than confronting the threats to our safety and sovereignty.

As co-equal members of the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians, we should have access to as much information as possible. And we should support the position of the elected officials that we have put in place as our public servants. We should trust those we have voted into positions of power, and they should be able to trust us to support and act in ways that support the official position of the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians.

We will always have disagreements among ourselves, as any family does. But when we face entities and challenges that threaten our livelihood, sovereignty, and what it means to be a tribe, our efforts and actions should be carefully planned, expertly communicated, and executed in unity.

Now more than any time in our history since the Removal, we need to be a people focused on purpose and committed to each other in action. The government needs to be thoroughly transparent, and the community needs to be thoroughly committed to the tribal vision and mission.

SPEAKING OF FAITH

A Close Call Part Four

By Lamont H. Fuchs, Ed.D.

Scripture references: Psalms 118:17, 1 Timothy 2:3-4, Luke 15:7

A Close Call from Jesus. A solemn close call. Have you ever had a close call with Jesus to live? Are you listening?

Maybe you are sitting there thinking of your close call with death, or have had enough close calls with death to know that you need an invitational call to Life.

Life everlasting. Did you ever think for a moment after that close call with death, where you would go if you answered that close call with your life and died? Do you know? Are you sure? How would you like to put that concern aside and consider a close call with living instead?

Those are the questions I get to ask people I meet in the hospital who look up at the ceiling and ask, Why Me?

But the question is valid for everyone. How would you like to answer an eternal question with an everlasting answer?

Your answer needs to be - I know Jesus, and He knows me. That is more than hope. I have victory over death right now, and you can, too. The answer is Life everlasting.

What a beautiful concept...a wonderful reality to know I am not going to die – oh, my body will, and I might suffer the pain of leaving the body, but me...the guy in here. I am only going to change addresses. I am going from this earthly address to my permanent home address in Heaven.

Do you ever ask a Christian, "How Do You Know that you're going to heaven?" I know because I am possessed by the one who owns the keys. The one who knows all about death and has defeated it. He has told me in His Word that He has prepared a place for me in Heaven.

You see – I have reservations. Just like season tickets to seats in the stadium, I know when I get there, I have assigned seating, and I am not worried about it. Just like when I call ahead and make reservations at my favorite diner, at the appointed time, I am going to have a seat at the table.

What peace you have when you can walk by that line or right by all those others seated and walk up to the Maître D' and give him your name and have him look in the book and say, right this way, sir, and you go and sit down at the table. Even better. I love going to a place where they know who I am, have my seat, and lead me straight to my reserved spot. My reservation is secure because I have already answered His close call.

That is my hope and my faith in Jesus. Maybe you know this story already. Maybe you have felt that tug on your heart from the one who makes the invitations and reservations. Do you want to be seated at His table? Would you like reservations for eternity in Heaven?

Can you afford to turn down a close call, knowing that you might have to answer the next close call without reservations? IF there is anyone here who has never responded to Jesus' close call on your life today, I am praying that you would answer the close call that Jesus is making for you right now. Jesus will make you eternal reservations, and all you must do is answer His call.

He is calling you to come close to Him. Jesus loves us, and it pleases all of Heaven when we accept Him, for we will be with Him forever after. Therefore, He wants all to be with Him.

1 Timothy 2:3-4 says, 3 This is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Savior; 4 who would have all men to be saved and come to the knowledge of the truth.

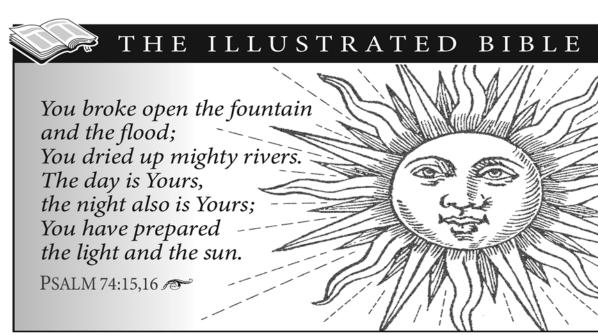

And Luke 15:7 tells us, 7 I say unto you, that even so there shall be joy in heaven over one sinner that repenteth, more than over ninety and nine righteous persons, who need no repentance.

Prayer: YES, LORD – TAKE ME. When death knocks on my door, when I face death, I want you, Jesus, to answer it for me and defeat it. Give me victory over death. Enter me with your Spirit, the same Spirit that gave You victory over death and raised You from the grave. I want that! Forgive me of my sin, live in me, possess me, and when I face death, fill my reservation, and take me home.

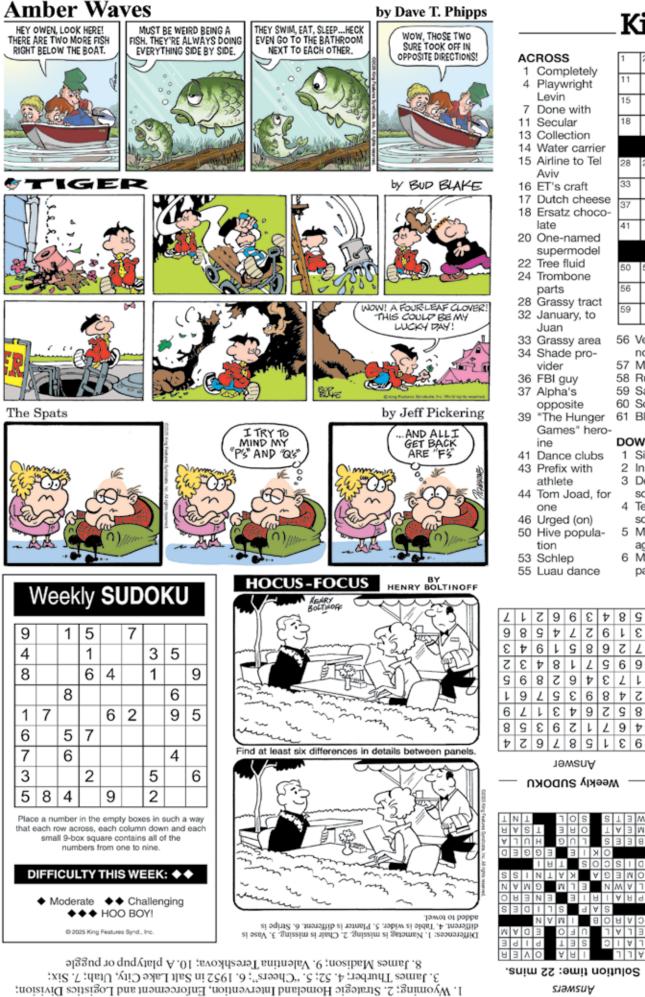

If you can say that in your heart and mean that, He will. He will. He is faithful, and He will.

Will you? Will you answer Him and this close call? All you need to do is call Him back. Call on the name of Jesus, and He will save you. Do you need help to do that? IF you want to make a reservation for Heaven, come forward right now. IF you will, He will answer, IF, IF, IF.

Then move your feet, come forward, and accept this call. Right now. You do not have to wait any longer. Make some reservations.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Untangling personal problems might take more time than the impatient Lamb expected. But it's important to hang in there until all those knotty situations are straightened out.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You still need to work out last-minute snags in your dealings with a rival. Hold your ground despite a perceived lack of support. Things should turn around before you know it.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) It's best not to delay preparing for an upcoming family event. The sooner you get things started, the better chance you have of finding potential problems and making needed changes.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) The romantic Moon Child might be reluctant to see the reality behind an "ideal" situation. But by midweek, the practical Crab emerges to help clear away the moonbeams.

LÉO (July 23 to August 22) Although the Big Cat might be receptive to more "purr-suasion" to get you to agree to a workplace change, make sure that you can distinguish the fine line between facts and flattery.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Your positive attitude in the workplace helps to get you noticed by the right people. Now go ahead and use some of this new self-confidence to help shore up a personal relationship.

LIBRA (September 23 to October on view and mingle with artists from Tara McCoy's annual pottery workshop at the Museum of the Cherokee People. Both the art market and opening reception are free with Museum admission. General admission to Museum of the Cherokee People is always free for enrolled members of federally-recognized Tribes and Museum members.

Cherokee History & Stories with Kathi Littlejohn. June 1 from 3 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. at the Museum of the Cherokee People

see EVENTS next page

22) Although you might still have to work out some problems with a business partner, things go more smoothly on the home front. Meanwhile, an investment opportunity might need more study.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Don't be reluctant to act on your suspicions. Even if others see nothing wrong, the astute Scorpio could sense an underlying problem that isn't always obvious on the surface.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) A new opportunity presents some obstacles that need to be dealt with as soon as possible. Delaying action in hopes that the problems will go away could be counterproductive.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) A friend or family member's request might carry some hidden factors that could later create problems. Be sure you know all the facts before you make your decision.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) A setback in implementing a plan could turn out to be a blessing in disguise. Use the downtime to rework your original concepts and see where changes could be made.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) You might not be consciously fishing for compliments, but admit it — won't you feel great when your efforts are noticed? Accept the praise gracefully. You've earned it!

BORN THIS WEEK: Your love of beauty in your personal life extends to your efforts to protect and preserve the natural world around you.

The benefits of Stand Downs

Will you be taking advantage of the services offered at the annual Stand Downs this summer? Or will you step up and volunteer to assist?

Either way, you're sure to benefit from what you'll find at a Stand Down.

The Stand Downs, started in 1988, provide services to homeless veterans or those at risk of homelessness. Whether you attend a one-, two- or three-day event, you'll be welcomed. Services are varied, and depend on the location and the length of the event. You might found hot showers, clean clothes and food. Direct care can range from haircuts, dental care, treatment for substance abuse and legal advice, to help with your VA claim, housing or mental health counseling, as well as health screenings.

You'll likely find employment search help and benefits counseling from the wide range of veteran service organizations, agencies or individual groups that work at each Stand Down.

Sometimes the events are right on the grounds of the local VA facility, or sometimes they'll be at a local fairground or park. To find a location and the dates in your area, check www.va.gov/homeless/ events.asp. Also keep an eye on the National Coalition for Homeless Veterans (nchv.org/current -stand-downs) for their list. Check both lists as time goes on and new events are added. They generally run through the summer into fall.

If you're going to need a ride, don't wait until the last minute. Call the contact person listed for each event and be sure they can help you.

As for volunteering, again, don't wait. Groups are putting their events together right now and need to know how many will be helping. To get started you can also call the closest VA medical center and ask for the Homeless Coordinator. No matter how you pitch in, your efforts will be appreciated.

Whether you attend a Stand Down as a veteran in need of services or as a volunteer, it might be the most rewarding thing you do this year.

DEAR PAW'S CORNER: Spring is here, and summer is just around the corner. Can you please remind people that leaving pets in a hot car is a deadly mistake? — Carol in Syracuse, New York

DEAR CAROL: Absolutely. Folks, even if the weather outside is just warm — not hot — the inside of your car can become extremely hot when it's parked in the sun. Even with the windows cracked a bit, the temperature can still rise by 20, 30 and 40 degrees higher than the outside air temperature. So, if it's a balmy 65 degrees outside, the interior of your car can reach 105 degrees or higher enough to cause heat injury or death for a pet.

That's why 31 U.S. states now have laws banning pets in parked cars. It's why police and even private citizens, in some areas, can smash a car window to save a pet. And it's why pet owners who leave their animal in a parked car may face fines and, in some states, prison. Those laws do not make exceptions for cars that are left running to keep the air conditioning on. If the car stalls or has an automatic switch-off, the interior will heat up dramatically even on a cloudy day.

So, as we roll into the warm spring months, it's important to have a plan for your pet if you need to take them along for the day. If they can't come with you into the store or the salon, leave them safe at home.

Send your tips, comments or questions to ask@pawscorner.com.

• On May 19, 1536, Anne Boleyn, the unfortunate second wife of England's King Henry VIII, was beheaded at the Tower of London on charges including adultery, incest and conspiracy against the king, after just three years of marriage.

• On May 20, 1992, in an attempt to end the blight of graffiti vandalism, the Chicago City Council passed an ordinance banning the retail sale of spray paint and large markers within city limits, describing them as "weapons of terror."

• On May 21, 1758, 10-year-old Mary Campbell was abducted from her home in Cumberland County, Pennsylvania, by members of the Lenape tribe and ended up becoming an icon of the French and Indian War. At age 16, she was returned to a European settlement in the captive release orchestrated by Colonel Henry Bouquet at the conclusion of Pontiac's War.

• On May 22, 1802, Martha Dandridge Custis Washington, widow of President George Washington, died of a "severe fever" at her Mount Vernon home at the age of 70. Though she was a devoted wife, she did not entirely enjoy her role as "Lady Washington" and once confessed that she felt "more like a state prisoner than anything else."

• On May 23, 1979, rocker Tom Petty declared bankruptcy in an effort to free himself from his contract with Shelter Records.

• On May 24, 1964, a referee's call in the last minutes of a close soccer match between Peru and Argentina at the National Stadium in Lima, Peru, sparked a riot that resulted in the deaths of more than 300 fans. Another 500 people were injured.

• On May 25, 2020, George Floyd was killed by Derek Chauvin, a white Minneapolis policeman who knelt on his neck for nearly 10 minutes. Floyd's death was recorded by bystanders and incited nationwide protests resulting in the imposition of curfews in more than 200 American cities and the activation of the National Guard throughout half the country. Chauvin was arrested on multiple charges and eventually sentenced to more than two decades in prison.

INDIAN TRUST SETTLEMENT

Are you an Heir of an Individual Indian Money Account Holder?

$38 MILLION IS AVAILABLE TO PAY HEIRS. THE DEADLINE TO FILE A CLAIM IS JUNE 30, 2025.

A $3.4 billion dollar settlement was approved in a class action lawsuit, called Cobell v. Salazar, that claimed individual Indian land, funds and other assets were mismanaged by the federal government. $38 million is available to pay heirs and awards could be significant.

Who is eligible?

You are eligible for a money award if you are an heir of one or more of the over 17,000 Individual Indian Money (IIM) account holders whose Cobell settlement awards were not distributed. You must submit a claim form with proof that you are an heir. Claim forms can be submitted online or can be downloaded and mailed to the administrator by June 30, 2025. More details are available on the website.

Here's what you need.

Heir eligibility proof includes any of the following:

- A state or tribal probate order identifying estate heirs; or
- A last will and testament approved by a probate order; or
- A small estate document from an approved state in accordance with small estate procedures; or

- Documentation showing the appointment of an estate Executor, Administrator, or Personal Representative; or
- A federal probate order that directs distribution of trust funds or trust lands.

A copy of a tribal, or state, or federal probate order is needed to establish whether the Settlement Administrator can pay the heir(s) directly for the estate's Settlement award.

If you do not have a tribal or state probate order but a personal representative or executor has been named for the estate, funds may be released to the representative or executor and they will be responsible for distributing the funds according to the wishes of the deceased Class Member.

You must act quickly.

The deadline to file is June 30, 2025.

After the deadline, all remaining funds will be distributed to the Cobell Scholarship Fund, which is managed by Indigenous Education, Inc.

FOUR SEASONS

PALLIATIVE CARE

Are You Caring for a Loved One with Dementia? You are NOT Alone.

Although caring for someone with Alzheimer's or other types of Dementia is difficult, Palliative Care may ease some of the burden and help improve quality of life for you and your loved one.

Four Seasons offers person-centered Palliative Care, wherever you call home, to relieve symptoms of Dementia including sleeplessness, restlessness, depression, anxiety, and many others. We provide a medication review to help maximize the benefits and minimize the burdens of these interventions. We also have a provider on-call 24-7 to answer your questions.

Our team can help you secure medical equipment and connect you with community resources. We also offer emotional support for the caregiver and family and help you plan for "what's next" which may include a memory care center or Hospice Care. Four Seasons also offers Grief Services for the family, including children.

Providing Trusted Care to Western North Carolina Since 1979.

Barker named to Morehead-Cain Foundation's Class of 2029

Paytyn Barker, a senior at Cherokee High School (CHS), has been named among the Morehead-Cain Foundation's Class of 2029 who will begin their undergraduate journeys at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in the fall of 2025. The process of selecting the new class occurs over the course of six months and includes application review, virtual and in-person interviews, and other activities. The selection process relies on the expertise of Foundation staff and hundreds of alumni interviewers and volunteer evaluators. Candidates enter the process via nomination, either from their school or on their own. At CHS, she serves as National Honor Society president, HOSA–Future Health Professionals president, and class representative. She has served as North Carolina HOSA state officer, HOSA regional vice president, and Cherokee High School HOSA president. She is also the captain of the Cherokee High School softball and golf teams. Paytyn has received numerous honors, including the Gold Barbara James Service Award, the MedCat Scholarship, Female Christian Athlete of the Year, Academic Athlete of the Year, Most Dedicated Athlete, Highest GPA Athlete, and Highest School GPA. She earned Smoky Mountain Conference Golf Player of the Year twice and received All-Conference, All-Region, and All-State honors in both golf and softball. She has also participated in the Talented and Gifted Program for four years. Paytyn is a member of Towstring Baptist Church and volunteers at the Family Resource Center. She plans to study human biology on the pre-med track at Carolina. Paytyn is the daughter of Melissa and Craig Barker of Cherokee, N.C. (Photo courtesy of Morehead-Cain Foundation)
